Memorial Service Honors 147 Graduates of University

A solemn note was added to 1946 University Homecoming events when memorial services were held for the 147 UND graduates who gave their lives in the service of their country in World War II.

Brig. Gen. C. F. Schilt, marine corps medal of honor winner, was the principal speaker at the service. "With moral courage and the spirit of cooperation," he said, "America must lead the way to world peace."

The marine corps officer asked the audience for an "offensive for peace," which is far harder than one for war. Because privation and strife are still widespread, he said, Americans must exert themselves to preserve the peace.

WEST SPEAKS

Gen. Schilt was introduced by President John C. West, who quoted Lincoln's Gettysburg address. After Gen. Schilt's speech, President West introduced Gov. Fred G. Aandahl.

Gov. Aandahl pointed out that the service honored "those from the University who died that ideals might live." He quoted Dr. Richard Beck's poem in memory of the war dead.

RECEIVE AWARDS

After the governor's speech, Alumni Director Lloyd Stone read the honor roll, while the next-of-kin received memorial awards from the University on behalf of the World War II dead. Members of Blue Key Service fraternity and Kappa Sigma social fraternity ushered and presented the memorial awards.

Under the direction of John E. Howard, the University band played "Abide With Me" and the national anthem. At the close of the program Jerry Stenehjelm, Minot, N. D., played taps. Rev. Maxwell Brown gave the invocation and Rev. Fr. William McNamie the benediction.

SIoux THRASHED

There was little joy for University supporters among the 8,000 who saw the Homecoming football battle between the Sioux and N. D. A. C. Bison, the latter winning, 31-0, to crush completely U. N. D. hopes for a big finish to the first full-scale postwar Homecoming celebration.

University students were cheered briefly during the halftime when Gov. Fred G. Aandahl crowned Queen Elaine (Patsy) McNeill, Minnewaukan, N. D., and Homecoming Chairman Ralph Maxwell awarded float and house decorations prizes.

Delta Gamma led sorority floats with first prize, while Delta Zeta's ship sailed away with second place. Gamma Phi Beta placed third. Delta Tau Delta's railroad train steamed into first place for fraternity floats, while Theta Chi's live cow took second place honors. The Sigma Chi float earned third place.

DELTA ZETA WINS

Maxwell presented Delta Zeta with first-place trophy in the sorority house decorations, giving the Delta Zetas two awards. Delta Delta Delta and Pi Beta Phi placed second and third, respectively. Sigma Alpha Epsilon won fraternity first place with its statue of liberty, while Sigma Chi's equation totaled second-place honors. Kappa Sigma earned third place with a pipe of peace.

PARADE SUCCESSFUL

The Homecoming parade Saturday morning measured up to pre-war standards with 19 floats, seven bands, the queen and attendants and visiting dignitaries. Shortages of materials was evident in the scantiness of sorority girl's costumes. Taking 20 minutes to pass, the parade measured five blocks long.

Dr. R. E. Leigh presided at the alumni luncheon in Epworth hall. He introduced the speakers, President West, Gov. Aandahl and John Hancock, prominent alumnus. West greeted alumni and introduced several guests. Hancock asked alumni to back the Memorial student union fund drive.

Pointing out that large enrollments are here to stay, Gov. Aandahl asked University alumni to get behind action for larger facilities and new buildings. The Homecoming committee with the queen and her attendants were presented.

Veteran History Head Dies

Death removed a second University of North Dakota faculty veteran in 1946 when Dr. Clarence Perkins, head of the history department, died October 13 in a Grand Forks hospital, where he had been a patient less than a week.

Dr. Perkins had been ill since March of this year but continued his teaching duties until October 7, when he was stricken. Funeral services were held in St. Paul's Episcopal church here October 15 and burial was in Memorial Park cemetery.

IS SECOND LOSS

The loss of Dr. Perkins was the University's second faculty setback within the space of a few weeks, Dean Emeritus E. F. Chandler of the college of engineering having died late in August.

Born August 17, 1878 in Syracuse, N. Y., Dr. Perkins graduated from Syracuse university with a B. A. degree in 1901. He received an M. A. degree from Harvard university in 1904 and a Ph. D. from that school in 1908.

Meanwhile, Dr. Perkins had studied in London and Paris in 1906-07, and traveled and did re-

Bison Rout Sioux, 31-0, In Homecoming Tragedy

More than 8,000 fans who packed Memorial stadium October 19 to watch the University Sioux and the N. D. A. C. Bison tangle in their traditional football battle, highlight of the 1946 Homecoming celebration here, saw their favorites absorb one of the worst setbacks in a long history of gridiron competition with the downstate rival.

The Bison, definitely "up" as much as the Sioux were "down" all afternoon, trampled the Glenn Jarrett squad, 31-0, scoring twice in the first quarter, twice in the second and once in the fourth.

The Sioux, tasting defeat for the first time this season after five straight victories, threatened only once, late in the second half. A fumble cut short the rally on the Bison 17.

Previously this fall, the Sioux had defeated Bemidji Teachers, St. Thomas, Luther college, Augustana and University of South Dakota. The last two foes were North Central conference rivals.

