SEASON OUTLOOK

Head Coach Marv Helling approached seasonal outlook questions with this answer: "Overall, our 1963 team can be described as hard-nosed and one that came within a play of sharing the North Central championship. It was a sound team without stars that hard-nosed its victories."

He continues, "This 1964 team can be as hard-nosed as it may have greater offensive potential. The main reasons for thinking we might have more offensive threat is that we will have greater team speed and quarterbacks Pete Porinsh and Corey Colehour provide a good offensive threat."

Some questions are answered with that statement. However, it remains to be seen how Porinsh and Colehour produce at the all-important QB spot. Both are inexperienced but have the potential. Another spot that could become troublesome is fullback, where both Danny Neppel and Cliff Rasch, two hard-nosed performers, have graduated.

Passing. All three top Sioux quarterbacks are good passers with Colehour rated a bit ahead of the other pair. Ends have good size and speed as do halfbacks, so the receivers appear okay.

Experience is present at all positions except quarterback and fullback. There will be 19 returning lettermen. The Sioux lost 14 lettermen via graduation.

Graduation losses include Associated Press Little All American first team tackle Neil Reuter and his running mate Jim Thompson, who was named to the second all-conference team. Other top losses include end Rick Riedberger, quarterback Bobby Glas and fullbacks Neppel and Rasch.

"Our tackle corps could be sound if Jacobs can play a full season. He was hurt most of the season after being a starting player. If our tackles come through and if we can develop defensive fullbacks to replace Neppel and Rasch, our defense again will be sound," Helling believes.

In the North Central Conference, State College of Iowa is the overwhelming favorite to win it all on the basis of returning veterans, transfers and top freshmen coming up the varsity. South Dakota State's passing combination of Roy Meyer to Ed Maras makes the Jackrabbits a contender. North Dakota State should have its best team in years with veterans returning at nearly every position. Morningside needs a year without injuries to be a contender. Augustana adds some of the best freshmen in the league and if it can stay away from injuries will be very potent. A very positive rebuilding program at South Dakota should show results.

OUTLOOK BY POSITIONS

END — Good

Four returning lettermen include senior Dean Soutor and juniors Ron Green, Dave Lince and Dennis Olson. Soutor and Green have most experience, although they were not starters. Roger Nibbe is another junior who did not letter. Of the newcomers, Jim Basye and Chuck Bugge are the best. Collin Versich is a place-kicking specialist.

TACKLE — Good to Excellent

Four returning lettermen are Mel Boehland, Jerry Jacob Paul Hyndman and Bob Rutledge. Jacobs and Boehland were ticketed for starting roles last fall but injuries sidelined them. Promising newcomers include Jim Smith, Dave Sagness and Sandy Rondesvedt, who returns after a year and a half absence.

GUARD — Excellent

All-North Central Conference guards Don Gulseth and Tom Felix return, along with senior letterman Wayne Edgar. Top new prospect is Roger Bonk. Other newcomers who will see action are Dennis Olson and Bob LaVoie.

CENTER — Fair

Only co-captain Dale Neppel, a senior, has experience, although Ralph Soltis, a junior, saw some action last fall. Best of the new men is sophomore John Anderson.

QUARTERBACK — Fair

Inexperience is the drawback in this spot. Co-captain Bill Wernecke is intense and works hard. Pete Porinsh, a fine halfback, was moved to this spot for spring ball and showed fine potential. He is a junior and one of the league's top sophomore runners last fall. Sophomore Corey Colehour has good potential. Junior Bruce Beneke did not letter. "We do not know who our quarterback will be, but we could be okay at this spot," Helling says.

HALFBACK — Good

FULLBACK — Poor

Inexperience again is the key word. Jerry Evenson, bothered by injuries part of last season, is the only returning letterman. Sprinter Jim Lies, a 195-pound junior, is making a first team bid. He was moved from right half. Top sophomores are Forrest Bell and Ron Carlson. Newcomer, Joe Biondi, a transfer from Virginia Junior College, will be either a halfback or fullback.

PLAYER SKETCHES

ENDS

Jim Basye, 6-2, 211, Soph., West Union, Iowa. Top prospect with good hands, size and speed. Won All-State Iowa honors. Brother of cager Jack.

