Why Is An Anniversary Important?

By Pres. G. W. Starcher

What is the significance of an anniversary observance?

All during our Anniversary Year the University shall be conscious of the need for a fresh look at what we are doing and for us to rededicate ourselves to new tasks that lie ahead. As the University moves ahead after 75 years of achievement, it is well for us to recall that "tradition looks forward as well as backward."

Through pioneer efforts beginning in 1883 a university education has become established as the rightful heritage of all in North Dakota. Now, at a time that is just as critical for the American educational tradition, we shall use our Anniversary as a time for recommitment of our energies and resources to the University's future.

If there is any clear clue to the University's tremendous strides up to the present, it may be seen in this ability to step aside from its work and service for a period of self-searching, and then, strengthened in its purpose and sure of its mission, going forth to even higher levels of accomplishment.

The 75th Anniversary program will be firmly grounded in the history, tradition and academic prestige of the institution. With the theme "Intelligence the basis of civilization" a serious program will be carried out in keeping with the significance of the founding of an institution which has pioneered in the development of a sound conception of higher education in North Dakota.

The Anniversary must draw together the honored traditions of the past and the hope-

U Plans Broad Program For 75th Anniversary

Dr. Arneberg Gives Trust Of $25,000

Dr. John G. Arneberg, who retired 27 years ago from the practice of medicine in Grand Forks, has created a $25,000 trust to "encourage and improve education in foreign languages" at the University.

He specified that he would prefer the trust to be used for further education in the German, Scandinavian and French languages and provide scholarships and awards for students "who have shown exceptional interest and proficiency in languages."

In addition to the scholarship, the trust provides that its income may be used to "furnish all or part of the travel expense of students of such foreign languages to permit them to visit the country or countries whose language they have studied."

Dr. Arneberg attended UND and received his doctor's degree from the University of Minnesota in 1905. He and Mrs. Arneberg, since his retirement in 1930, have made frequent trips abroad. In 1946 he was awarded the St. Olav Medal by King Haakon of Norway in recognition of his contribution to closer cultural relations between Norway and the United States. In addition to the trust, Dr. Arneberg has given volumes of valuable books to the University.

COACH HONORED

University of North Dakota baseball coach Harold (Pinky) Kraft has been named to "Who's Who in American Education."

DR. LOUIS G. GEIGER checks galley proofs for his new book, a history of the University's first 75 years. (See story on page five.)

12-Member Group Plans '58 Activities

The Anniversary Steering Committee is composed of 12 members, representing the University faculty and staff, alumni and students. John E. Howard, director of bands and orchestra, is chairman.

Other members are Dr. George W. Starcher, University president; W. E. Davenport, head of the marketing department; Harvey K. Jacobson, director of news and information; Stanley O. Johnson, instructor of art; D. J. Robertson, dean of the University College; E. B. Robinson, professor of history; J. Lloyd Stone, alumni director.

Alumni members are Loyde C. Thompson and Mrs. R. B. Witmer, both of Grand Forks.

Student members are Jo-Anne Bena, Park River, and Ronald Hoverson, Manvel.

The year 1958 will be a "banner year" in the history of the University of North Dakota.

The month of February 1958, will bring the University to the close of its first 75 years.

In recognition of this important milestone, a year-long series of significant events will be held to commemorate the University's great tradition of scholarship and service and to rededicate itself to the ideals of its founders. Theme for the year will be, "Intelligence, the basis of civilization," which was the original motto on the Board of Regents seal approved in 1884.

An extensive program has been planned by the Steering Committee. The 12-member group consists of faculty and staff members, alumni and students.

Four major public functions will serve as focal points for the 75th anniversary observances:

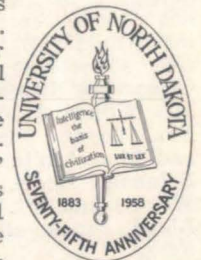

1. Founders' Day, February 22.
2. Commencement, June 8.
3. Homecoming, October.
4. Academic Conference and Convocation, November 6, 7, 8.

Many other activities are also planned. (For details on special Anniversary projects, see Pages 4, 5 and 8.)

The objectives of the observance, as established by the Steering Committee, are:

1. To broadly outline a program for the future development of the University consistent with the needs of all those it serves.

