WE WANT NEWS If you knew how welcome a letter a clipping, or a marked newspaper about yourself is at this office, you would shake off that innate modesty which is a part of true culture and sit right down and write. You have no idea how many people will be interested in you, your family, your job, your political achievements, and everything that pertains to you. If you get married, if you are appointed to any office from coroner to ambassador; if you get a good job, or lose a good job, no matter what it is, you'll find appreciation and sympathy in abundance among our readers. This publication fails in its most important function if it fails to keep our Alumni in touch with one another. Don't leave your affairs to our imagination.

DEMAND FOR HIGHER EDUCATION In 1890 there were 157,000 students enrolled in American colleges. In 1900 the number had grown to 238,000; in 1910 to 256,000; in 1915 to 405,000. Then came the entrance of the United States into the War. This tended temporarily to reduce registration in collegiate subjects, but at the close of the war it rose again very rapidly until in 1928-29 it passed the million mark. To put this in another way, in 1890, 1½ per cent of the young people of college age in the United States were enrolled in institutions of higher learning. By 1926 this had risen to 10 per cent. In five years (1922-1927) in 211 institutions on the approved list of the Association of American Universities, the enrollment increased 25 per cent. In 42 of the larger institutions with an enrollment of more than 3,000 it increased during the same period 28 per cent. From 1890 to 1929 college registration increased 529 per cent.

THE ALUMNI COLLEGE What is an Alumni College? It is a short course of a week or so for Alumni, held generally at Commencement time.

They are generally quartered together in one of the dormitories, they eat together, sometimes along with the faculty, they hear lectures together, and play together—for the afternoons are generally given over to golf, swimming, etc. The nature of the subjects taken up in the lectures varies, of course. Lafayette College, the pioneer in the movement, lists among other things economics, electrical engineering, psychology, political tendencies, biology, geology. Alumni who have attended "Alumni Colleges" seem to experience considerable mental and physical exhilaration, and get some knowledge of what is going on in the world outside their own fields. Lafayette charges the Alumnus only $25 for the week, this including everything. Other colleges and universities that have had "Alumni Colleges" this year are Michigan, Iowa State, Wesleyan, and Berea.

STADIUM WORRIES "Many ingenious plans for adding to the existing Harvard Stadium, or building a new one, have been drawn on table cloths and the backs of envelopes, but none more so than the design calling for a circular amphitheatre enclosing two football fields which bisect each other. The play would be shifted from one field to the other at the end of each quarter and thus spectators behind the goal posts for one period would automatically be at the 50-yard line the next. However, goal posts at every quarter of the compass might tend to confuse a dizzy halfback, not to mention feminine spectators..."—Harvard Alumni Bulletin.

WHAT IS IT? To be at home in all lands and ages; to count nature a familiar acquaintance and dart an intimate friend; to gain a standard for the appreciation of other men's work and the criticism of your own; to carry the keys of the world's library in your pocket, and feel its resources behind you in whatever you undertake; to make hosts of friends among the men of your own age who are to be leaders in all walks of life; to lose yourself in generous enthusiasms and cooperate with others for common ends—this is the offer of the college for the best four years of your life."—William DeWitt Hyde.

A TIMELY QUESTION Sometimes I wonder if our fervent ballyhoo circus advertisements ever arouse any of the grads and ex-students who have become comatose and calloused. If only we could make them understand that we are laboring for their own good! Honestly, a man or woman who has enjoyed the rich and varied experiences of a four-year course at a good University, his sheepskin representing a gift to him, instead of something he has earned and paid for, has succeeded to a full partnership in the achievements of his school after he left, and who has acquired new importance because of the growing importance of the University—such a person, who fails to take a lively interest in developments back on the campus, is in a bad way.—George Ade.

COMMENCEMENT PLANS Another class is about to graduate from the University and step out into the world as alumni. The class this year leaves a very fine undergraduate record behind them.

The return of a prominent alumnus, Maxwell Upson, as Commencement Speaker is awaited with interest by the senior faculty members and alumni. The speaker has won a name for himself in the industrial circles. It is significant to note that the speaker is a member of one of the reuniting classes, the class of 1896. Thirty-five years after his graduation, Mr. Upson has been invited to return by his Alma Mater to deliver the Commencement Address.

The alumni banquet is scheduled for 6:30 Monday evening, June 8 at the Commons. A good program of music and talks has been arranged.

VISIT THE ALUMNI OFFICE Every returning alumnus or alumna is invited and urged to call at the Alumni Office and register. We are anxious for you to see our new home. Make this office your headquarters during your stay. We are at your service.

The Band of Nodaks Grows

298 Seniors Get Sheepskins in June; Grads Schedule Reunions

THE mighty band of Nodak Alumni, now some 4,000 strong, will get the greatest increase of any single year in the University history when approximately 300 seniors get their sheepskins at Commencement exercises June 9.

Traditional Commencement ceremonies open Saturday, June 6, with class night exercises in the University Armory. The four day program will be concluded Tuesday, after a schedule of receptions, alumni reunions, baccalaureate, and other annual features of the event.

Maxwell Upson, member of the class of 1896, and prominent New York manufacturer, will deliver the commencement address. Reverting to a custom interrupted last year when Vilhjalmur Stefansson returned to his alma mater, President Thomas F. Kane will give the baccalaureate.