Chuck Bugge, 6-1, 205, Soph., Knife River, Minn. Fine potential as two-way flanker. Hard-nosed boy. One of top boys on 1963 frosh team.

Ron Green, 6-0; 196, Jr., Fargo, N.D. Has tremendous desire, good moves, fine receiver. Lettered last fall and should be a starter. Excellent attitude, durable and should be tough. Also fine trackman.

Ron Kelm, 6-2, 192, Soph., Browntown, Minn. Needs more work but has promise.

Dave Lince, 6-5, 235, Jr., Mott, N.D. Has all the tools to become a great end. Lettered last fall. Should be pushing for a starting job. A strong, fast, durable performer. Lettered in basketball and also is a fine javelin thrower.

Roger Nibbe, 6-1, 208, Jr., Hoffman, Minn. Rog spent some time at tackle as a freshman and part of last season. Didn't letter, but looked good in spring ball at times.

Dennis Olson, 6-4½, 205, Jr., Sauk Centre, Minn. Another basketballer with good moves. Sat out 1962 season due to injury. Will see action.

Dean Soutor, 5-11, 198, Sr., Henning, Minn. Strong blocker and tackler. Lettered last fall and saw considerable action. Will be in running for starting job. Shifted from quarterback during sophomore year.

Collin Versich, 6-2, 200, Jr., Hibbing, Minn. A very, very fine place-kicker and probably will be used only as a kicker. Transfer from University of Minnesota.

TACKLES

Mel Boehland, 6-3, 250, Sr., Parkers Prairie, Minn. Aggressive, very strong and quick. Two-year letterman. Ticketed for starting job last season but injury sidelined him about half of year. Heaviest man on squad. Big Mel has all the tools to rank with Neil Reuter, 1963 Sioux Little All America tackle, and Steve Myhra, twice Little All America in the mid-1950s.

Darral Dablow, 6-1, 225, Jr., LaPorte, Ind. Darral transferred from Northwestern University. Son of former Sioux great in the 1930's. Darral should be a fine addition to tackle corps. Looked good in spring ball.

Jerry Jacobs, 6-2, 220, Sr., Renville, Minn. Pound for pound the best lineman on the squad. Ranks with Boehland and like Big Mel was slated for starting job but neck injury sidelined him most of last season. Held out of spring drills but assisted line coach Dewey Sundby, working with tackles. An aggressive, rugged player, Jerry is equally strong on offense or defense. Size is no handicap. Extremely fast. Injury apparently well healed.

Paul Hyndman, 6-2, 219, Sr., Rolla, N.D. Paul made tremendous strides last season and had a good spring. Sidelined part of last season due to serious facial cut. Will see considerable action.

Sandy Rondesvedt, 6-0, 212, Jr., Minneapolis, Minn. An outstanding prep lineman, Sandy transferred to Minnesota for part of a year after freshman ball here. Transfer from Wahpeton State. A hard-nosed lad with good promise.

Bob Rutledge, 6-1, 215, Jr., Williston, N.D. Made huge strides last season and during spring. Definitely will be one of top tackles. Very aggressive and well grounded in fundamentals.

Dave Sagness, 6-0, 222, Soph., Glencoe, Minn. Moved from fullback for spring drills and can become a good tackle.

Jim Smith, 6-0, 215, Soph., Toledo, Ohio. A solid prospect. Missed most of frosh season due to hand injury, but has the tools to be a fine lineman. Aggressive and hard-nosed.

Ed Wilkowski, 6-2, 205, Soph., Big Falls, Minn. This quiet lad had a very good prep rep and after a slow start showed good stuff in spring ball. Needs experience.

Dick Yonke, 6-1, 202, Soph., Austin, Minn. A prep standout at Austin, Dick will be a solid reserve after gaining experience. Good attitude.

GUARDS

Roger Bonk, 5-11, 205, Soph., Appleton, Minn. A sparkling spring season and his speed, ability and durability project him into top two guard units. Definitely will see action. Transfer from University of Minnesota. This boy could be one of top guards on team.

Wayne Edgar, 5-11, 212, Sr., Warren, Minn. Nicknamed Dog. Has become a very solid player after a slow start following shift from fullback. Saw considerable action last season and had a fine spring session.

