

2021

to the towns left without saying goodbye

Christopher Soto

Follow this and additional works at: <https://commons.und.edu/floodwall-magazine>

Part of the Fiction Commons, Nonfiction Commons, Photography Commons, and the Poetry Commons

Network

Logo

Recommended Citation

Soto, Christopher (2021) "to the towns left without saying goodbye," Floodwall Magazine: Vol. 1 : Iss. 4 , Article 9.

Available at: <https://commons.und.edu/floodwall-magazine/vol1/iss4/9>

This Poetry is brought to you for free and open access by UND Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Floodwall Magazine by an authorized editor of UND Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact und.common@library.und.edu.

to the towns left without saying goodbye

there are boxes in the garage that contain too much weight for one to carry on a long journey. rummage through their materials, some items will be familiar, some will not. please be patient when passing the unknown. many stories have been shared between us but, even in these boxes, there is still much unsaid; about how i wanted to give you everything and take nothing.

About Christopher Soto

Christopher Soto is a queer Latino poet from Southern California. He published his first chapbook How to Eat Glass with Still Life Press in 2012. He is currently an MFA candidate in Poetry at NYU.