Wesley College Commencement ceremonies will be held Monday when Rev. Howard C. Ackley, graduate of the University and Wesley College in 1921, and now pastor of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church in New York, will give the address. The affiliated school will confer seven degrees. Its president, Dr. E. P. Robertson, who recently resigned his position, will preside for the last time at graduation ceremonies.

Rev. George Hugh Smythe, pastor of the Hitchcock Memorial Church at Hartsdale, New York, of which John M. Hancock is a member, will deliver the Wesley College baccalaureate Sunday morning.

Addresses by the class valedictorian, Sidney Westman of Aneta and its sal-

MAXWELL UPSON

utatorian, Vernon Squires, of Grand Forks, will feature the class night exercises Saturday. Thomas Barger of Linton, president of the class will preside. The class poem will be read by Ethel Holton of Grand Forks and musical numbers will be furnished by James Carley and members of the sigma Alpha Iita trio and the University quartet. The trio is composed of Margaret Olson and Alice Palmer of Grand Forks and Helen DeLa of Minot, all members of the graduating class. In the quartet are Emil and Richard Klein of Washburn, Bud Thornton of Fessenden and Vernon Squires, also seniors who will receive their degrees this year.

Sunday's schedule includes, beside the Wesley College baccalaureate at 10:55 A. M., the traditional academic procession at 7:30 P. M. followed by the University baccalaureate. Plans to hold the baccalaureate and commencement in the stadium were abandoned and all exercises will be in the armory.

Over 500 persons will fall in line for the academic procession which will be led by the University Band. President Kane, members of the board of administration deans of the various colleges, Mr. Upson and other guests of the University professors and assistant professors will be followed by the seniors marching in groups according to the schools or colleges from which they will get their degrees.

Monday will be Alumni day when eight classes will hold reunions. Secretaries of the various classes have made urgent requests that all members of the groups return to the campus during commencement week. The traditional reception of President and Mrs. Kane for alumni, graduates and their friends will climax the day's activities. The annual alumni business meeting and election of officers will be held in the afternoon and will be held in the afternoon and will be followed by a dinner at the Commons. Arrangements to house the alumni in campus dormitories have been completed. President Fred J. Traynor will preside at the alumni functions. Addresses will be given by members of all reuning classes.

IN THE 1930 COMMENCEMENT

The committee in charge of arrangements for the Alumni reunions is headed by Wm. Nuessle '01 of Bismarck, and includes M. Beatrice Johnstone, '91 of the University, Maxwell Upson, '96 of New York City, Daniel Bull '06 of Minneapolis, William Greenleaf, '11 of Boston, Howard Flint '16 of Pocatello, Idaho, John Page, '21 of Bismarck and Rita Murphy '26 of Bismarck.

Secretaries of the reuning classes '91, Miss Johnstone; '96, J. Francis Douglas of Seattle, Wash.; '01, Dr. A. McDonald of Duluth; '06, O. B. Burtness of Grand Forks; '11 William Greenleaf; '16, Howard Flint; '21, Loretta Symington of Delevan, Minn., and '26 Rupert Stechman of Chicago.

Other events scheduled for Monday include the annual meeting of the board of trustees of Wesley College at which time it is expected that they will appoint a president to succeed Dr. Robertson whose resignation they accepted at their last meeting, and the Wesley College luncheon at the University commons.

The second academic procession will open commencement day ceremonies Tuesday when graduates file into the stadium for exercises in connection with the conferring of degrees. A commencement luncheon at the Commons after the graduation will complete the commencement schedule.

Twelve junior students, chosen on the basis of scholarship, attainment and general representativeness, will act as ushers and marshals at the commencement exercises. The Grey Gowns are, Albert Wisner of Grand Forks, Duane Traynor of Devils Lake and John Burma of Fairmont, Minn., marshals; Laura Christianson of Benson, Minn., Roy Holand and Marian Severson of Grand Forks, Gordon Martin of Montreal, Quebec, Don McCarthy of Winnewaukan, Lois Kellevig of Rugby, Lloyd Richmond of Watertown, S. D., and Ann Uglum of Bowbells, ushers.

SPEAKS BACCALAUREATE

"Humanics" is the title of Mr. Upson's commencement address. The speaker is vice president and general manager of the Raymond Concrete Pile Co. in New York City. He began work with the firm 24 years ago, 8 years after receiving his master of engineering degree from Cornell University in 1899. Three years previous to that time he had received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of North Dakota.

From 1905 to 1907 he held the position of chief engineer and assistant to president of Hockanum Mills Co. which is the second largest manufacturer of woolen goods in the United States. In this capacity he built some of the company's mills, designed and built a new power plant and aided in the planning and construction of a new mill.

In 1907 Mr. Upson became president and general manager of the Raymond Concrete Pile Co., when a young organization. Under his direction it has grown to the largest contracting company in the country relating to foundations harbor and sub-aqueous construction.

He holds more than 40 patents relating to concrete piling, sea walls, harbors, deep foundations and the like. Papers concerning these patents have been contributed to the various engineering societies of which he is a member. The American Society of Civil Engineers and the American Concrete Institute. Mr. Upson is listed in "Who's Who."