Tom Felix, 5-9, 206, Sr., Little Falls, Minn. An all-NCC choice last season, Tommy should have his best season. A top student. Has earned two letters and is a dependable, agile and hostile performer. A blue-chipper.

Don Gulseth, 6-1, 214, Sr., Alexandria, Minn. Also an All-NCC choice last season, Gully is a very fine guard and does everything well. Very aggressive and great blocker and tackler.

GUARDS (Continued)

Steve Helsley, 5-10, 185, Soph., Pacific Palisades, Calif. Unheralded boy who came out on his own and showed improvement during spring ball.

John Isaksen, 5-10, 205, Soph., St. Paul, Minn. A good prep player overlooked by many colleges, John missed spring ball due to illness.

Bob LaVoie, 5-6, 209, Soph., Cloquet, Minn. Converted from fullback last fall after a fine prep career. Made nice improvement during spring and will be pushing others as season progresses. Overcomes size handicap with speed.

Roger Nordlum, 5-11, 190, Soph., Int'l Falls, Minn. This boy came out on his own and impressed coaches enough to give him a varsity shot.

Dennis Olson, 5-10, 192, Soph., Williston, N.D. One of top boys on frosh squad, Denny has good fundamentals and made good advance during spring practice. With more seasoning, will be a fine guard.

CENTERS

John Anderson, 5-11, 197, Soph., Williston, N.D. Top pivot on frosh squad and a boy who should develop into a very fine player with more experience. Looked real good in spring ball.

Wayne Olney, 6-3, 195, Soph., Dickinson, N.D. Had a good prep career and after a slow start with frosh is starting to come around. Will develop into a good center.

Dale Neppel, 6-1, 212, Sr., East Grand Forks, Minn. One of finest of the Sioux. Elected a co-captain by teammates after spring ball. A tremendous attitude and does his job real well. Solid performer both ways. Fine linebacker. Definite All-Conference material. Strong, fast and aggressive.

Ralph Soltis, 6-0, 208, Jr., Holdingford, Minn. Ralph was switched from fullback last fall and after a slow start has come along nicely. Probably will be number two center. Had good spring tour and has the ability to become one of best pivots in league.

QUARTERBACKS

Bruce Beneke, 5-11, 182, Jr., Glencoe, Minn. Bruce saw little action last fall, but is improving. Does QB chores well and will, with more experience, add depth.

Corey Colehour, 6-3, 200, Soph., Minneapolis, Minn. Top frosh quarterback and had a good spring session. Needs work on some phases, but may become the best Sioux passer since Steve Piasecki in the late 1950's. Will be in running for a starting job and if he doesn't make it will play as a top sub.

Pete Porinsh, 5-10, 186, Jr., Williston, N.D. Converted to quarterback spot last spring after having an outstanding sophomore year as halfback. Has the attitude, ability and desire to be a top quarterback. Very quick reactions and he surprised many with his passing ability. Could be a starter. Must be rated as one of the top players on squad.

Bill Wernecke, 5-10, 178, Sr., Virginia, Minn. Lettered last fall and was number two man. Very intense and does QB job well. Elected Co-Captain last spring. Bill is still improving and will be hard to move from starting job of last spring. Transferred from Virginia, Minn., Junior College a year ago. Married.

HALFBACKS

Ron Bergh, 5-9, 167, Soph., Grand Forks, N.D. One of the finest runners to come out of Grand Forks Central in many years. Good change of direction and despite size is very aggressive. Ron was the top scorer in the state two years ago and he was the top halfback among the frosh. Will be pushing for a starting job and if he doesn't get it will be top reserve.

Duane Dornack, 5-9, 182, Sr., Rochester, Minn. A top reserve last fall, Duane could break into starting ranks. Runs well in traffic. Has earned two letters. Coaches like his aggressiveness. Married. Should have best season.

Glen Gustafson, 5-10, 175, Soph., Alexandria, Minn. Suffered broken hand in early frosh season, however he has made good improvement and could see considerable defensive action. Glen had a good prep career and rated as a good college prospect. Married.

Tom Linford, 5-10, 175, Soph., Bismarck, N.D. After a slow beginning, and bothered some by injury during spring drill, Tom is showing signs of his high school career brilliance.

Danny Martin, 5-10, 174, Soph., Winnipeg, Man. This Canadian lad had heart and looked good defensively.

