February 13,

1933.

Honorable William Langer,
The Governor,
Bismarck, North Dakota.

Dear Governor:

I was glad to receive your letter and to know that you are able to be around again and hope that your health will continue to improve.

I note by the North Dakota papers that some mighty interesting developments have been brought out by the investigation committees. Conditions are apparently worse than I had expected.

I note that President-elect Roosevelt is calling a Conference of Governors, and I hope that you can attend. They are planning for a big crowd and a big time at the Inauguration. I realize, however, that it will be a hard time for you to get away, owing to the closing of the Legislature about the same time, but am sure you would enjoy being present.

With best wishes, I am

Yours truly,

Lynn J. Frazier