By defeating the Sioux, the A. C. gained undisputed possession of the conference lead and knocked the Sioux from a first-place tie down into the runner-up spot.

Burtness Recalls U Grid Captaincy

Prominent at the Alumni association Homecoming luncheon was O. B. Burtness, eminent Grand Forks attorney and one of the association's directors. Reminiscing with friends, Burtness recalled that just 40 years ago, he was captain of the University football team. Burtness is active in community and state affairs and a friend mentioned that he looks as though "he could still play a good game of football."

VETERAN BUSINESS MANAGER SERVES UND 40 YEARS

While the University, walls bulging from an all-time record enrollment of more than 2,600 students, battles problems ranging from GI enrollments and housing for GI families to lack of classroom buildings, one of the state's real veteran administrators continues to shoulder his accustomed huge job, devoting every minute and every effort to keeping the cogs turning in this most difficult of school years.

Back in 1903, this man, J. W. Wilkerson, came to U.N.D. as a student instructor. Since then, he has seen thousands of students come and go, has helped countless hundreds of them with personal and financial problems.

Now in his fortieth year as University business manager, he is shouldering heavier burdens but giving even more of his time and energy to making the state's biggest and best institution of higher education continue on its accustomed high plane.

Wilkerson, assistant to the secretary-registrar from 1904 to 1906, was appointed business manager in the latter year. He received a certified public accountant's certificate in 1919 by examination before the state board of accountancy. Later, he was a member of that same board, serving on it from 1925 to 1938.

HELD LODGE POSITION

He is a past master of the Masonic lodge and a former president of the Grand Forks Country club. From 1921 to 1940, Mr. Wilkerson was a member of the board of directors of the Grand Forks Chamber of Commerce and was president of the board in 1931.

While his service on the University administrative staff is chiefly known through his work as business manager, "Jim" has handled added duties through the years as member of the faculty committee on athletics and chairman of the student loan fund committee.

HEADED EARLY "CHEST"

Civic minded and always available to devote time and energy to worthwhile projects outside the immediate sphere of the University itself, Wilkerson was one of the first Grand Forks Community Chest presidents, serving in 1925-26.

But all work and no play . . . etc., might leave an idle hour somewhere along the way. Wilkerson, serving on the University's athletic committee, brings not only the wisdom of years of administrative work to that job. He was—and still is—rated as one of the best tennis players ever appearing on Northwest courts. He was state singles champion in 1920 and held the state doubles title for six years, paired with Elmer Elton and Phil Loughlin.

TOUGH ON LINKS

When the court game became too strenuous for advancing years, he turned to golf and for many years rated among the state's better performers. Scores of University students back in the '30s can recall having played a friendly round over the University course

Marriages

JOAN MELICHER, class of 1946, of Kulm, N. D., married Lt. Norval Magnusson of Gardar, N. D. Lt. Magnusson is attending the University this year.

RUTH OLSON, class of 1946, and DALLACE E. PARISEAU of St. Thomas, N. D., were married September 28. The bride is from Parshall, N. D. Pariseau is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and served overseas with the army.

GLADYS JANE ARVESON, class of 1938, formerly of Grand Forks, was married to Beckom Underwood Eneed of Montgomery, Ala. The bride is a member of the faculty at the Mid-Pacific institute, Honolulu.

JOHN CAMERON SIM, class of 1932 and former acting head of the University journalism department, and Mary Lou Hanson of Madison, Wis., were married in the Wisconsin city in September. Mr. Sim, after four years service in the army, is editor and co-publisher of the East Grand Forks, Minn., Record.

ELAINE REED ORNES, class of 1945, formerly of Fargo, N. D., and Robert Delaplaine Fickhardt of Circleville, O., were married September 3 in Dayton, O. They are at home in Oxford, O.

JEAN SNOWFIELD, class of 1946, and Gordon D. Stripling of Birmingham, Ala., were married July 26 in Kansas City. The bride is from Langdon, N. D. The couple will reside in Houston, Tex.

ROSEMARY M. BRUNDIN, class of 1945, and Walter H. Gomer of Yakima, Wash., were married in Grand Forks in August.

Col. Check New ROTC Head

Lt. Col. G. J. Check of Williston took over his duties as professor of military science and tactics at the University three weeks after returning from Tokyo, where he served as executive officer of the prosecution division at General MacArthur's headquarters.

The new ROTC commander attended the University from 1931 to 1935 and in 1937 received a law degree from George Washington University, Washington, D. C. In 1938 he received his master of law degree from Washington College of Law.

ARMY SERVICE

He entered the army in January, 1941, from the soil conservation service in Washington, and served at a number of camps in the United States and on the war department general staff at Washington before going to middle Pacific theater headquarters in Hawaii. Later he became assistant chief of staff for the replacement training command in the Pacific.

with the business manager, a tough competitor. This year of 1946-47 finds all hands pitching in to overcome handicaps brought on by war shortages and a huge peacetime influx of students. No one is working harder to solve the numerous problems, to keep the "works" running smoothly, than the slight, greying gentleman who for 40 years has carried the title: "University Business Manager."