Report From The Campus

By J. LLOYD STONE

On Friday and Saturday, October 25 and 26 the Alumni Board of Directors met in Minneapolis to discuss projects and plans for the University of North Dakota. Most of the board members were accompanied by their wives or husbands and they too entered in to the discussions when the board was not in formal session. Attendance at the two day session included the following:

Professor Charles Crum of the University Law School, legal adviser; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hunger, Scarsdale, New York; Dr. and Mrs. O. W. Johnson, Rugby; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lykken, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. George Soule of Fargo; Mr. and Mrs. William DePuy, Grafton; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kelly, Devils Lake; Mr. Dewey Balch, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. George Longmire, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Caldis, representative of the Athletic Board of Control; President and Mrs. George W. Starcher; Mr. and Mrs. William Micklin, Mr. and Mrs. Loyde Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Armin Rohde, Mrs. Reinhold Jacobi, Mrs. T. E. Waldon and Mr. and Mrs. J. Lloyd Stone all of Grand Forks.

Thanks Board

I would like to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to this loyal band of alumni who give so generously of their time, energy, ability and means for the promotion and advancement of their alma mater. Contrary to the belief of one alumnus, the board receives no remuneration or expense allotment of any type whatsoever at any time.

Even when the board was not in formal session the topic of conversation was UND and ways and means of making our alma mater a more effective institution for serving the young people of our state. Joining the group at some of their informal sessions were the Walter Duckstads, the Edgar Masseys, the Harold Boe's and many other alumni from various cities in the Northwest.

The agenda for the Alumni Board meeting was interesting and fully covered. For the information of our alumni here is a brief thumbnail sketch of our agenda.

1. Approval of previous minutes including committee sessions since the June Board gathering at the University of North Dakota.

2. The approval of the financial report and audit which was prepared by the Edward W. Brady and Company Public Accountants and Auditors as of September 30, 1957.

3. The report and financial statement concerning the Alumni-Graduate Club lots was given by Mr. Stone and the Board recommended that two of the lots be held by the Alumni Association for the possible building of a faculty club house or graduate club house at a later date.

4. Professor Crum discussed the possibility of assisting with the building of fraternity and sorority houses by the Alumni Association or some other corporation on the campus of the University. No action was taken concerning this matter but a committee has been appointed to make further study.

Discusses Diamonds

5. Mrs. Reinhold Jacobi discussed a plan for disposing of $10,000 worth of diamonds which were contributed to the University Development Fund by an alumnus. The approved plan will be outlined in a later issue of the ALUMNI REVIEW.

6. Dr. E. L. Grinnell's report concerning Faculty Awards was given by George Longmire, he stated that $7,500 has been allocated this year for Faculty Awards and approximately half that amount has been expended to date.

7. Loyde Thompson gave a report concerning the University scholarship program and stated that the Development Fund had allotted $15,000 for scholarships this school year and that the scholarships have been awarded by the University Scholarship committee.

8. President Starcher discussed the 75th Anniversary and a future study of the University. He asked for the cooperation of the Alumni Association in the study. A further story on his recommendations will be forthcoming in

9. Dr. O. W. Johnson reported on the Medical Center and the Medical Center Loan Fund. He praised the Alumni Association for originating and promoting the Medical Center Loan Fund because he said in this way it will be possible for many students to take medicine who would not be able to take it otherwise. He said that many medical schools now charge $1,200 to $1,500 for tuition for the third and fourth years and without help from the medical fund many boys in North Dakota would not be able to attend. He stated that the Loan Fund Board this year allocated approximately $60,000 for Medical Student Loans.

Announce Awards

10. Mrs. T. E. Waldon gave a report for the Alumni Achievement Citations Committee. Two awards have been approved for the Camelback Inn meetings and citations will be presented at that time, one to Mr. James H. Douglas, New York City and one to Raymond

Richards of Tulsa, Oklahoma. Additional awards will be given at a later date but the (Continued on Page Three)

Focus on U Sports

The All-New football program at UND got off to a rousing start this fall as the Fighting Sioux won their first two games and have continued to amaze even their staunchest fans with outstanding performances week after week.