During his college days at Cornell he was a member of the junior ball committee, business manager of the Sibley Journal, a member of the Aleph Samach and Sphinx Head and president of his class as a senior.

During the World War Mr. Upson was engaged by the navy and shipping board to design and build some of the most important ship building plants. He was also associated with Thomas D. Campbell in organizing the Montana Farming Corporation which holds approximately 100,000 acres of land.

He was married in 1915 to Mary Sheppard Barrett of Concord, Mass. They have one daughter, Jeanette.

In religion Mr. Upson is a Presbyterian and in politics a Republican. He is a member of the Knickerbocker, Seaview and Englewood golf clubs, Yeoman's Hall of Charleston, S. C., Golf and Hunting clubs, Englewood Field and Men's Club in New York; The Bankers, Engineers and Broadstreet clubs the University of North Dakota Club, the Cornell University Club and the Nodak Club in Chicago.

Philip Woutat, now in attendance at the University of Minnesota, was recently awarded a membership in Alpha Omega Alpha, fourth year medical honor group. Selection to membership in the society is based on scholarship.

Nodaks In A Northwest Store System

56 Former University Students and Alumni Direct Gamble Chain

GAMBLE STORES, organization operating 150 stores in middle west and north west, now employ 56 University graduates and former University students.

Three of the 56 Nodaks are in the main office at Minneapolis, headquarters for the company, five are supervisors for acres, 23 are store managers and the remainder are assistants.

Heading the personnel system is Clarence Gibson who received his bachelor of arts degree in 1927. Fred Davidson, B.S., '27 and Gerald Webster, Ex. '17 are accountant and office manager, respectively with Minneapolis headquarters.

Organized in March 1925, The Gamble Company opened its first store in St. Cloud, Minn. Stores number 2 and 3 were opened at Fargo and Grand Forks and the organization now operates units in North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Michigan. In 1931 the organization expects to open 31 more stores assuring advancement and greater opportunity for its personnel.

Men from 21 to 30 years of age are chosen for the Gamble store work and an individual enters the company as an assistant manager. In the training period of from 20 to 24 months the worker is taught all details of store management from setting up a window display to handling stock con-

Music Departments Lose Many Seniors

Sixteen members of the University glee club will receive diplomas at commencement this spring. Several keys were recently presented to five members of the glee club who have sung with this organization for four years. Those who received awards were William Thornton, Vernon Squires, Emil and Richard Klein and Edna Loff.

The entire personal of the famed Sioux quartet and the S. A. I. trio will be graduated. Singing between halves of athletic contests, over the radio and before many gatherings the boys' quartet made a name for themselves and had a reputation that extended outside the University, Hywel Rowland said of the group that "it is absolutely the finest quartet I have ever had an opportunity to work with."

Appearances of the S. A. I. trio were also numerous and their work as highly praiseworthy.

Graduating seniors are: William Thornton, Vernon Squires, Beatrice Starke, Helen DeLa, Richard C. Klein, Ethel Clure, Doris Fisher, Edna Loff, Terrell Balfour, Nedra Lee Humphries, Bonnie Matthison, Clinton Schonberger, Raymond Olson, Emil Klein, Genevieve Philips and Alice Palmer.

For the first time bandmen were rewarded for their work in the two University concert groups. Eleven musicians were awarded sweaters for their outstanding work in the band during their four years of matricula-tion. Six service keys were given to members graduating who played during their entire course at the University.

Graduation will take fifteen students from the ranks of the two school groups—the R. O. T. C. and the concert bands. Hursel Kallestad has assisted Prof. John E. Howard in the direction of the bands. He will be graduated this spring.

The eleven seniors who received the sweater awards were Earl Kearns, Arnold Cecka, Sigurd Sollund, Douglas Sowle, Clinton Schonberger, Charles Larson, Edwin Rice, Charles Libby, Gordon Mork, Selmer Holdahl, and Hazel Lyons. Those receiving

Graduates Are Civic Leaders Throughout North Dakota; Many Connected With G. N. D. A.

(By MAURICE "BUD" RYAN, '26)

THE greatest contribution a state university can make lies not in giving to a relatively small number of favored individuals a better set of qualifications for wresting some degree of fame and fortune from the world about us. It should and does lie in its ability to turn out conscientious and intelligent leadership which will take its place among the growing population of this state, which helped to make their education possible, and to work with might and main toward all constructive development of North Dakota.

Many a thankless task awaits willing hands and a clear head as arduous progress unwinds in city, county and state. Volunteer efforts are needed in school and town board matters, with all political subdivisions of the state seeking constantly for somebody who will give of this time and efforts in advancing their interests. Even though we as individuals should eventually accumulate a tidy collection of worldly goods, we will not have discharged our responsibilities unless our state and communities will be better places to live because of our efforts.

If there be one who feels that our alumni and former students are not measuring up to this expectation throughout North Dakota I wish he might follow me over the state that I might point out to him in practically every community the former University people who are generously giving of their precious time and enthusiasm toward improving social and business conditions in their favored commonwealth we call home. A gallant band of tireless workers they comprise. Workers of whom our successful alumni outside the state may justly be proud.

