Alumni Elect Eddy New President

Robert C. Eddy of Jamestown, '20, was elected president of the University Alumni Association at its annual meeting Saturday, June 3.

He succeeds Dr. E. L. Grinnell, '27, Grand Forks, who headed the organization during its event-filled 1960-61 schedule.

Eddy has been national chairman of the University Development Fund and was second vice president of the Alumni Association for the past year.

Other new officers are Dr. O. W. Johnson, '27, Rugby, first vice president, and Mrs. Reinhold Jacobi, '20, Grand Forks, second vice president.

Gordon Caldis, '45, Grand

Forks was renamed alumni representative of the University of North Dakota Athletic Board of Control.

J. Lloyd Stone was re-elected executive vice president, which includes duties as secretary of the board of directors.

Budget allocations made by the Alumni Board for the coming year included $18,000 for scholarships, $7,500 for faculty awards and $12,000 to finance University publicity and the Alumni Review.

UND President George W. Starcher reported on progress of the University.

Gordon Aamoth, '36, Fargo, a representative in the state legislature, discussed problems facing North Dakota in financing higher education. He urged closer unity and co-operation between UND and NDSU at Fargo.

Dr. Grinnell presided at the annual alumni dinner, at which reunioning members of the class of 1911 were special guests. Mrs. Grinnell presented honorary diplomas to 35 wives of graduating seniors. They were cited for their efforts in assisting their husbands through college.

Present at the commencement events were many alumnae members of Alpha Phi and Kappa Alpha Theta sororities, back for golden anniversary celebrations. Both were chartered at UND in 1911.

ROBERT C. EDDY

Succeeds Dr. Grinnell.

Four Cited for Distinguished Service

Four alumni were added to the UND distinguished service rolls during spring commencement activities.

Bringing to 31 the number receiving this top Alumni Association citation, the honor this year went to:

Dr. Willis B. Shepard, Eugene, Oregon, physician and surgeon.

Miss Guri Sand, Grand Forks, retired educator.

DR. L. O. SIMENSTAD

Mrs. Stella H. Mann, publisher of the Bismarck Tribune.

Dr. L. Otis Simenstad, Osceola, Wisconsin, physician.

All except Dr. Shepard were able to be present in person at the alumni banquet to receive the awards.

These are the records for which the recipients were cited:

WILLIS B. SHEPARD '29

A native of Hazelton, N. D., Willis B. Shepard received his B.A. degree from UND in 1929. Captain of the Sioux football team in his senior year, he served as high school coach in Michigan, N.D., in 1929-30, and as freshman and varsity end coach at UND in 1930-32, before his graduation from the University's School of Medicine in 1932.

DR. WILLIS SHEPARD

MISS GURI SAND

He received his M.D. degree at Northwestern University in 1933 and, after interning in San Francisco, entered general practice in Linton, N. D. He did graduate work in New York before beginning an eye, ear, nose and throat practice in Eugene, Ore., in 1938. He has practiced there since, except for service in the Army Medical Corps in World War II.

A past president of his county medical society, he also served in the Oregon State Medical Society's House of Delegates.

He was named Citizen Doctor of the Year in Lane County, Oregon, in 1957 and was first president of the board of the Eugene Hearing and Speech Center.

Dr. Shepard was 1956 Red Cross chairman, is a member of the board of the United Appeal, and a past chief of staff of Sacred Heart Hospital in Oregon. He is a member of Rotary International.

GURI SAND, '19

A lifetime spent in teaching and in assisting young people obtain the advantages of education is the record of Miss Guri Sand, who has resided in Grand Forks since she completed her 50 years of service in 1948.

A native of Norway, she came to this country with her parents at the age of 11. Most of her elementary schooling was in one-room schoolhouses of Grand Forks County, yet—while still in the eighth grade at Emerado—she took the teachers' examination and re-

Alternately teaching in rural one-room schools and attending University High School and, later, UND itself, she completed high school and two years of college by 1907. In 1919, she received a B.A. degree from the University, which later granted her a Master of Science in Education.

During her undergraduate days she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and was active in Pi Lambda Theta. She did part of her graduate work at the University of California, Berkeley.

She worked for seven years as field deputy in Grand Forks County while M. Beatrice Johnstone was county superintendent of schools. With the exception of two years teaching at Minot State Teachers College, all of her classroom work was done in eastern North Dakota.

The last 20 years of her service to higher education was at Mayville State Teachers College where she conducted institutes and workshops for teachers, along with her own classroom duties. She assisted with the reorganization of Grand Forks County school districts before her retirement in 1948.

She has been active in church and community affairs since then. She serves as historian for her P.E.O. chapter and is an avid gardener.

STELLA HILLEBOE MANN, '15

Mrs. Stella Hilleboe Mann has actively directed the affairs of the Bismarck, N. D., Tribune since she succeeded her husband, George Douglas Mann, as president and publisher of the newspaper upon his death in 1936.

In 1938, soon after she took over direction of the paper, it was awarded the Pulitzer Gold Medal Prize for excellence in journalism.