He received the bronze star for meritorious service with the replacement training command for the period from October 24, 1944, to September 2, 1945. More than 150,000 troops were trained by the command during that period for Pacific commands.

PARENTS AT MINOT Lt. Col. Check's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Check live in Minot. Two of his brothers, both fliers, were lost in the war. One, Capt. Raymond J. Check, AAF who was shot down over Europe, was a 1937 graduate of the University. The other, Lt. Cmdr. Leonard J., was a navy squadron commander who has been missing since 1945 from a flight over Formosa.

Mrs. Check and their 4-year-old daughter are residing in Williston until living quarters can be found in Grand Forks.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Peterson announce the birth of a son, Bruce Gordon, September 2. The Petersons, who reside in East Lansing, Mich., have another son, David Alan, 3½ years old. Mr. Peterson, Beta Theta Pi, was graduated in '42, and Mrs. Peterson was the former Dorothy Schwenn, ex '42.

News Briefs of University Alumni

1900 - 1909

F. Thordarson, '03, with his wife and son made his first visit to UND this summer, since 1913 when he moved to Corvallis, Ore., where he is engaged in the real estate business.

Herbert Goodall, class of '05, of Long Beach, Calif., plans to revisit the University about commencement time in the spring. He recalled that he was a room mate of John Hancock in 1898-99, in the "prep" building, now known as Macnie hall, and in 1899-1900 in the then newly completed Budge hall.

1910 - 1919

Iver O. Musgjerd, who received his B. A. degree in '17, has been employed in the foreign service department of the National City Bank of New York since his graduation. He was stationed at branches in Russian, Chinese and Japanese cities until just before the war. On Dec. 7, 1941, he sailed for the Orient, but the ship was turned around when news came of the outbreak of war. He is now in Hongkong.

J. A. Hussey, 1916, visited the campus on September 13. He is assistant superintendent of the maintenance department of the J & H Steel Works in Aliquippa, Pa.

Lloyd D. Witter, 1917, was recently elected president of the Crescent Tool company of Cincinnati, Ohio. Witter came to Cincinnati several years ago as treasurer and comptroller of the War Emergency Pipelines, Inc., and previous to that had owned and operated a group of nine creameries in Texas and Louisiana.

Mrs. Margaret Wiesenberg (Margaret Lampert), class of '13, with her husband, founded the Christian Witness to Israel Mission in 1921. Since 1941 when her husband died, she has published the monthly "Witness" alone, in New York city.

1920 - 1929

Dorothy M. Connelly, '27, was married this summer to Claude W. James of Kenmare, N. D., and will make their home in that city.

Gladys Boen, who received her B. S. degree in '26 and M. A. in '32 is a member of the English department faculty at Concordia college, Moorhead, Minn.

Commander Frank A. Klaveness, class of '29, is naval attache in the American legation at Helsinki, Finland.

Mrs. Arnold Rosaaen (Karleen Home), class of '27, now lives at Scranton, Penn., where her husband is city librarian. They have one child, a daughter. Mrs. Rosaaen was formerly from Bowman, N. D.

Ronald T. Taillon, '25, is employed in Chicago with the Butler Brothers firm. He reported that his Alumni Review reached him there by way of Fort Eustis, Va., where he was stationed in the army. Mrs. Taillon (Josephine R. Clark) received her B. S. degree here in '27.

Mrs. Helen Collins Sogard, '32, moved to Great Falls, Mont., recently, where her husband purchased an insurance agency. She has two children, a boy and a girl.

Robert Ryan, '34, of Forest Hills, N. Y., has a new position as head of advertising and sales promotion for Rex Cole, a home appliance firm in Long Island, N. Y. He wrote that he would soon be remarried, and that he had seen Joe Mader, former head of the journalism department here, whose wife was Verona R. Murphy, '25, and Gil Stewart, '35, in Washington, D. C.

Lt. Solveig C. Peterson, B. A. '38, B. S. '41, is army dietitian at Brooke General hospital, Fort Sam Houston, Tex., after having served 18 months overseas. She is one of very few dietitians to be awarded the bronze star for working under shell fire. She wears the Philippine liberation ribbon, with two battle stars; the bronze star, victory ribbon, Asiatic-Pacific ribbon, meritorious unit citation and American theater ribbon.

Mrs. James K. Blunt (Lucille Hall), a former student lives in Bismarck. She was a member of Delta Gamma sorority while attending the University here. After leaving North Dakota she attended George Washington university in Washington, D. C.

Olive R. Peterson, class of 1932, has been in government service for eleven years and at present is administrative assistant and secretary to the regional director of the war assets administration in Seattle, Wash.

Harry Spangler, B. S. '31, M. A. '33, is now connected with Baldwin-Wallace Conservatory of Music at Berea, Ohio. Mrs. Spangler is the former Ethel Seaman, Grand Forks.

Paul Yoder, '30, is associated with the Neil A. Kjos Music Co., in Chicago.

Major Henry B. Frank, '31 now is commanding a battalion in the 325th infantry at Fort Bragg, N. C. He has been with the airborne for four years, serving with the 82nd airborne division through most of the war.