—In civic and service clubs they hit their stride. In the city of Minot for instance, Warren Bacon heads the Lions, while I. H. Braw is president of the Cosmopolitans. Jumping west to Williston, Henry A. Nelson this year retired from the presidency of the Commercial Club, where Edward A. Ketter was the former secretary, and south to Dickinson where G. J. Manning on February 9 laid down the presidency of the Association of Commerce. So it is with most critics and towns in the state.

Small wonder, then, that when the Greater North Dakota Association, a state chamber of commerce, was formed in 1925 to amalgamate the state's civic interests and to consolidate our localized efforts into a stronger and more influential state machine, we should find a long list of University men serving in official capacity. Serving at present, or in the past, as directors of this state association, the list of U. N. D. alumni or former students would include: Howard Maher of Devils Lake, T. E. Whelan of St. Thomas and John Storman of Rolla.

Responsible for their home counties in this state development organization, and acting under the title of county chairmen, the following have played their part: C. S. Hilborn of Valley City, H. N. Lynn of Linton, Walter R. Ray of Medora, Harry E. Dickinson of McClusky, A. Benson of Bottineau, G. Grimson and J. G. McClintock of Rugby.

These and similar civic services are the proving ground from which are chosen the outstanding men who are elected to represent their constituency in the fields of politics, where University men now serve as legislators, chairmen of state boards, governor, and United States Congressmen and Senators. In this wise our fellows of former years are contributing their intelligent leadership, their time and their judgment in the advancement of this state which aided them. Thus they would even a noble score.

WESLEY SPEAKER

HOWARD C. ACKLEY

Rev. Howard C. Ackley, now pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church in New York City will give the commencement address at Wesley College. He received degrees from Wesley and from the University in 1921.

J. E. Davis, '99, was named to the pardon board of North Dakota, May 29, to succeed Dr. D. T. Robertson. Mr. Davis is a former member of the board of administration. His term is for two years.

About 150 cases are expected to be reviewed by the board at their meeting this spring, which is a semi-annual affair.

Ibsen's Works and Hult's Translations

Professor of Classical Languages Brings To English Writings of Norse Poet

AFTER more than three years of work Prof. Gottfried Hult, head of the department of classical languages, has completed a translation of Ibsen's lyrical works.

Following strictly the verse forms and the rhythm schemes of the great Norwegian writer, the translation is recognized as having inestimable worth in that it reveals for the first time in the English language Ibsen's development and growth as a writer. Dr. Hult's work is the first complete translation. A few of the shorter poems had been translated into English, but Dr. Hult was first to finish the translation of the author's complete works.

Included in the translation is "Peer Gynt," the great masterpiece. This work in English follows with religious fidelity the verse-forms and rhyme-schemes of the original. A five-act drama consisting of 38 scenes in all has thus been translated into English with no deviation as to form from the original.

Professor Hult is singularly equipped to achieve the best results with Ibsen's great dramatic poem. Thoroughly conversant with Norwegian and also a specialist in English and classical literatures in addition to having a poet's technique in respect to rhyme and meter, Dr. Hult possessed a rare background on which to rest the difficult work of translating "Peer Gynt."

Dr. Hult hopes to publish both the volume of verses and the drama before a very distant date. He will write introductions to both volumes and supply needed notes for elucidating the text.

The doctor's work in Ibsen is only a section of what he is achieving in the way of recognition for himself and for the University.

In March this year Dr. Hult received an invitation to contribute to the memorial volume in honor of the late William Vaughn Moody, well-known poet and dramatist.

His lecture on Moody delivered at Kansas and Stanford universities two years ago was so well received that it led to the present invitation which was extended by the dead poet's sister to Professor Hult.

Included in the list of poets contributing to the memorial volume are Regis Michaud of France and the late Robert Bridges, poet laureate of England, in addition to a selected number of writers and critics from leading universities.

The memorial volume is now in press and will appear early this fall from the house of Houghton Mifflin and Company, Boston.

In his contribution, Dr. Hult revised the original lecture on Moody making it more of an essay for reading. The essay in itself has been given wide distribution and is regarded as a real contribution and original interpretation of Moody as one of America's foremost poets.

Busy as he has been with his Ibsen translation, the University man has found time for original poetical creative work of his own. Within the near future he plans publication of an original volume of his work. The new volume entitled "Upon a Peak of Darien and Other Poems" deals poetically with discoveries in science, particularly in physics and astronomy. The volume will be of the nature of philosophical interpretation in poetical form, and will be rather a unique contribution. It will follow some trails, although poetically, which Eddington and Jeans have blazed scientifically.

Seven Journalists Graduate

The University journalism department will lose through graduation this June seven seniors who have been outstanding in that field throughout their college careers. They are Alvin Austin, Gladys Trent, Joyce Roberts, Arnold Cecka, Henry Frank, Carro Trace and Josephine Fee.

Austin has been editor-in-chief of the Dakota Student for the past year and in his junior year was managing editor. He was president of Sigma Delta Chi and this year received the scholarship key awarded by the national journalistic fraternity. In addition to his journalistic activities he was student chairman for the first Sioux PowWow, the 1930 Homecoming celebration. He is now night city editor of the Grand Forks Herald.