A native of Buxton, N. D., Mrs. Mann received her B.A. degree from UND in 1915 and was granted her M.A. by the University of Iowa in 1927. She taught in Grand Forks, Mayville, Duluth and Minneapolis public schools and in Bemidji and Ellendale Colleges before her marriage in 1929.

She is a member of Pi Lambda Theta, Alpha Phi, P.E.O., Delta Kappa Gamma, the Red Cross board and the Bismarck Hospital board.

L. OTIS SIMENSTAD, '21

A flying M.D. who has been both president of his state medical association and chairman of his state aeronautics commission, is Dr. Lien Otis Simenstad, native of Northwood, N. D., and member of the UND School of Medicine, Class of 1921.

Dr. Simenstad has been a resident of Osceola, Wis., since he completed his medical training in 1924. He finished his medical education at Rush Medical College, Chicago, in 1923 and did his intern work at Ancker Hospital, St. Paul, in 1923-24.

Definitely prepared for the space age, Dr. Simenstad is vice chairman of the American Medical Association committee on Aviation Medicine, a member of the AMA committee on National Defense, and a member of the medical advisory panel to the Federal Aeronautics Administration. He belongs to both the Aerospace Medical Association and the Flying Physicians' Association.

He is a fellow in both the American and International colleges of surgeons, as well as the Industrial Medical Association.

A private pilot with a multi-engine rating, he has flown his twin-motored Cessna 310 to the Bahamas, Puerto Rico, Jamaica, Guatamala, Mexico, above the Arctic Circle in Alaska and to both coasts of the U.S.A.

He was married in 1924 to Agnes Berget, Warren, Minn., a UND alumna who died in 1957. Twin sons, John and Paul, now are completing their medical training and expect to join their father in practice at Osceola when they complete residency work in Twin City hospitals.

Hospital Worker Takes New Post

JAMESTOWN, N. D.—Lynn Byrne, administrative assistant at the State Hospital here since June 1, 1957, has announced his resignation to become administrator of the Henry County Memorial hospital in Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

Prior to his work at the state hospital, Byrne was employed for nine years with the state health department, directing activities of district health units in Williston, Mandan, Devils Lake and Dickinson.

Ground Broken for Twamley Structure

Ground was broken June 2 for Twamley Hall, the new $1,050,000 administration building soon to be constructed on the campus.

Assisting at the ceremonies was Miss Edna Twamley, Rock Tavern, N. Y. The building is being named for her father, one of UND's founders.

Presiding was J. Lloyd Stone, Alumni Association executive vice president, who paid tribute to Old Main, which the new structure will replace, during the 1962-63 school year. In a "letter to Old Main," he recalled glowingly the past history and glory of the University's original building, now doomed to demolition.

UND President George W. Starcher, Miss Twamley and Stone all took turns at spading up the earth for the new building.

Construction on Twamley Hall is expected to get underway in July. The building will house all of the administrative offices.

The new administration building, to be "L"-shaped, will contain 62,800 sq. ft. sixty-three feet in height, end of the wings being 61 feet in width, with one extending 150 feet south, and the other 170 feet west. It will be located 11 feet south of Old Main, between Old Main and Budge men's dormitory.

The new building will be steel-framed, constructed of Hebron brick and trimmed with Indiana limestone. The collegiate Gothic style of architecture will harmonize with other buildings on the campus.

Twamley, a pioneer Grand Forks merchant, is credited with being a father of UND. Twamley, historians said, was the first man to conceive the idea of a university for the northern half of the Dakota Territory.

As president of the Grand Forks Chamber of Commerce, he took the initiative in 1882 to invite the territorial governor, Nehemiah G. Ordway, to Grand Forks, to discuss the possibilities of a university. After its start, Twamley served longer as a member of the original Board of Regents than any other member of that first board.

The cornerstone for Old Main was laid in 1883, and it was first occupied in September, 1884. At the time, it was the only building on the campus, containing classrooms, laboratories, library, museum, dormitories, commons, and housing for faculty members and the president.

The building was constructed at a cost of $15,000. It began early to settle and deteriorate structurally. In 1924 the situation was so bad the two upper floors were removed. In 1925 it was condemned as unsafe for human occupancy. Since then, the building has been used exclusively for administrative offices.

Miss Edna Twamley breaks ground for Twamley Hall, new UND administration building.

Foundation Donor Dies at 94

Dr. Robert D. Campbell, principal benefactor of the Robert D. Campbell Foundation at the University, died June 12 at the age of 94.

The pioneer Grand Forks physician and surgeon had been awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree by UND in 1956, and had been presented with an alumni citation of achievement by Alumni Association directors.

The Campbell Foundation was established in 1955 by the First National Bank of Grand Forks to provide aid for University activities not covered by legislative appropriations.

Dr. and Mrs. Campbell, who died in 1959 at the age of 88, made gifts to the Foundation in excess of $165,000. Full ownership and income from the securities involved now pass to the Foundation with his death.

The Foundation's trustees have declared that they are "thoroughly convinced that such funds are vital to the welfare of the University, and believe the spirit of the University cannot assert itself to the fullest without such additional support."

Dr. Campbell began his Grand Forks practice in 1894 and had been prominent in both state and community activities. He was a native of Ontario, Canada.

