ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The ceremonies today will bring to nearly 65,000 the number of degrees granted since 1889. The UND Alumni Association traces its history to a meeting that year of the eight members of UND's first commencement class. Today the Association, an independent, non-profit corporation, serves alumni through a variety of programs. It maintains address records of graduates and former students, publishes the monthly Alumni Review (mailed free to all alumni) sponsors a travel program, hosts on and off campus events, and promotes and coordinates private gifts to its affiliated University of North Dakota Foundation. Headquarters are located on campus in the J. Lloyd Stone Alumni Center. You can write to the Association at Box 8157 University Station, Grand Forks, ND 58202, or call at 701/777-2611.

This program was designed by the UND Office of University Relations. David H. Vorland, Coordinator of Commencements; Rita C. Monson, Associate Coordinator. The awarding of degrees and academic distinctions listed in this program is contingent upon successful completion of the various requirements. UND is an equal opportunity institution (for additional information on Equal Opportunity policies and procedures, see UND catalogs and other major printed pieces).

ALMA MATER

*Hail to thee, O Alma Mater!
Hail to thee with heart and tongue!
Pride we feel and love yet greater,
While we raise our grateful song.
Home of lofty thought and learning,
Beacon O'er our western land,
Shrine whence still the ever burning
Torch is passed from hand to hand.*

RECESSIONAL

James P. Shannon

Dr. Shannon was named Vice President and Director of the General Mills Foundation August 1, 1980. The Foundation, established in 1954, makes grants to tax-exempt organizations in the areas of education, social service and health, cultural and civic affairs.

Shannon received a B.A. (classics) degree from the College of St. Thomas (St. Paul) in 1941, an M.A. (English) from the University of Minnesota in 1951, a Ph.D. (history) from Yale University in 1955 and a J.D. (law) degree from the University of New Mexico in 1973.

He was a priest of the Archdiocese of St. Paul-Minneapolis from 1946 to 1969, was Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of St. Paul-Minneapolis from 1965 to 1969, President of the College of St. Thomas from 1956 to 1966, Vice President of St. John's College in Santa Fe, New Mexico, 1969-1970, and served as an attorney in Santa Fe from 1973 to 1974. He served as Executive Director of the Minneapolis Foundation from 1974 to 1978, and a Program Associate of the General Service Foundation (St. Paul) from 1978 to 1980. Since 1970 he has been a columnist for the Minneapolis Star and Tribune.

THE UNIVERSITY MARSHALS

A tradition since the early years of the University of North Dakota, the University Marshals are the honorary marshals and ushers for commencement exercises. The University Marshals are selected from the junior class, primarily on the basis of academic excellence.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic costumes are related to two garments, a type of robe and a hood or head covering, worn in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries for warmth in unheated buildings. Special costumes to distinguish academic persons were first used in the fourteenth century at Oxford and Cambridge. Differences among such costumes came to symbolize two things: an academic degree and the institution which awarded it.

Academic garb has been worn in the United States since colonial times. In 1895 an Intercollegiate Code was adopted to encourage standard designs and usage.

An academic costume consists of three items: the gown, the hood, and the Oxford cap or mortar board. Gowns are easily distinguished by their sleeves. Bachelors' gowns have long, pointed sleeves. Sleeves of a master's gown are oblong panels reaching nearly to the hem of the gown with a slit at the elbow through which the wearer extends an arm. A doctor's gown has full and bellshaped sleeves which carry three horizontal bars; it also has a velvet panel extending around the neck and down to the front of the hem. The velvet trim is usually black, but may be of the color associated with the degree.

Hoods for bachelors and masters degrees are similar, although hoods for bachelors degrees are not normally used. A doctor's hood is four feet long, and is trimmed with a five-inch velvet border. The color of the trim of a hood identifies the wearer's degree; that of the lining, the institution which conferred the degree.

In academic circles, the mace of the University president symbolizes acceptance of leadership. The mace or heavy staff, in earlier days, was borne by or carried before a magistrate or other dignitary as an ensign of his authority. A mace is placed as the symbol of royal authority on the treasury table in the British House of Commons at the opening of each session and removed at its close.

Hoods given by the University of North Dakota are lined in pink with a green chevron.

The cap is essentially the same for all degrees, except that doctors and university and college presidents may wear a gold tassel.

Colors of tassels associated with various degrees at the University of North Dakota are as follows:

University College	gray
College of Arts and Sciences	white
College of Business and Public Administration	drab (subdued orange)
Center for Aerospace Sciences	black and white
Center for Teaching and Learning	blue
School of Engineering and Mines	orange
College of Fine Arts	russet brown
College for Human Resources Development	silver
School of Law	purple
School of Medicine	green
College of Nursing	apricot
Graduate School	black

In the U.S. House of Representatives, it is a rather plain staff mounted in a marble pedestal at the right hand of the speaker.

At University of North Dakota commencements, the mace is carried by the grand marshal. The UND mace was made from the oak of Old Main, the University's first building.

SCHOOL OF LAW

DEAN W. JEREMY DAVIS

JURIS DOCTOR

The juris doctor degrees of the School of Law were presented at a separate commencement on May 14, 1988. The names were published in a program booklet distributed at the ceremony.

FOUR-YEAR HONORS PROGRAM

PAUL SCHWARTZ, HONORS COORDINATOR

The following students have met the objectives of the University of North Dakota's four-year HONORS PROGRAM, a program designed to broaden and enrich the undergraduate curriculum. They have passed sophomore and senior comprehensive examinations, and have been certified for graduation by the Honors Committee of the University. A substantial segment of their University training has been pursued in honor courses, tutorials and colloquia, and they have done independent research in their major fields of interest.