Miss Trent has been active on the Student staff and in Matrix, honorary journalistic group for women, during the past year. She also took part in journalistic enterprises during her junior year in school during the 1928-29 term.

Roberts has been desk editor on the Dakota Student for the past year. He was publicity director for the Seventh production of the Flickertail Follies this year and is a member of Sigma Delta Chi. He will continue work with the United States Department of Agriculture throughout the northwest.

For the past year Cecka has been sports editor on the Dakota Student. He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi and this year edited the Nodak New-manite, annual publication of the Newman Club, Catholic student organization.

Henry Frank has been associate editor of the Student for the past year, is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, has served on the Dacotah Staff for two years. He was assistant director of N. I. P. A. last year and during his senior year held the position of student assistant in journalism.

Josephine Fee has been president of Matrix for two years and has been connected with the Student staff since she enrolled at the University. Carro Trace has also served on the Student staff for several years.

A FUTURE NODAK

Professor and Mrs. Bonner Witmer are the parents of a baby daughter born early in May. The young lady should be a real Nodak for her mother, Lillian Leith Wilmer, '23, has been active in alumni circles and at present is vice president of the association. She also holds a national position in Alpha Phi sorority. Her father is assistant professor in physics at the University and a graduate of the class of 1922. He also has been active in alumni work and University circles.

Third Place and A New Nodak Star

Ray Pearson, Distance Runner, Is Sensation of Conference Track Meet At U

BRINGING to a close the athletic year at the University, North Dakota played host to the North Central Conference track and field teams for the first time in the history of the conference May 29 and 30. South Dakota University, competing for the last time under the direction of Vincent E. Montgomery, did the expected by win-

1:59, six tenths of a second less than the record set by Hansen of Morningside in 1929. In the mile he clipped off six and six-tenths seconds to win 20 yards of his nearest competitor in 4:22.6.

Handicapped by innumerable unforeseen breaks, the Sioux athletes were unable to come up to the expectations of the fans, who hoped that by some miracle they might win their first track title. As it was, the Nodaks scored more points than they had ever done before. Among almost certain point winners who were unable to perform, or who did not come up to expectations were Larry Knauf, who was ineligible; "Red" Jarrett, who pulled a tendon in the preliminaries, though he managed to win the broad jump with a leap that was only three-eighths of an inch less than the record, before the accident; Curtis Schave who was forced out by injury; and unexpected slumps in the field events by Burma, Madsen, Urevig and Eckholm, all of whom were expected to count heavily in the discus and shot.

North Dakota's weakness was particularly noticeable in the high jump, pole vault and shot.

Captain Lafe Ludwig, running his last hurdle race under the green and white, brought the stands up with a thrilling exhibition in the 220 yard low hurdles which he won from Welch of South Dakota State. His performance was particularly thrilling in view of the fact that he had just lost out to Welch in the high hurdles.

After being injured in the preliminaries Friday, Jarrett was scratched in the two dash events, both of which were expected to give him either first or second places. He was entered in the relay, however, but he limped badly and the Nodak quartet was forced to accept a third place in an event which was conceded to them by a wide margin.

The summary:

120 yard high hurdles—Walch, S. D. State, first; Wirth, S. D. U., second; Smith, Morningside, third; Vanwyn-garden, Morningside, fourth, Time 15.2 sec.

Freshman half mile relay—South Dakota State first; North Dakota Ag-gies, second; University of North Da-kota, third. Time 1:31.4.

Mile run—Pearson, U. N. D., first;

Hamann, S. D. State, second; Caddes, S. D. U., third; Thornton, U. N. D., fourth. Time 4:22.6. (New record).

Discus throw—Gottlieb, Morningside, first; Burma, U. N. D., second; May, N. D. A. C., third; Eckholm, U. N. D., fourth. Distance 135 feet, 8 in.

100 yard dash—Kettle, Morningside, first; Howard, S. D. State, second; ning the title with a total of 64 points.

South Dakota State, deposed champions earned 42 points, North Dakota University, 36; Morningside with Fletcher Kettle and Gottlieb doing the heavy work, had 23; while the A. C. team from Fargo trailed with 12.

Brightest spot in the two day performance came when Ray Pearson, the sensational Nodak distance star, shattered the records in the half mile and mile. He covered the half mile in

Farewell To Nodak Athletic Stars

Schave, Jarrett Head List of University Heroes Who Leave This June

As the Class of '31 marches across the U. N. D. campus as students for the last time in the senior processional this June there will be a host of great Nodak athletes included that will be hard to replace. Football, basketball, track, golf, hockey and tennis will all come in on their share of the losses.

Leading the list is the famous pair of Grand Forks athletes, Schave and Jarrett. Both men have made a name for themselves during four years of college life.

"Red" Jarrett, the more colorful of the pair has been a football sensation, being the most feared man on the gridiron in the North Central Conference. Among his feats on the football field during the last year was the scoring of a touchdown against the strong Army grid squad. Only two other men in the country were able to cross the West Point line last season, Crowley of Yale, and Schwartz of Notre Dame.

Besides playing quarterback on the Sioux football team, Jarrett was a forward on the Nodak basketball team, and an excellent trackman. His specialties are the dash events and the broadjump.