With Our Alumni

They Make News All Over the Globe

University alumni never let a day go by without making news.

In North Dakota, the United States, in Europe—in fact, all over the Globe—they attain new positions of honor and trust, they win high awards and promotions, they travel, write books and articles.

Keeping track of their marriages and the additions to their families is a monumental task in itself.

Here is how some of UND's alumni family made news in the past few weeks:

Mike Carrigan, '61, who has been on the Grand Forks Herald staff for the past year and a half, has accepted a position in the United Press International's Pierre, S. D., bureau. John Ketter, '59, who had been with the UPI in Pierre for the past year, was named bureau manager at Sioux Falls, S. D. Other UND Journalism graduates now with UPI are Bruce Bakke, '59, at Chicago; Henry Owen, '58, at Omaha, and J. Keith Carew, '58, at Madison, Wisc.

Major General George O. N. Lodoen, '26, has been appointed Director of Army Affairs of the U. S. Reserve Officers Assn. He recently retired as U. S. Army assistant deputy chief of staff for logistics.

John O. Garass, '48, Watford City, has been confirmed by the U. S. Senate as United States attorney for North Dakota. He succeeds Robert Vogel, '39, Fargo, who is to complete prosecution of a long-running mail fraud trial in Federal District Court as a special assistant U. S. attorney general. Garaas, a N. D. state senator, has been state Democratic Party chairman.

Lloyd W. Dussell, '49, has been named chairman-elect of the Sabine, Texas, Area section of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. The organization has 400 members in the Texas Gulf Coast. He is an executive of the Pure Oil Co.'s Smiths Bluff refinery at Nederland, Texas.

Max L. Holland, a g e n t at Augusta, Georgia, for the National Life Insurance Co., is included over 250 take-offs and landings using treacherous glacial surfaces as airstrips. He is a pilot in the U. S. Army's 1st Combat Aviation Company in Verona. He entered the service in 1952 and has been overseas since June, 1960. His wife, Gerry, is with him in Italy.

a member of the Million Dollar Round Table. This National Assn. of Life Underwriters unit is composed of agents who have sold that much life insurance annually. He has earned attendance at the firm's educational conference in Honolulu in August. Active in professional and community affairs, he is married to the former Dorothy Dutton.

Collin H. Rushfeldt, '50, who represents the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. at Santa Anna, Calif., also is listed in the 1961 Roster of the Million Dollar Round Table. Fewer than one per cent of the world's life insurance agents are Round Table members.

Paul J. Scott, '31, of Claremont, Calif., is the manager of Claremont Inn, owned and operated by Pomona College. The Inn is considered one of the West Coast's finest hotels.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Desautels, '49, are the parents of a boy, Thomas Peter, born April 19. They reside at Granada Hills, Calif.

James H. Neally, '58, has been employed by Douglas Aircraft since his graduation. Formerly of Mohall, N. D., he is married to the former Betty Frydenlund of Larimore. They have two children, Susan and Matthew.

R. W. Utendorfer, '35, clinical assistant professor of surgery at the University of Minnesota, was elected president of the Minneapolis Surgical Society.

Thomas W. Anderson, '56, and his wife, Esther, '55, are the parents of a boy, Gregory Andrew, born April 3 at Belmont, Calif. Tom is a CPA with Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co. in San Francisco. The Andersons spent the summer of 1959 traveling in Europe. Tom received the M.A. from UND in 1956 after completing his B.S.C. here in 1955.

John L. Schlosser, of Grassy Lake, Alberta, has been appointed vice president of Northland Utilities, Ltd. A director of the company since 1956, he previously was assistant to the general manager. A UND engineering graduate, he is the son of the late Walter Schlosser, '13.

Thomas J. Lawler, '61, has accepted a position with the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington. He is married and has two children.

James P. Peterson, '41, has been named apparatus sales manager for the Connecticut Valley District of Westinghouse Electric Corporation. From headquarters in Hartford, Peterson will direct Westinghouse sales activities in Connecticut, western Massachusetts, western New Hampshire and Vermont. Since 1952, he has served as manager of the company's sales office in Johnson City, N. Y. An engineering graduate of UND, he joined Westinghouse as a graduate student. Following sales assignments in Chicago, East Pittsburgh and South Philadelphia, Pa., he joined the Binghamton, N. Y., office in 1946. He is married and has three children.

First Lt. Curtis D. Lee, '55, is stationed at Captieux, France, as finance officer for the U. S. Army Ammunition Depot there. He accepted a regular Army commission in 1960. His wife and two children are in France with him.

Richard P. Halverson, '51, was awarded the doctor of philosophy degree by the University of Minnesota June 10.

Grant Anderson, '38, Cleveland, Ohio, is editor of the Case University "Alumnus." The magazine won first place for the third time in the American Alumni Council Competition among schools with less than 10,000 alumni.

Thomas J. Thomas, '58, formerly with Boeing Aircraft's transport division at Renton, Wash., now is with Lockheed Aircraft at Sunnyvale, Calif. Mrs. Thomas is the former Jean Fenstermacher, '57. They have two children, