Fred S. Duggan, B. A., 1899, LL. B. 1903, is professor of law at Gonzaga university in Spokane, Wash. He received his LL. M. from Gonzaga in 1917. After practicing law in Grand Forks for several years, he moved his practice to Spokane in 1914. He has retired from active practice and now handles the subjects of contracts, trial practice and sales at Gonzaga, which has more than 350 law students. He served several years as senator from Spokane in the Washington state senate.

Engineers To Honor 3

Professional engineering degrees have been recommended by the University of North Dakota for three outstanding graduates of the college of engineering here at commencement exercises in June.

Dean L. C. Harrington of the college made the announcement. Recommended to the board of higher education for the degrees were Bruce Johnson, Bismarck, acting chief of the bureau of reclamation's Missouri-Souris district; Harry C. Knudson, former North Dakota engineer, now doing research in

Alumni Groups Plan Reunions

University of North Dakota Alumni clubs throughout the nation are making plans for their annual Founders' Day banquets and meetings in February.

The Minneapolis-St. Paul club will hold its dinner February 21 in the Solarium room of the Curtis hotel. Dorothy Swenson, 1948, is in charge of arrangements. Her address is 5000 Russell ave., South, Minneapolis.

Stanley Walsh, 1939, is in charge of the San Francisco Founders' Day banquet to be held February 22 at 7 p. m. in the Green room of the Hotel St. Francis. Lloyd Stone, University alumni director, will be the main speaker. Alumni and friends planning to attend are asked to make reservations with Walsh, Russ Building, San Francisco.

Stone will also speak at the Los Angeles Founders' Day banquet, February 19.

History Professor Honored

A University of North Dakota history professor, Robert L. Kirkpatrick, won't be handling his regular work next fall.

Instead, he'll be at Oxford university in England, a Rhodes scholar. Kirkpatrick won the honor last fall in eliminations at Spokane, Wash., after being selected as one of the two North Dakota winners. The other winner here, who also tried out at Spokane, was Harold Pollman, a law student.

While at Oxford, Kirkpatrick plans to study the expansion of nations, both past and present. He will not spend all his time, however, at the ancient English school. During vacation periods he hopes to visit European

The Bismarck-Mandan Alumni club will have its annual Founders' Day banquet February 22 at the Patterson hotel in Bismarck. Toastmaster will be William Moeller, 1928, and the main speaker will be Judge James Morris.

Duane Davis, 1932, is in charge of arrangements and reservations should be made with him at the Davis Chevrolet Co. in Bismarck. All alumni and friends of the University in that area are invited to attend.

The New York Alumni club will have a Founders' Day Banquet February 23 at 7:30 p. m. at the Fifth Avenue hotel, 24 Fifth avenue, New York. Glenn G. Geiger, 1948, is in charge of arrangements.

President of the group is Alvin Kruchten, 1941. Reservations should be made with Glenn Geiger at 527 Fifth ave., New England Mutual Life Insurance Co., New York 17, and all alumni and friends of the University in that area are invited to attend.

Reservations may also be made by contacting Miss Catherine Colton, 14 Washington place, Apt. 11-E, New York City (Phone Spring 7-3700). All alumni in the New York area are invited.

The Washington, D. C., Alumni club has scheduled a meeting for the first part of March. As soon as the date and more information is available, alumni in that area will be notified.

In charge of arrangements are Mrs. Louise Page Gillett, 1925, president of the club; Helen Reis Fredlund, 1936; Lyle Webster, 1926; and Lt. Colonel Donn Hart, 1935.

The Alumni club of Hawaii will hold its Founders' Day dinner and meeting in Honolulu, Saturday night, February 19, at the Lau Yee Chai restaurant. A cocktail hour is planned for 7 to 8 p. m. and the dinner will follow. Reservations may be made with Joyce O. Roberts, P. O. box 499, Honolulu.

Club President

Californians Plan Meeting

The Southern California Alumni club (Los Angeles) will meet for a Founders' Day banquet Saturday evening February 19. The meeting will be in the Wedgewood Room of Carl's restaurant on Vernon and Crenshaw avenue in Los Angeles, which is a central location for the metropolitan Los Angeles area. A record turnout of the group is anticipated by the club president, Lloyd C. Nelson, 1932.

Lloyd Stone, University Alumni director, will speak at the banquet. All alumni or friends of the University who desire to attend the Founders' Day Banquet are asked to contact Jack Withers, 1934, at 1329 Justin avenue, Glendale, Calif. (telephone Citrus 3-5281.)

BAND TO PLAY

During its annual spring tour the University of North Dakota band will play a concert for the North Sentral music educators conference at Davenport, Ia., March 18 to 25, according to Director John E. Howard. Approximately 100 band members will make the trip, Howard said. A smaller unit of the band will give concerts in Minneapolis and other Minnesota cities following the engagement at Davenport.

Hockey, Fight Teams Prosper

Paced by sparkling performances by the hockey and boxing squads the University's athletic teams have been showing their home fans a series of victorious and highly satisfactory events.

Coach Don Norman's Sioux skaters are rapidly regaining their last-season prestige, when they ranked among the best college hockey teams in the nation. They started slowly, absorbing some bad lacings from Colorado college, University of Michigan and University of Saskatchewan.

The revival started in the second game against Saskatchewan here. The Canadians had blistered the Sioux the night previous, 12-4, but were held to a 3-3 draw in a sensational game the next night.

Colorado came in for a return two-game series and left with two defeats. There was a brief letdown a week later when the Sioux lost to Michigan Tech, 6-3, at Houghton, Mich., but there were extenuating circumstances in that one. The game was played during a warm spell and there was barely enough ice to cover the ground. What there was was churned into a muddy,

Publish Song Book

For the first time in its long history, the University of North Dakota is having all its songs published in one volume.

A complete collection, including Alma Mater, It's For You, Stand Up and Cheer, Fight on, Sioux, The Cannibal King and others is being printed in booklet form. Historical notes on the authors and composers give interesting background on the songs. The booklet has been edited by Prof. Hywel C. Rowland of the music department.

Copies are available for 35 cents each or three for $1. Orders may be sent to the University Bookstore, University Station, Grand Forks, N. D.

slushy substance unfit for any kind of hockey.

The weather was so unwinter-like, in fact, that the second game scheduled there had to be canceled.

BEAT CROOKSTON

That left the Sioux with a long stretch of idle time and they needed competition before running into the University of Minnesota's flashy sextet. So they booked an exhibition with the Crookston team of the States-Dominion league and knocked off the rust to win easily, 12-4.

The largest crowds ever to see hockey games here packed the winter sports building for the Gopher series, January 21 and 22. There were 3,000 on hand the first night and they saw the Sioux come from behind twice and finally win, 4-3, in overtime.

SWEEP SERIES

For the final night, an estimated 3,500 crammed their way into the arena and the Sioux turned in their best work of the season. They built up a 6-1 lead early in the third period and won, 6-4, as the Gophers staged a great comeback in the waning minutes.

Temperatures which were far below zero failed to deter the hockey-mad fans of this vicinity in either game.

Norman takes his squad to the Twin Cities for a return two-game series with the Gophers, who, until they ran into the Sioux here, had not been defeated by a college team this season.

Coach John Quaday of the boxing team has apparently built up a winner this season and the sluggers, too, are packing them in. The armory, ancient and creaking, was jammed for the first two home appearances of the Sioux punchers and fans saw two great nights of action as the Sioux scored team victories over Wahpeton and Devils Lake golden glovers.

Things have not been going too well, however, for Coach Harold Cunningham's luckless basketball forces and the Sioux may finish even lower in the conference than they did last year.

At this writing, they were next to last with only one win in four conference games, trailed only by South Dakota State, which had a 0-4 mark.

The Sioux defeated Morning-side for their only loop win to date and lost to Iowa Teachers, Augustana and University of South Dakota.

As usual, the championship again appears headed for Iowa Teachers, perennial title-holder in both football and basketball. However, despite offering no threat to the apparent champions, the Sioux still have their annual four-game series coming up with the Bison of NDAC and victories in those struggles will leave fans around here happy.

University Alumni News Briefs

Marjorie Jewett Bell, above, Class of 1921, has written and edited a well-received work, "An American Engineer in Afghanistan," published by the University of Minnesota press. The book is a compilation of the notes of A. C. Jewett, who went to Afghanistan in 1911. He was only the third American to be allowed to enter the country. Miss Jewett's account of his eight years (1911-1919) has been called by book critics some of the most readable and dryly humorous prose to appear in a long time.

Irene L. Johnson, 1922, of Gilby, N. D., is teaching home economics in a South St. Paul high school.

Mrs. J. Halsted Murray (Marie Elvick) 1925, lives in Burlington, Iowa, where her husband is a pediatrician. They have four daughters—Marlis, Shirleen, Helen and Jeannette. Marlis will enter college in 1949.

Mrs. Harley E. King, (Gay Gidley) 1914, lives in Minot, N. D. She graduated from the piano department at Wesley College in 1921, and is now president of the N. D. Federation of Music Clubs.

Correction: Mr. and Mrs. Louis Matetich (Dorothy Breshnahan, 1943), Stockholm, Sweden, are the parents of a daughter, not a son, as previously announced.

Lt. Col Donn Hart, 1935, visited the campus during the Christmas holidays. He is stationed at U.S. marine corps headquarters, Washington, D. C.

Laura Christianson, 1932, spent her vacation in Minnesota in August; went to San Francisco in September in connection with her confidential secretarial position and completed her vacation by spending Christmas with her mother at Willmar, Minn.

Donald J. Lenarz, 1934, has been employed by Associated Industries of Minneapolis, Minn. since getting out of the army air force in July, 1945. His wife is the former Edith Brown, 1934, and they have two girls, Shelle, 7, and Donna, 6. Don works in the field of labor relations.

Albert W. Yoder, 1925, died December 22. He lived in Seattle, where he was an accountant. His wife survives him.

Dr. John D. Bonzer, 1940, recently became associated in the practice of internal medicine with Dr. Raymond Allumbaugh, 612 Miner Building, Eugene, Ore. He formerly was at the Medical Center, Jersey City, N. J.

Marvin H. Beiseker, 1916, recently informed the Alumni Office that he is living at 113 Rennell St., Bridgeport 4, Conn. He is a law school graduate.

Franklin T. Thordarson, 1902-03, died December 3, 1948, at Corvallis, Ore. He was a graduate of Gustavus Adolphus college. While at UND, he worked with Dean V. P. Squires on formulating a Bible study for high schools in the state. He is survived by a daughter and a son.

Glenn R. Barth, 1949, Bismarck, and Mary E. McCurdy, 1949, Backoo, N. D. were married January 14. They live in Bismarck where Glenn is employed at Richmond's Bootery.

Lyle V. Mayer, 1938, Grand Forks, and Charlotte Bierce, Winona, Minn., were married December 23. Both are instructors in speech at the University of Maryland and are at home in College Park, Md. Mr. Mayer received his master's degree from Stanford university.

Theodore H. Raschick, 1931, has been appointed assistant superintendent of mails at the Grand Forks, N. D. postoffice.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Collins (Jean Abbott, 1947) Minot, N. D., are living in Denver, where Mr. Collins is taking his senior year at the University of Denver. They have an infant daughter, Cathy Jean.

Vernon Q. Smith, 1931, is division manager of Shields, Harper & Co. at their newest store at 5107 Broadway, Oakland, Calif. He formerly was with the company in Los Angeles.

Guy L. Elken, 1910, Mayville, N. D., died December 31, 1948, after suffering a stroke. He was graduated from Harvard in 1915 and farmed extensively near Broadview, Mont., until 1915 when he returned to Mayville. A former state legislator, Mr. Elken had been director and vice president of the Goose River bank for 25 years and had been manager of the Northwest Land and Mortgage company and other farm companies. Survivors include his wife, two sons and a daughter.

Mary Jean Fitzsimmons, 1948, and Arthur Brazda, both of Mandan, N. D., were married December 28. They reside in Bozeman, Mont., where Mr. Brazda is a student at Montana State college.

Dr. John S. Lundy, 1917, was elected unanimously by the board of directors of the American Society of Anesthesiologists to receive the distinguished service award of that group. Elements considered in making the award were Dr. Lundy's contribution to anesthesia in introducing an intravenous anesthetic; his comprehensive textbook, timely because of the emergency created by World War II; the high caliber of his pupils scattered throughout the world; and the credit accruing to the Speciality of Anesthesiology from his contact with many and varied surgical groups. At the commencement last June, Dr. Lundy received the honorary degree of doctor of science.

Several UND law graduates have taken public office in North Dakota.

Installed as states attorneys were Albert Bakken, 1948, Steele county; Douglas Heen, 1948, Ramsey county; Thomas Roney, 1947, Foster county; Robert Fiedler, 1948, Sioux county; George Longmire, 1947, Grand Forks county; Ralph Maxwell, 1947, Rolette county.

Sander Leroy Johnson, 1941, is practicing law in Los Angeles, Calif., with the firm of Morrow & Trippet. After graduation from UND, he served 3½ years in the army and then completed his law course at Harvard.

Franklin J. Lunding, 1928, has been named a director of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago for a three-year term and designated deputy chairman for 1949. He is president of the Jewel Tea Co., Barrington, Ill.

Joe L. Bourne, 1932, lives in Salem, Ore., where he has purchased a business building and established his own business. He left the army in 1946 after attaining the rank of Colonel.

Helen Tulloch, 1946, Hankinson, N. D., and William Avery, Stephen, Minn., were married November 27, 1948. Helen formerly taught at Stephen and they are living at Ames, Iowa, where Mr. Avery has attended State college.

