2006 SUMMER COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY

3:00 P.M., FRIDAY, AUGUST 4, 2006, CHESTER FRITZ AUDITORIUM

PRESIDENT CHARLES E. KUPCHELLA, PRESIDING

Alma Mater

Hail to thee, O Alma Mater!
Hail to thee with heart and tongue!
Pride we feel and love yet greater
While we raise our grateful song.
Home of lofty thought and learning,
Beacon o'er our western land,
Shrine whence still the ever-burning
Torch is passed from hand to hand.

CHESTER FRITZ DISTINGUISHED PROFESSORS

The Chester Fritz Distinguished Professorships were established with an endowment gift from the late UND benefactor Chester Fritz, 1892-1983. Revenue from the endowment provides for cash stipends to one or more full-time UND faculty members, who thereafter may use the title "Chester Fritz Distinguished Professor." Nominations are solicited from members of the Council of Deans and the Chester Fritz Distinguished Professors; these are evaluated by a committee chaired by the graduate dean and composed of three Chester Fritz Distinguished Professors and faculty representatives from each academic college not represented by a Fritz Professor. The recommendations are reviewed by the Vice President for Academic Affairs and forwarded to the President for final decision.

Chester Fritz attended UND from 1908 to 1910. He became an international trader in precious metals and lived most of his life in China and Europe. In establishing the endowment for the professorships — just one of his many gifts to UND — as an "investment in the future of my Alma Mater and of the people who make the future what it shall be." He added, "I am especially indebted to the fine teachers who, in the end, have determined in large measure, how well I was able to learn and to use the knowledge that the University of North Dakota could provide."

Chester Fritz Distinguished Professors currently serving on the faculty include:

James Antes, Psychology
Michael C. Beard, English
Edward C. Carlson, Anatomy and Cell Biology

SCHOLAR IN THE HONORS PROGRAM

Sally Pyle, Honors Coordinator

The following students have met the objectives of the University of North Dakota's SCHOLAR IN THE HONORS PROGRAM, a program designed to broaden and enrich the undergraduate curriculum.

They have passed sophomore and senior comprehensive examinations, and have been certified for graduation by the Honors Committee of the University. A substantial segment of their University training has been pursued in honor courses, tutorials and colloquia, and they have done independent research.

THE UNIVERSITY MARSHALS

A tradition since the early years of the University of North Dakota, students serve as the honorary marshals and ushers for commencement exercises. They are usually selected from the junior class, primarily on the basis of academic excellence.

Honorary Faculty Flag Marshal

A UND faculty member, chosen from the ranks of the Chester Fritz Distinguished Professors, carries the University flag and leads the commencement procession.

The Faculty Flag Marshal at today's ceremony is Dr. Thomas V. Petros, Professor of Psychology. Tom joined UND in 1980 and was honored with the designation as a Chester Fritz Distinguished Professor in 2005. Dr. Petros' major academic and research interests lie in cognitive/developmental psychology. Dr. Petros teaches courses in child development and statistics. Other areas of interest/expertise are biological basis of behavior.

ACADEMIC PAGEANTRY

The pageantry of American colleges and universities, including such ceremonies as commencement, has been inherited from the medieval universities of the 11th and 12th centuries. Academic life as it is known today began in the Middle Ages, first in the church and then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, in which the Bachelor was the apprentice of the Master and the dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility.

The ceremony you will witness today will be less formal than would have been the case even two centuries ago. Still, many traditions have been continued. To maintain continuity with the past, University of North Dakota faculty, the stage officials and the degree candidates will wear academic dress.

Principal features of academic garb are the gown, cap and hood. Early it became necessary for universities to set rules to preserve the dignity and meaning of academic dress. Both Cambridge and Oxford since the 15th century have made academic dress a matter of university control even to its minor details, and have repeatedly published revised regulations. American universities agreed on a definite system in 1895.

ACADEMIC DRESS

THE GOWN. The flowing gown comes from the 12th century. While it originally may have been worn as protection against the chill of unheated buildings, it has today become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any trappings of rank or social standing underneath. It is black for all degrees, with pointed sleeves for the bachelor's degree recipient, long closed sleeves with a slit at the arm or wrist for the master's degree, or full bell double sleeves for the doctoral degree. Bachelor's and master's degree gowns have no trimming. For the doctoral degree, the gown is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves in the color distinctive of the faculty or discipline to which the degree pertains.

THE CAP. Under Roman law, a slave that had been set free received the privilege of wearing a cap. The academic cap is a sign of freedom of scholarship, and of the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Ancient poetry records the cap of scholarship as square to symbolize the book. The color of the tassel denotes the discipline. At the University of North Dakota, the tassel colors associated with academic divisions are: white, College of Arts and Sciences; drab (subdued orange), College of Business and Public Administration; black and white, John D. Odegard School of Aerospace Sciences; blue and white, College of Education and Human Development; orange, School of Engineering and Mines; purple, School of Law; green, School of Medicine; apricot, College of Nursing; black, Graduate School. For undergraduate students, the tassels hang on the right side of the cap until they receive their degrees, at which time the tassel is moved to the left. For masters students, the tassel hangs on the left side of the cap and is not moved.

THE HOOD. The hood is trimmed with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the college. The color of the facing of the hood denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining designates the university or college which granted the degree. The official colors of the University of North Dakota, selected by the student body in preparation for the institution's first commencement in 1889, are the pink and green of the prairie rose.

CEREMONIAL OBJECTS

THE MACE. The mace was initially modeled after a 12th-century implement of war. In earlier days, the mace, or heavy staff, was borne by or carried before a magistrate or other dignitary as an ensign of authority. A mace is placed as the symbol of royal authority on the treasury table in the British House of Commons at the opening of each session and is removed at its close. In the U.S. House of Representatives, it is a rather plain staff mounted in a marble pedestal at the right hand of the Speaker. The mace of the University of North Dakota symbolizes authority to carry out its mission, especially the granting of degrees. Made from the oak of the University's first building, "Old Main," the mace is carried by a marshal during academic processions and is placed at a prominent spot on the stage during commencement.

THE MEDALLION. A medallion or seal of office worn by the head of an educational institution is a practice that also dates to the Middle Ages. In those times, a seal was used to mark documents as official. Possession of the seal was so important that it was usually worn around the neck for safekeeping. The wearing of the seal eventually became a symbol of authority. One side of the medallion worn by the president bears an engraving of the University's official seal and the names of all former presidents are included on the chain of office.

THE CHARTER. The University of North Dakota was founded six years before North Dakota became a state. The original, handwritten charter, enacted in 1883 by the Dakota Territorial Assembly, is preserved in UND's archives. One facsimile is displayed in the President's Office and another is used at commencements and other special occasions.

THE UNIVERSITY FLAG. The University flag features the UND flame logo set on a white background. The flag is used at ceremonial events and is carried by the honorary faculty flag marshal to lead the commencement procession. The flag is displayed on the stage during the commencement ceremony along with the mace and charter.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Sherry O'Donnell is Professor and Chair of the UND Department of English. A native of Decatur County, Iowa, she received her B.A. in English from Marycrest College in Davenport, Iowa, her M.A. in English from John Carroll University in Cleveland, Ohio, and her Ph.D. in English from the University of Arizona in Tucson. She taught at Dayton Community College and at New Mexico State University before joining the UND faculty in 1979.

Professor O'Donnell has taught over 150 undergraduate and graduate courses in British literature, literary theory, and Women Studies at UND. She regularly hears from former students who are using their English degrees to work in business, the arts, non-profit organizations, public relations, medicine, law, education, publishing, and haute cuisine. A few of Professor O'Donnell's students have followed her interest in the discourse of agriculture and the effects of current economic crises upon rural life. One of her recent talks, "Don't Wait Till Your Funeral to Order Our Buns: The Social Semiotics of a Small-Town Bakery," explores how and why rural people used a commercial bakery to transform authoritarian church, school and family systems to suit their own more democratic purposes.