As this is written Coach Marv (Whitey) Helling's team has won three, lost three and tied one and still has a couple of games at Montana State college and Northern Michigan, both on the road.

Scores to date in the order played: UND 34 Bemidji State 19; UND 21, Augustana 6; UND 20, Morningside 48; UND 27, South Dakota U 27; UND 21; S. D. State 53; UND 9, NDAC O and UND 20, Iowa Teachers 27.

Rated a cellar-dweller by pre-season experts, the Sioux will wind up in fifth place in final North Central Conference standings. Fans here believe the all-new coaching staff of Helling, backfield coach Paul Roach and line coach Dick Erdall is the finest since the golden grid ear of the 30s.

REVIEW readers may have noticed in their sport pages that UND quarterback Steve (Pike) Piasecki, a junior, and sophomore and Bob Herrick of Bismarck have been leading the nation's small college football stars in passing and pass-receiving.

The Sioux cross-country team was undefeated in its matches this fall.

Also, drawing a lot of attention were players on the Sioux freshman team, which won two of its three scheduled games. The frosh gridders were ably coached by new hockey coach Bob May. Included among the 60 freshmen players were many Minnesota and North Dakota all-state high school stars. Of the 40 yearling players which were selected for game action, 13 graduated in the top 10 per cent of their high school classes.

The Sioux hockey squad will play 29 games, 19 at home. Coach Lou Bogan's basketballers have a strong 23-game schedule, including a game against the University of Missouri there. More about these sports in later issues.

Faculty Notes

Four staff members retired July 1. They were Mrs. Bertha M. Johnston, 1932, associate professor of English; Miss Isabel Snelgrove, associate professor of art; E. J. Buckingham, superintendent of buildings and grounds; and Mrs. Florence B. Yonaka, law librarian.

Prof. Alvin E. Austin, 1931, head of the journalism department is on a year's leave from the University to undertake a 12-month study of vocational opportunities and recruitment problems in journalism under the sponsorship of the Wall Street Journal. He will live in Wilmette, Ill. while engaged in the study project.

Dr. Richard Beck, professor of Scandinavian languages and literatures and foreign languages department head, has been honored by the publication in Iceland of a special testimonial volume in connection with his recent 60th birthday.

West, Former Sioux Coach, Dies at 67

C. A. (Jack) West, who coached nine champion UND football teams, died of an acute coronary attack unexpectedly at his Grand Forks home October 29. He was 67.

He began coaching Sioux football teams in 1928, and under his leadership his squads won four consecutive North Central Conference championships without a loss or a tie. The nine titles were won in 14 years of championship play.

Mr. West resigned as football coach at the close of the 1941 gridiron season, but continued as athletic director until 1945, when he left the University to coach the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, a professional team.

He retired from coaching in 1948 to enter the insurance business.

● Report from Campus

11. The Alumni Board discussed the need for a chapel and little theatre on the campus of the University of North Dakota and approved a fund drive for $300,000 for this purpose. They recommended that the little theatre and chapel be named after an alumnus who has shown much interest in his project and the announcement of his name and definite plans for the chapel and little theatre will be made at a later date.

The group of course mixed pleasure with business. Following the meeting Saturday morning the group attended the Minnesota-Michigan football game and that evening were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. George Soule and Dewey Balch at a dinner dance at the Minneapolis Athletic Club.

Most of the Board members left Minneapolis on Sunday morning following the very busy Minneapolis schedule.

Plan 'Towering Vision' Cantata; Written By University Men

"The Towering Vision," a cantata written on "the conception, the birth, the growth, the significance and the future of the University of North Dakota," has been produced by two University professors for the anniversary observance. Its premiere performance will be given on Founders' Day.

Text was written by Dr. F. Y. St. Clair, head of the University department of English, and music was composed by Philip B. Cory, associate professor of music.

Approximately 140 voices will blend in the large production, with the Varsity Bards, the Women's Glee Club and the Madrigal Club all participating. The University Band will provide the music.

The controlling idea of "The Towering Vision" is that "dream and vision, in this case as always, laid the bases of achievement."

The idea is developed in the five sections of the cantata:

I. The idea of the University originated as part of "the bold imperial dream" that obsessed the promoters ("boomers") and pioneers, to whom almost every newly platted township was future metropolis. Some, at least, of these dreamers, who were also practical men of affairs, had a serious and lofty vision of what a university would mean to the future State.