Curt Schave's fame on the gridiron came about mostly through his wonderful passing ability. The famous Schave to Felber aerial attack was known throughout the entire northwest as a deadly offensive grid weapon. Schave played both quarterback and halfback. Like Jarrett he was also a good open field runner.

"SWAN SONG"

Schave was the star forward of the Coach Clem Letich's basketball team this year, and is also a hurdler, and runner.

Other losses to the Nodak football team will be "Whitey" Mjodahlen, star guard; "Ornery" Berg, end; Frank Smith, halfback; "Atlas" Urevig, and Vern Smith, tackles. Urevig is also a weight man in track, while Vern Smith earned his letter in basketball. Frank "Cyclone" Smith has also been outstanding in pole vaulting.

Track will suffer a great loss this year. Lafe Ludwig, Nodak track captain who excels in the hurdles leads the senior trackmen. Ludwig has also played at end on the football team, and is a first class initial sacker on the baseball diamond.

One of the best all around track men in school will turn in his last athletic energies for U. N. D. at the North Central Conference meet at Memorial Stadium, May 30 in Hugh Tarbell. Tarbell is not only one of the fastest dash men in school, but is also a star in the broad and high jumps.

Other seniors whose track days will be at an end this month are Sid Setterlund, 220 dash star, Bud Thornton, distance runner and pole vaulter, Clayton Ferry, new middle distance star of this year.

Hockey which is rapidly becoming a prominent sport at the University will be hard hit when Joe Brown, veteran defense man, leaves school. Tom Barger, another defense man, and Selmer Holdahl, wing are the two other senior pucksters.

Harold James, Nodak tennis ace will be the only loss from the Sioux net squad. Three senior golfers, Bill McIntyre, Warren Adams, and Ray Larson hang up their clubs in varsity competition.

keys were Clinton Schoenberger, Sigurd Solund, Edwin Rice, Charles Libby, Warren Adams, and Selmer Holdahl.

Other Senior bandsmen graduating are Eugene McCusker and Hursel Kallestad.

Tomena Thoreson, '29, who has been teaching at Morris, Minn., for the past year will return there next year. She is spending the summer at her home in York, N. D.

Evelyn Walker, '29 and Geo. Bawden were married May 10. They will make their home at Pisek N. D., where Mr. Bawden is stationed temporarily with the State Highway department. The groom is a graduate of Iowa State College. Mrs. Bawden has taught at Linton for the past two years.

Improvements Planned For U Campus

Improvements planned for the University campus this summer will be headed by the installation of an eight inch watermain and the remodeling of the ash tunnel at the power plant.

The watermain will be installed to provide needed fire protection, and will call for approximately 3,300 feet of pipe. Connection will be made with the new 12 inch watermain on University avenue to make a complete loop of the campus. Six hydrants with connecting pipe will be added.

The improvement will be made according to recommendations submitted by Dean E. F. Chandler of the school of engineering; J. W. Wilkerson, University business manager, and Emory Felt, superintendent of buildings and grounds. Bids for the project will be asked for in the near future, Mr. Felt said. Work will be started during the early part of the summer session.

Recommendations of the University power plant committee for re-modeling the ash tunnel at the power plant have been approved by the state board of administration. The work will include redesigning and rebuilding of Ash tunnel under the power plant boilers and extending outside the building to facilitate the removal of ashes.

Provision for this work was included in the appropriation made by the legislation for the installation of new boilers in the power plant. Plans were worked out by Chief Engineer E. J.

O'Keefe with the assistance of Prof. Alfred Boyd.

Other campus improvements this summer will include the replastering of Davis Hall, men's dormitory; the building of a cabin for student campers on the English Coupee; and routine repairs.

A new sidewalk was laid between the Library and Merrifield Hall. The old winding road between the entrances to the campus was filled to a level with the surrounding lawn and will be seeded with grass. A swinging water sprinkler, approximately 100 yards long, was installed on the football field in Memorial Stadium. It will be used during the summer dry periods.

GETS FIRST BOOK

OLE EIELSON

Dedicated to Carl Ben Eielson, and carrying out an Arctic Theme, the Dacotah of 1932, University year book, was distributed on the campus shortly before the close of school.

The first copy of the book was presented to Ole Eielson, father of the famous flier, at a special convocation. Donald McCarthy edited the book and Roy Holland was its business manager. Next year's Dacotah will be edited by Gil Stewart and will have Jack Robertson as its business manager.

Viola Streimekes, '29, who has been teaching at Mohall for the past two years, will spend the summer with her parents in Texas. She will also visit in Chicago and at various points in Iowa, returning in the fall to resume her position at Mohall.

Miss Irene Bostrom, '28 of Grand Forks who is teaching in the American college for girls located on the outskirts of Athens, Greece, has outlined plans for an interesting vacation.

When school closes she will go to Istenbul (Constantinople) to visit friends. At the close of her stay here she will go to Budapest and Vienna.

At the latter place she expects to attend the summer session at the university. She also includes in her plans a trip to Munich where she will attend Wagnerian festival, and the Mozart festival at Salzburg.

She spent Christmas in Cairo and during the vacation, took a boat trip up the Nile with a party of friends.