John McNally, 5-11, 185, Soph., Lisbon, N.D. Good prospect who needs seasoning and experience but has the ability to be a top NCC back. A fine trackman. Showed during spring of developing into a good all-around back.

Dave Osborn, 5-11, 201, Sr., Cando, N.D. Rated a starter. Should have his best year. Breakaway threat and has power and speed to do well inside. Probably one of the best backs in the conference. Good attitude and is a top boy. Very strong and has good speed. Ran with track team past three years. Nicknamed Cando Cannonball.

Jerry Smith, 5-11, 172, Soph., Marshall, Minn. Played on a fine prep team and has good speed and made excellent improvement last spring. Needs experience.

Dick Wozney, 5-8, 184, Sr., Brandon, Manitoba. One of the nicest surprises in recent seasons, Wazoo is a very excellent back. No high school experience to speak of, but has projected himself into a starting job and will be hard to move. Extremely fast and elusive runner. Good receiver. Great attitude. He will also be one of the best backs in the league this fall. Has lettered twice in football and once in track as a sprinter.

Stan Wright, 5-11, 178, Jr., Williston, N.D. Rated top Sioux defensive back, he was the regular Sioux safety man a year ago. Extremely good attitude and has made rapid advances with his offensive assignments. A fine student, Stan is in pre-medicine. Excellent speed and change of direction. A blue-chipper. Hurdler on track team.

FULLBACKS

Forrest Bell, 6-0, 195, Soph., Ellendale, N.D. Bell was moved from halfback before spring drills and at times looked very good. Has the strength and desire to be a top fullback. While he needs experience, he very likely will see considerable action.

Jo Biondi, 5-10, 190, Jr., Chisholm, Minn. This boy is a transfer from Hibbing, Minn., Junior College and could help greatly at this spot. Also could play halfback. Reportedly is a fine back and has a good JuCo record. Will take him some time to adjust to Sioux system of play.

Ron Carlson, 5-11, 212, Halstad, Minn. Heaviest fullback candidate. Ron showed promise in spring ball and will get some work this season. He is durable and has a good attitude.

Jerry Evenson, 6-1, 201, Jr., Grand Forks, N.D. Despite injury last season, Jerry had enough playing time to letter. Had a great prep career and during spring ball was the top fullback. He will get competition from others. A good punter.

Mark Grabow, 5-10, 185, Soph., Minneapolis, Minn. As he makes transition from prep ball, Grabow shows promise of becoming a good solid back. However, he needs experience.

Jim Lies, 6-0, 198, Jr., New Rockford, N.D. Was switched from halfback before spring drills and improved rapidly at the new position. Jim has good speed and power and will be one of top fullback candidates. A top prepster in state in 1961.

UND MEMORIAL STADIUM

Memorial Stadium, University of North Dakota's home football field, is located right on the campus and includes a quarter-mile track.

It was formally dedicated in 1927 as a memorial to World War I dead who had graduated or attended UND and former President Webster Merrifield.

Constructed of brick and steel it will seat 10,000. Visiting teams dress underneath the stadium, while the Sioux utilize fieldhouse facilities.

The press box has seats for writers and scouts and has two booths for home and visiting field phones, scoreboard and clock and public address operators plus space for five radio stations. Working broadcasters, writers and scouts seeking use of these facilities must have press passes to gain admittance. Address press box facility requests to Lee Bohnet, Sports Information Director, well in advance of date of game.

The University's new horizon as it looks to a decade of great world change and a mushrooming student enrollment is the most challenging faced in its 81 years as the preeminent institution of higher learning in the state. It is a challenge, but also a source of pride to the University of North Dakota, as it looks ahead with good plans to meet the physical and academic needs that will carry out its role to educate, to research and to serve the needs of the state's people. New construction of housing and classrooms continues—and curricula is constantly being revised to answer tomorrow's needs. UND ranks among the top 100 colleges in the nation.

