

2021

After Pose

Abigail Petersen

Follow this and additional works at: <https://commons.und.edu/floodwall-magazine>

Part of the Fiction Commons, Nonfiction Commons, Photography Commons, and the Poetry Commons

Recommended Citation

Petersen, Abigail (2021) "After Pose," Floodwall Magazine: Vol. 2: Iss. 5, Article 19.
Available at: <https://commons.und.edu/floodwall-magazine/vol2/iss5/19>

This Poetry is brought to you for free and open access by UND Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Floodwall Magazine by an authorized editor of UND Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact und.common@library.und.edu.

After Pose

Abigail Petersen

How many of them fell?

Your beautiful babies dancing amongst the stars with glazed eyes
and aching bodies.
Who tore apart their physical self and remade them in their own image.

The first AIDS cases were reported in the United States in 1981. By December 31, 2000, 774,467 people had been diagnosed with AIDS and 448,060 of those people died. Of these cases, 79% were men and 61% were black or Hispanic.

How many of them fell, God?

How many listened to the rain
one too many times
and were punished for it?
Who were caught in the shadows like alley cats
in a mass exodus.

AIDS was most common amongst homosexual individuals. Socioeconomic factors associated with increased risk of contracting AIDS are homophobia, high rates of poverty and unemployment, and lack of access to health care.

How many of your children were abandoned?

Who found new mothers amongst the sea of disowned children, all looking for a home.

Save us.

Abigail Petersen is a criminal justice and sociology major at UND. She enjoys writing fiction and poetry. She draws most of her inspiration from the world around her, music, and her pets.