Legal Sorority Installed at U

The petition submitted by nine women enrolled in the school of law, to Kappa Beta Pi, international legal sorority, for a chapter at the University, was granted, and installation and initiation held recently with Mary E. Wright of Iowa City, province dean, in charge. This is not only the first legal sorority at the school but the first in the state. There are four alumnae members. They are Miss Helen Hamilton, Mrs. Agnes Rex, Miss Ruby McKenzie and Miss Marie Steining of Fargo. Active members are the Misses Hazel Lyons, Elizabeth Hutton, Mary Hennessy and Cora Wiseth. Miss Alice Angus of Bismarck who is attending Smith College this year and will return here next semester, will be initiated in the fall. Mrs. Florence B. Yonaka is an honorary member of the chapter.

Kappa Beta Pi is the oldest of legal sororities and has chapters in Paris and London. It was founded in Chicago at the Kent School of Law in 1908 and incorporated under the Illinois law. It has a total membership of 1,800 women enrolled in 46 chapters.

U Alumna To Go To Turkey

Two North Dakota women one an alumna of the University have been appointed to the faculty of the Constantinople Woman's College at Istanbul, Turkey, according to Albert W. Staub of New York City, American director. They are Miss Anne Holmes Stewart of Walhalla and Miss Edith I. Stokes of Hettinger. Miss Stewart who will be dietitian and instructor in home economics at the college, graduated from the University with the class of 1927 and is a member of Alpha Phi sorority. After leaving the University she took post-graduate work at Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago and for three years has been chief dietitian in the Buffalo General Hospital, Buffalo, New York. She expects to sail in August.

Miss Stokes attended the State Teachers College at Valley City and Grinnell College. She received her Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Minnesota this year and is doing post-graduate at the University of Chicago. She will teach geography in the preparatory school of the Turkish college.

The college of Istanbul, is one of the six American colleges in the Near East. They include the American University of Beirut, Syria; Robert College, Istanbul; International College of Smyrna, Turkey; American College of Sofia, Bulgaria, and Athens College in Greece.

Wesley Hires New Teacher

Dorothy A. Critchfield of Wooster, Ohio, has been named successor to Margaret Constance as teacher of expression at Wesley College, Dr. E. P. Robertson, president, announced. Miss Critchfield also will give harp instruction at the college.

A graduate of Wooster College, she completed graduate work in speech at Northwestern University and will receive her master of arts degree there in August. She is a harpist and pianist, having studied at Omerlin College conservatory and with musicians of the Cleveland and Chicago symphony orchestras.

Miss Critchfield lists among her experiences work with the Redpath Chautauqua, campaign speaking, lecturing, the giving of recitals and supervisor of a high school paper which was one of eight to win all-American honors in the United States.

For her debating and dramatic abilities she was chosen to membership in Delta Sigma Rho, honorary debating fraternity and Kappa Theta Gamma, honorary dramatic fraternity.

For the past year she has been teaching in Evanston High School.

Miss Constance resigned May 16 to accept a similar position at Carroll College in Waukesha, Wis. For the past year she has been an instructor at Wesley College, coming here immediately after receiving her master of arts degree at Northwestern University. She will leave for Waukesha at the close of commencement exercises.

To Sport Nuts

By J. H. Mader, Jr.

From every point of view, save that of records broken, the High School Conference track and field meet, held at Grand Forks in conjunction with the annual May conference, was the most outstanding in history. A 25 mile an hour gale descending with all its fury upon the contestants in the stadium prevented record-breaking performances. It was unfortunate from many angles, because about five men entered in the events this year were capable of setting new records. This was particularly expected in the dash events, the 440, the mile run and javelin. As it was, a new record was set in the broad jump, but since this was the only event wherein the wind was an aid, it is doubtful that the record will stand.

Wayne Hill, the one man track team from Ellendale, is about the brightest spot we have ever seen on the cinders. Single-handed this boy brought Ellendale third place in the track meet, scoring 18 points. He scored first place in the 100 and 220 yard dashes as well as in the half mile, and got second in the broad jump when he made one inch less than the new record.

Although track is almost the sole varsity activity to keep up the interest of the U. N. D. fans, at present that doesn't mean that athletics is at a low point on the campus. If you have any question about it, take a stroll down University Avenue any time after 4 P. M. You'll see the intramural teams in action. Baseball, diamondball, track, tennis, golf—almost every form of outdoor sport holds the attention of the boys. Of the thousand men at the University, nearly 800 participate in some form of athletics. Credit for this is largely due to Clyde Starbeck's untiring efforts toward building up the intramural sports program.

In the preliminaries of the North Central Conference track meet Glenn Jarrett showed the stuff that makes him an all round star. In the three trials allowed him, he jumped 21 feet, 9 inches the first time; 22 feet 3½ inches the second time and then topped off the day's performance by leaping 23 feet, 9 inches, just ⅜ of an inch from the record in the conference.

This performance is all the more remarkable in view of the fact that the famous redhead was suffering from a pulled tendon.

The conference meet that just closed marked the fadeout of many a star in North Dakota's athletic firmament.

Besides "Red" Jarrett, the fans saw the last of Curtis Schave, Vern Smith, Claude Urevig and Hugh Tarbell.