History—The University of North Dakota was chartered February 23, 1883, six years before North Dakota became a state and its name constitutes the first official use of the words North Dakota. Old Main, recently demolished, served as the one and only building on campus. Located on the English Coulee, about a mile west of Grand Forks on a donated 20 acre site, it now spreads over 225 acres. Dr. William M. Blackburn served both as its first president and professor of mental and moral philosophy. Originally organized as a College of Arts and Sciences, with a Normal School for the education of teachers, the University soon offered greater service to the young state. In 1889 the School of Law was established. In 1890 the School of Mines, now part of the College of Engineering, was added by a provision of the State Constitution. In 1905 the School of Medicine was established and later additions include the College of Education, the College of Business and Public Administration, the Graduate School, the College of Nursing, General Extension Division and the University College.

Physical Plant—Approximately half of the school's 54 major buildings have been built since the end of World War II. Construction is constantly underway that changes the face of the UND to each returning visitor in the fall. Housing has expanded tremendously with six new modern dormitories having been built, with two five-story dorms under construction and at least another four and a food service center to be built in the next several years. Recent new additions are the Chester Fritz million-dollar library constructed through the gift of Mr. Fritz, an international banker; the Ireland Cancer Research Center; the 1.4 million dollar addition to the University Center (student union); Leonard Hall, a new mineral industries building; the McCannel Rehabilitation Center to the Medical School; Abbott Hall, which houses the Chemistry Department; a full-scale remodeling of the old Chemistry Building for the Biology Department; a new Education Building and a proposed huge reconstruction of the school's huge power plant. New classroom buildings also are being sought from the legislature. The 1.2 Twamley Hall administration building and a beautiful Old Main Memorial Sphere with an everlasting flame are other new additions.

Administration—Dr. George W. Starcher is the ninth president of the University, having assumed office July 1, 1954. President Starcher received his A.B. degree from Ohio University and has his Master's and Ph.D. from the University of Illinois. In his first decade as chief administrative officer of the school, the University under Dr. Starcher has made steady progress on all fronts including student enrollment, physical expansion and research activity and throughout President Starcher has sought to uphold and upgrade the academic standards that have gained the University wide fame. As the University has grown, so has Dr. Starcher's reputation as a spokesman for public higher education not only in the state but in the upper midwest and as such he has repeatedly urged that the colleges prepare early for the record numbers of "drop-ins" and the expanding outflow of able graduates. The four-year Honors Program and a greatly expanded student scholarship assistance program also are hallmarks of Dr. Starcher's regime. Dr. Starcher is assisted by two vice-presidents. They are Dean of the Business and Public Administration College Thomas J. Clifford, who is vice president for finance and Dr. W. E. Koenker, vice president for academic affairs.

Enrollment—In view of the sharp upturn in enrollment during the past decade, it appears quite likely the Grand Forks campus enrollment may reach 5,600 this fall. The University's Williston Center enrollment could reach 250.

LONGEST UNDEFEATED STRETCH

- BEFORE 1922 (year of formation of North Central Conference)
 - 1908-09-10—Ten (10) straight triumphs. Three in 1908, five in '09 and two in 1910. Victory span included two wins each over Carleton and the UND Alumni and single victories over St. Thomas, Hamline, Valley City Teachers and Grand Forks high school.
 - 1898-99-00—Nine (9) straight victories. UND started the skein with a 39-6 victory over arch-rival N.D. State, the final game of 1898, and won all six games in 1899 and recorded two wins in 1900. Colleges defeated by UND were North Dakota State twice, Moorhead State, Macalester, Mitchell University. High school teams beaten during this string were Litchfield, Fergus Falls and St. Paul, all in Minnesota, and the Henley Athletic Club of Minneapolis.

AFTER 1922

- 1929-30 —Fourteen (14) straight victories. Coach C.A. (Jack) West's popularly-known 'Nomads of the North' scalped most of the upper midwest football teams and included a few inter-sectional scalp-locks. West was to take UND to even greater heights after this period. This longest unbeaten string of any Sioux grid team started with a 27-1 win over University of Manitoba, fourth game of the 1929 season in which college rules were used one half and Canadian rugby rules the other, and ended with a 33-6 loss to nationally-powerful Army at West Point, N.Y., the eighth game of the 1930 slate. The Sioux allowed only 21 points in this span. Victims included University of South Dakota twice, North Dakota State twice, Morningside twice, South Dakota State twice and Manitoba, Creighton, Chicago Loyola, St. Mary's of Minnesota, Superior State and a fine Davis and Elkins team.