II. The first building, Main Hall, was indeed built on "a wide and empty field," barren of trees, and might well have seemed a desert inn of learning. Yet the founders—that is, the early presidents and their staffs—toiled on heroically despite the most discouraging conditions and with little certainty of ultimate success.

III. The situation of the University gave at first little promise of a glorious future. Only through the love and anxious care of its founders and supporters was it able to live and grow to its present state of usefulness and of high standing among the institutions of the country.

IV. What is this University, so beloved and so nurtured, yet so dimly understood by its supporters? Daughter of Dreams, mother of dreams, it is itself a dream, an abstraction.

ANNIVERSARY PLATES featuring University views are available at the University Bookstore. Made in England, the plates are Wedgewood Queensware. Scenes depicted are reproductions of pen drawings by University artist Stanley O. Johnson. A choice of two scenes and two colors is offered: Old Main Building in Boston Red (at left) and the Memorial Student Union in Still Green (right). Plates are being sold at the following rates: twelve plates, $28; four for $9.50; two for $5; $2.95 each. Plate hangers, 25 cents each. Postage charge for mail orders is 30 cents per plate.

National Publicity Project Arranged Governor, Legislature: Proclaim '75th Year'

Fraternity and sorority editors and correspondents have launched "Operation National." The project concerns a plan for all Greek chapters at the University to run illustrated feature articles in national fraternity and sorority magazines in conjunction with the 75th Anniversary.

Editors hope to have the stories published in the February or Spring issues of the national publications.

The project is one of several mass-media presentations planned. Newspapers, magazines, television, radio and exhibits will be used to tell the story of the University to the state and nation.

In addition to the 485-page history being published by University Press, booklets, brochures and other special interpretative pieces will be issued during the year.

DESIGNS SEAL

The anniversary Emblem was designed by Stanley O. Johnson, UND art instructor.

The 12-month period beginning in February 1958 has been officially proclaimed "Seventy-Fifth Anniversary

P. O. to Feature 75th Cancellation

Approval has been granted by the United States Post Office Department for the use of a special post office cancellation in connection with the University's 75th Anniversary.

The cancellation calling attention to the Anniversary Year will be used from February 1958 through July 1958 at the Grand Forks Post Office. Federal regulations limit the period of use of special postmark cancellations to six months.

Postal officials said that if the mail handled this year equals that for the February to August period last year, the special cancellation will appear on 2,375,000 pieces of mail.

Year" by the North Dakota Legislature and Governor John E. Davis.

A concurrent resolution was adopted by the Senate and the House of Representatives at the Legislative Assembly early this year, commending the University on its 75th Anniversary and officially designating the observance. Citing the University as "a distinguished center of educational leadership," the resolution commended UND for "contributing to the development of an informed citizenry and to the growth and expansion of the State."

Governor Davis, Class of 1935, visited the campus in June. As governor, he declared the month of February 1958 as the opening of Anniversary Year. Addressing the alumni banquet during commencement weekend, he called for "continued support of the University's splendid program."

Excerpts from the governor's talk have been published in pamphlet form.

N. D. Tours Set By Music Groups

In state tours of the University's musical organizations constitute one phase of a program planned "to bring the University to the state" during the Anniversary Year.

Itineraries have been planned with the purpose of reaching all sections of North Dakota.

The Varsity Bards will travel to the south and west for appearances Feb. 2-8. Concerts will be presented at Lakota, Harvey, Rugby, Carrington, Jamestown, Bismarck, Ellendale, LaMoure, Enderlin and Wahpeton. James T. Fudge is director.

The Madrigal Club, directed by Hywel C. Rowland, will also be on tour between semesters. Performances are scheduled Jan. 31-Feb. 5 at points in the northern end of the Red River Valley.

The University Band will go north and west for concerts during the week of March 18, according to John E. Howard.

ANNIVERSARY CHAIRS are colonial-style pieces with black and maple arms, featuring a University seal on the back. The chairs, available through University Bookstore, cost $22.50 and are shipped directly from the factory of Nichols and Stone Co., Gardner, Mass.

