

January 2005

Professor Lee

Robin A. Schmidt

Follow this and additional works at: <https://commons.und.edu/ndlr>

Part of the Law Commons

Recommended Citation

Schmidt, Robin A. (2005) "Professor Lee," North Dakota Law Review. Vol. 81 : No. 3 , Article 13.
Available at: <https://commons.und.edu/ndlr/vol81/iss3/13>

This Case Comment is brought to you for free and open access by the School of Law at UND Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in North Dakota Law Review by an authorized editor of UND Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact zeineb.yousif@library.und.edu.

PROFESSOR LEE

ROBIN A. SCHMIDT*

Many things about Professor Lee impressed me during the few years I had the pleasure of knowing him; his intelligence, wit, charm, humor, vast knowledge of the best places to eat, and his complete lack of arrogance. Professor Lee's dedication to the students will always be remembered. He took the time to learn about the students as people. He knew and cared about what kind of lawyers we would become, not just what our class rank might be. Professor Lee was a realist.

What I admire most about Professor Lee is that he started his career at the law school dedicated to the students and remained so until the end. Professor Lee gave me his unsolicited support when I was searching for my first jobs in the legal field and I credit him with helping me start my career. He will live on through the many lawyers he taught and influenced by his mere presence in our lives. Professor Lee, you were a rare treat in this world, and I miss your guidance.

*J.D. with distinction, University of North Dakota School of Law, 2004; North Dakota Law Review Managing Editor, 2003-2004. Ms. Schmidt is currently employed an associate at the Vogel Law firm in Fargo, North Dakota.