Joan Blaisdell, 1948, Minot, N. D., and Theodore C. Hooker, Superior, Wis., were married December 26, 1948. Joan is teaching in the Mazon, Ill., high school and they will make their home in Chicago while the bridegroom finishes his medical course at the University of Chicago. After July 1, they will live in San Jose, Calif., while he interns at Santa Clara county hospital.

Marian L. Hewitt, 1947, and Paul Gislason, 1948, both of Grand Forks, were married Dec. 29. They are living in Baltimore, Md., while Paul completes his medical education and Marian is a dietician in the University hospital there.

Saralee Meblin, 1944, Grand Forks, and Dr. Arthur L. Myers, San Francisco, were married January 16. They are living in San Francisco where the bridegroom is senior resident in medicine at the Mount Zion hospital. Saralee is a medical social worker with the hospital.

Pearl I. Young, 1919, is the author of an article in the November, 1948, issue of the American Journal of Physics entitled "The Responsibility of the Teacher of College Physics for the Student's Facility in American Prose." Miss Young is at Pennsylvania State college, Pottsville, Pa.

Mrs. Wm. W. Norton (Eleanor Short, 1919), Flint Mich., recently sent a contribution to match that made by her father, Augusta Short, to the University Maintenance Fund during the years when the governor vetoed the appropriation for the University.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Douglas (Neva Bostewick), above, both of the class of 1896, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary December 28. Mr. Douglas is vice president of the Carnation company and was awarded an honorary LLD degree from UND in 1933. They live in Los Angeles.

Many Students Are 'Farmers'

A fifth of the 2,790 students attending the University of North Dakota listed farming as the occupation of their parents. Other parental occupations mentioned were housewife, 159; retired, 196; merchandising, 145; and railroading, 143.

There were 552 students who listed farming as the occupation of their parents. Another 284 students failed to give their parent's employment.

Knudson was graduated in 1921. Svore and Johnson were graduated in 1934. Knudson formerly lived in LaMoure and Devils Lake. Johnson has lived in Hillsboro and Killdeer, while Svore is originally from Alexander.

The professional degree is awarded in recognition of successful practice in engineering.

U Grad Helps Prison 'Brains' Win Freedom

A University of North Dakota graduate, William V. O'Connor, 1936, has been credited with an assist in helping the "Brains of Alcatraz" win release from that rocky federal prison.

"The Brains," Cecil Wright, secured his release recently as a result of legal knowledge he learned during his incarceration. O'Connor had learned of his imprisonment and, working through the United States attorney general's office, helped to facilitate Wright's release.

O'Connor, formerly of Grand Forks, is now a Los Angeles attorney. He is the nephew of Federal Judge J. F. T. O'Connor of Los Angeles, a 1907 University graduate nationally known for government and legal work.

Prof. Gillette Completing Research Paper

G. M. Gillette, professor of sociology and research at the University is completing his research on regionalism.

One paper, "Development Aspects of Regionalism," has just appeared in one of the leading sociological journals, "Social Forces." An extended excerpt from this is given first place in "Selected Items" of the Bureau of Urban Research, Princeton university.

Another paper entitled "Crop Research as a Testing Field for Geo-Cultural Regionalism" is to appear in the March issue of "Rural Sociology," organ of the American Rural Sociological Society.

Prince and Buzz Johnson, UND hockey stars last year, both made the American amateur team that is touring Europe this year. They sailed for Sweden January 6 and will return to the States in April. They were the only skaters from the midwest to make the squad.

Chemical Group Receives Charter From National

The arrival of the American Chemical Society charter for the campus chapter has been announced by Prof. Grant W. Smith, head of the UND chemistry department and adviser of the chapter. It was presented at the last meeting of the group.

The charter is dated January 17 and is signed by Lindus C. Pauling, national president of the society. Pauling is very outstanding in the field and has received many awards for his work in pure chemistry, Smith said. Alden Emery, national executive, also signed the charter.

There are no membership restrictions in the local chapter of the Student Affiliate of the American Chemical Society, but only chemistry majors may belong to the national chapter, Smith added.

Once Employe Of U Succumbs

Charles C. Judge, an employee of the University for almost 30 years, died December 22 at the home of his son, Emmet, in Asheville, North Carolina, where he had been living since his retirement in late 1947.

Born February 21, 1870, in Chester, Pennsylvania, Mr. Judge came to the Northwest in the early 1900's when his family moved to Mankato. In 1909 he married Lillian Johnson of Markesan, Wisconsin. One year later they moved to Grafton where they remained until coming to the University in 1918.

Survivors include another son, James of Bismarck; a daughter, Mrs. J. E. Diel of Detroit, Mich., and four sisters, Mrs. Agnes V. Jones, Mrs. L. P. McEvers and Mrs. F. D. Stone, all of St. Paul, and Mrs. M. Vilsmeier of Brogan, Ore.