It will be a long, long time before as fine a team of athletes as Jarrett and Schave will work together. They've found a real sport in the hearts of students, faculty and alumni, because whenever they were competing, one could be sure they were going to give their best. And they did so without expecting anything in return. Their success did not go to their heads, and that likely explains their popularity.

One way of chasing the blues that one is likely to experience in seeing these fine athletes leave forever, is to look toward those that are coming up. And believe me, those boys we see coming up are mighty good to the eyes. To see Pierce show heels to everyone in the intramural meet gave but a slightest indication of that boy's prowess. It is on the gridiron that he's expected to be "Red" Jarrett's ghost. As a matter of fact many people are already predicting that Pierce will make the fans forget all about Jarrett.

Then there are many other fine prospects. To name but a few we mention Meinhover, Jongeward, Mullen and "Rip" Dablow. You might as well become familiar with these names; you're going to hear a lot about them.

If there is any other individual who is likely to bring North Dakota into the spotlight, it is Ray Pearson. This sophomore half miler and miler ran the mile during the high school meet in 4:35 against a fierce wind. He has already done it in 4:28, and is entered in the National Intercollegiate meet in Stagg Field, Chicago for June 5. It is thought quite possible that Pearson will be able to cut off between five and 10 seconds from his best time so far. In all races to date, he has never been pressed, and it is West's belief that against stiffer competition Pearson is likely to do some surprising things. His best time in the mile to date is 4:22.6.

North Dakota's track team, while not winning the title, did experience its best year in the season just past. They placed second in the mile relay event for North Central schools in Minneapolis April 11. At the Dakota Relays in Sioux Falls May 1 and 2 they won the half-mile relay, took a second in the mile relay, and set a new record in winning the distance medley at 10:55. These were the only three events in which Sioux teams were entered. Again, competing in a dual meet with the Bison of Fargo, West's team scored over seventy points to about 50 for the Bison.

Alumni Club Meetings

Gatherings of Alumni and former students of the University in the east and middle west brought together nearly 150 Nodaks during the past month who renewed their connections with their Alma Mater. Meetings were held in three cities; New York, Detroit, and Fargo with faculty members in attendance at the two nearest groups.

Forty Alumni members coming from the New England states and upper New York banqueted in New York City April 28. A. A. Heising, research Engineer for the Bell Telephone Company, was elected the new president succeeding W. S. Holmes. Wm. D. Boyce, with the Equitable Life Insurance Agency of New York at Syracuse, held the honors for coming the longest distance.

Speakers at the dinner were Howard Huston, New York; Calvin Crouch, former dean of engineering at the University; Mr. Boyce and Mr. Heising. New England states and New Jersey were represented. Succeeding Clifford Holland as vice president is Howard Huston and Clara Rom replaces Ruth Soule as secretary.

My Dear Mr. Webb,

There is no one, I suppose who likes to hear good news concerning the brain-progeny as does the father-editor. Your magazine came this noon, and I have gloated ever since. Each news item is worth whole editions of the ever present daily papers. If you editors at school realized how the ones who have strayed appreciate each morsel of news you give us about old friends, you would start immediately a trust fund for the perpetuation of your kind.

How can you chide us for not gleefully parting with our old Dacotahs? We need them to remind us that once we weren't old, hoary, and stodgy, that once we danced constantly as do the collegians around us. They are our only solace when we find age peering at us from round the corner.

It is our earnest prayer that more news items will pour into your coffers each month, that we greedy ones will have more occasion to gloat. I assure you that none will cherish every bit more than

A picture of the growth of the University was painted by President Thomas F. Kane in his address before the Fargo alumni rally May 15 at which the Fargo alumni chapter was reorganized. Herbert C. Nilles, newly elected president of the organization, acted as chairman.

Approximately 75 were present at the meeting at which C. A. West, University athletic director; Principal B. C. B. Tighe and Bob Brown of Fargo high school spoke. Officers elected were Mrs. H. E. (Elizabeth Doyle) Blakely, vice president and Edward M. Yocum, secretary treasurer. The gathering was held in the recreation room of the Fargo Forum building.

Detroit was the scene of the third round-up when three University professors: Dean J. V. Breitwieser, Dr. Robert D. Cole and Dr. A. V. Overn journeyed to that city for the National Education Association meeting February 25.

Mrs. Gretchen Oeschger Luros, formerly of East Grand Forks, is president of the Detroit club and Art Schlosser, formerly of Grand Forks is vice president.

Has Article Published

H. E. Haxo, professor of romance languages and literature at the University, had an article published in the June issue of Pmla, a magazine of the Modern Languages association of America.

The article written in French traced the influence of Pierre Bayle's works on the French philosopher, Voltaire, before he wrote his famous "Letters of Philosophy." Both French and English writers claim the influence upon the thought of the great writer and in his article Professor Haxo attempts to show the influence Bayle had upon Voltaire's later works.

Printing only articles of research value, the magazine has become one of the leading publications of its kind throughout the United States and has subscribers in America and Europe. Professor Haxo based his research on an edition of Bayle's works in the library at the University.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Burnsdale (Mary Swanston) announced the birth of a son April 22 at their home in Portland, N. D.