Professor O'Donnell and her partner Virgil Benoit, a UND French professor, live on a farm near Red Lake Falls, Minnesota, where she keeps a flock of natural colored sheep. She markets the wool to handspinners and weavers, and sells grass-fed lamb and breeding stock to other growers in the region.

STUDENT HONOR MEDALLIONS

Honor Medallions are worn by candidates for the bachelor's degree who achieve a scholastic average of 3.20 (cum laude), 3.50 (magna cum laude), and 3.70 (summa cum laude) in courses completed at the University of North Dakota. Also, a gold seal indicating the honor will be affixed to the diploma and the honor will be recorded on the student's academic record.

SPECIAL NOTICES

Today's UND Commencement Ceremony is being shown live on Grand Forks Cable Channel 3 and will be broadcast on August 8, 9, 10 and 11 at 12:30 a.m., 12:00 noon, and 8:00 p.m. For your convenience, DVD copies of the ceremony can be purchased for $15 through the UND Television Center. To purchase a copy, contact the Television Center at 701-777-4346 or send an e-mail inquiry to tv@und.edu.

A professional photographer will take a picture of each graduate as he or she receives the diploma scroll. This photograph will be made available for purchase by mail following commencement.

Whether the individual is the first or last to receive a degree in the graduation ceremony, the conferring of that degree is a very special event for every graduate and family. To this end, it is requested that everyone remain seated until the conclusion of the commencement ceremony.

HONORARY DEGREES AWARDED

The University of North Dakota held its first commencement on June 13, 1889—the same year North Dakota became a state. Six women and two men received diplomas during a ceremony filled with oratory and reflection on the University's beginnings.

Honorary degrees have long been awarded by institutions of higher learning to recognize lives of achievement. In 1909 UND presented its first honorary degree, a Doctor of Laws, to Webster Merrifield, who served the University for 25 years, including 18 as its third president.

Honorary degrees from UND particularly recognize those with an association with the University or with the state and region; they also have been presented to such notables as philosopher Mortimer Adler, heart surgeon Michael DeBakey and President John F. Kennedy.

Look up

Models of vintage aircraft fill the “sky” of the atrium of John D. Odegard Hall. It was the first structure in the cluster that houses the Odegard School of Aerospace Sciences. The buildings of the School emphasize strong, clean lines, light-colored brick and masonry, and purposeful, forward-looking design symbolizing a new frontier in the University’s vision and programs.

Look down

Elegant, traditional Merrifield Hall is a place to contemplate the passing scene and to reflect on the meaning of the collegiate experience. Its large windows offer some of the best opportunities to savor the colors of the seasons, to witness the bustle and energy of the academic environment, and to appreciate the fresh perspectives that may be gained by viewing familiar scenes from new angles.

Witness to generations

For more than seven decades, these stairs in Merrifield Hall have echoed with chatter, laughter, and footfalls. Since the stately structure was completed in 1930, nearly all of the tens of thousands of students who have been on campus have walked these steps. With its classic decorative accents, Merrifield always bears a special place in the memories of UND alumni.

As officials begin planning the observance of the University's 125th anniversary, they reflect on the lives and achievements witnessed on these steps and in rooms, hallways, and uncounted quiet places across the campus.

THE AWARDING OF DEGREES and academic distinctions listed in this program is contingent upon successful completion of the various requirements.

Commencement ceremonies at UND are planned through the Office of Ceremonies and Special Events in the Office of the Vice President for Student and Outreach Services. This program was produced with assistance from the Office of University Relations and the UND Printing Center.

UND is an equal opportunity/affirmative action institution. For more information on equal opportunity policies and procedures, see UND catalogs and other major printed pieces.