HERALD PLANS SECTION FOR U 75TH ANNIVERSARY

So that the 75th Anniversary of the University of North Dakota may be properly recognized and recorded, the Grand Forks Herald is planning a special Anniversary section, to be published on or about Founders Day, February 22, 1958.

Extra copies of this section will be printed, and you may order as many as you wish from the circulation department of the Herald.

You may also wish to insert an advertisement of congratulations to the University in this section. For additional information, contact Henry Dibern, Advertising Manager of the Herald.

CONVENTIONS — Various groups, including cultural and professional societies as well as other service groups, will hold conventions and meetings on the campus as a compliment to the University on its 75th birthday.

FOLLIES—The 1958 Flickertail Follies variety show will feature the Diamond Anniversary theme.

EMBLEM—Use of the Anniversary emblem was begun in September. It appears on University stationery and a variety of other items, ranging from publications to parking stickers. It will be used throughout Anniversary Year.

DRAMA—Between semesters the Dakota Playmakers will present a dramatic production is several North Dakota high schools.

ARTS—Special events are scheduled for Fine Arts Week, March 23-29.

FALL CONFERENCE — Highly-respected leaders in education and other fields will appear on the program of the Academic Conference and Convocation, November 6, 7, and 8.

400-Page History of U To Be Published in 1958

"University of the Northern Plains" is the title of a history of the University of North Dakota being published in conjunction with the University's 75th Anniversary.

Author of the book, which covers the University's first 75 years, is Dr. Louis G. Geiger, associate professor of history.

The book will be published by University Press. Setting of type on the first chapters has begun, and several chapters are in the process of copy editing. Writing of the first ten chapters has been completed and the final chapter, "The New University; 1945 to the present," is currently being written.

Has Broad Scope

The history treats not only administration and academics, but faculty personalities and student life through the years. Placing the University in the context of the development of the plains, the history traces the University's relationship to the state, the region, and higher education in general.

Descriptions of contents of the 12 chapters follow:

I, Founders and the founding; II, The first year, 1884-1885; III, The University takes firm root, 1885-1891; IV, The crises of the 1890's; V, The progressive era of building and expansion, 1899-1909; VI, Progress and Poverty, 1909-1917; VII, Transition in student life, 1899-1917; VIII, Stresses and strains, 1914-1924; IX, The golden twenties, 1917-1933; X, Depression and war, 1933-1945; XI, The new University.

Use Many Illustrations

The book will contain more than 400 pages of text. In addition, an index, bibliography and 32 pages of photographs and illustrations will be included.

The history is expected to be ready for distribution in Spring, 1958.

All processing of the book will be completed at the University Press, except for the binding, which will be done by a commercial firm in Minneapolis.

The hard-cover book is being printed in 6 x 9 inch page size. The cover will be in two colors, with gold embossing.

Buy Special Type

University Press purchased a special typeface for the book. The text will be composed in 12-point Granjon, a modern book face chosen for its legibility.

Stanley O. Johnson, University art instructor, will do the artwork for the jacket.

Dr. Geiger's wife has assisted him as editor and research assistant. Mrs. Geiger was formerly assistant professor of English at UND. They have one child, Mark, 8.

Dr. Geiger, who came to the University in 1946, has been associate professor since 1955. He received his doctorate from the University of Missouri.

Authors Other Books

Writing is not new to Dr. Geiger. He is the author of "The Po Valley Campaign" and he collaborated on other books while he was a member of the Historical Section of the 5th Army in Italy in World War II. He has also written "Joseph W. Folk of Missouri," a book about Folk's political career and the Progressive Movement in Missouri.

As a fellow of the Fund for the Advancement of Education, Dr. Geiger conducted post-doctoral studies at Harvard and Stanford universities in 1953-54. During 1954-55, he was a visiting professor of American civilization at the University of Helsinki under the Fulbright Act.

Teaching Awards Scheduled

This year two $500 alumni distinguished teaching awards will be given to University faculty members for the first time according to J. Lloyd Stone, Alumni Director.

One award will be given to a faculty member who has taught at the University from five to fifteen years while the second one goes to an instructor who has served fifteen years or more.

Nominations for the awards will be made by alumni and any student whose current average is "B" or better, Stone said.

Screening will be done by a faculty committee of nine or more members. This committee will reduce the number of candidates to three in each of the two categories.

