Alma Mater
Music by Joseph Haydn
Words by John Marnie

Hail to thee, O Alma Mater!
Hail to thee with heart and tongue!
Pride we feel and love yet greater,
While we raise our grateful song.
Home of lofty thought and learning,
Beacon o'er our western land,
Shrine whence still the ever burning
Torch is passed from hand to hand.

Alma Mater, thine the glory,
If a thought of ours or deed
Find a place in song or story,
Win endeavor's glorious meed.
Prosper ever, fost'ring mother;
Down the ages long resound,
Loud thy fame, while many another
Finds in thee what we have found.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The pageantry and dress of American colleges and universities has been inherited from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries. Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages, first in the Church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, where the Bachelor was the apprentice of the Master and the dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility.

Principal features of academic dress are the gown, the cap and the hood. Early it became necessary for universities to set rules to preserve the dignity and meaning of the academic dress. Both Cambridge and Oxford since the fifteenth century have made academic dress a matter of university control even to its minor details, and have repeatedly published revised regulations. American universities agreed on a definite system in 1895. In 1932 the American Council of Education presented a revised code which for the most part governs the style of academic dress today.

THE GOWN: The flowing gown comes from the twelfth century. While it originally may have been worn as protection against the cold of unheated buildings, today it has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress of rank or social standing underneath. It is black for all degrees with pointed sleeves for the Bachelor degree; long closed sleeves with a slit at the arm or wrist for the Masters degree; and full bell double sleeves for the Doctors degree. Bachelors and Masters degree gowns have no trimming. For the Doctors degree the gown is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves, in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline to which the degree pertains.

THE CAP: When Roman law freed the slave he won the privilege of wearing a cap. The academic cap is a sign of freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as square to symbolize the book. The color of the tassel denotes the discipline.

THE HOOD: The hood is trimmed with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the college. The color of the facing of the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree, the color of the lining designates the university or college from which the degree was granted.