The final selection for the awards will be made by the Alumni Awards committee, Dr. E. L. Grinnell, chairman. Other members are Armin Rohde and George Longmire, Grand Forks and Mrs. Milton Kelly, Devils Lake.

Wesley College Head Resigns

The Rev. Marcus J. Birrell, D.D., for ten years president of Wesley College here, has resigned to become the executive secretary of The Inter-board Committee on Christian Vocations, a national office of the Methodist Church. His new headquarters will be in Nashville, Tenn.

In the new position, Dr. Birrell will develop plans for the more effective enlistment and guidance of young people in vocations of the church and its agencies.

Wesley College is a Methodist institution affiliated with the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks. It serves as a school of religion to the University. Rev. Maxwell Brown of Fargo is serving as acting president of the college.

Mrs. Kenneth R. Dye (Jean Morrow, 1942) and her husband are now in Arlington, Va., after living in Japan.

Dedicate New Women's Dorm

The dedication of Fulton Hall, new women's residence, was held October 11 at the University of North Dakota.

The construction of Fulton Hall was finished this fall. It completes the Johnstone-Fulton resident unit for women, which houses 375 women. The three story building is a brick U-shape structure of Colgate Gothic architecture. The interior design is contemporary.

Excavation was begun in September, 1955. The first girls moved into the first floor of the hall in October, 1956, and shortly thereafter into the second floor. The third floor and bottom floor were completed for occupancy this fall.

Miss Ella Fulton, for whom the new unit is named, was the first dean of women at UND. Miss Johnstone is an alumna and former director of the division of correspondence at UND.

Richard Hovet, 1951, is principal of Lincoln Elementary school in Iowa City, Ia. His wife, (Elaine Kval, 1956) is completing her dietetic internship and will do graduate work at the University of Iowa.

MARY JANE HARROUN
Homecoming Queen

Bismarck Girl 1957 U Queen

A 20-year-old blue-eyed blonde from Bismarck reigned over Homecoming festivities at the University of North Dakota, October 9-12. She was Mary Jane Harroun, a member of Delta Gamma sorority.

The weekend activities included a football game, open houses, a pep rally, smorgasbord, parade and dances. The somewhat dampened spirits brought on by the Sioux's loss to the South Dakota State Jackrabbits, were brightened by the appearance of Homecoming Queen Mary Jane Harroun. University President George W. Starcher crowned Mary Jane at halftime and her attendants, Carolyn Berkeley, Gamma Phi Beta, Thompson, and Joan Smith, Alpha Phi, Bismarck, were presented.

Homecoming Chairman Glenn Muir of Inkster presented trophies to the float winners. Delta Gamma sorority with their "We Chews to Win" display featuring a long worm chasing an apple, and Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternities "Bull 'n the Jack" portraying a bull about to stampee a rabbit, took first place prizes. Second place winners were tion, an ideal—yet not less but more real and powerful because it is that.

V. The past of the University promises a future even more distinguished, if, guided by its motto, "Law and Light," it becomes the permanent home of truth, power, and beauty. Even if it fails to realize the towering vision, its noble striving to become what it should be is glorious and endearing. The fate of the University, as of mankind, lies in the hands of the God of Light and Law.

The music has been composed upon the moods and imagery of the words and in the idioms of the performing groups. The themes are all drawn from the "Alma Mater" or from counterpoints constructed upon it.

ful portents of the future, making those implicit in today's accomplishment. We hope that many persons will visit the campus during the year, for in a composite view we will attempt to reflect the whole life and work of the University.

Our Anniversary, then, will not be concerned primarily with looking at the past or in glorifying the present. Rather, the atmosphere will be in the spirit of "looking ahead" to the future. By joining us in this process of re-evaluation, you can help us pioneer new paths of accomplishment for higher education.

● Plan Program

2. To encourage students to think about the University's future and to assist in maintaining only the highest standards of excellence.

3. To increase the University's academic prestige in the state and nation through maintaining an educational program of highest quality.

4. To establish a closer liaison between faculty members and citizens of North Dakota.

5. To make all citizens more aware of the University of North Dakota, focusing public attention on the record, the needs and the future possibilities of this state institution of higher education.
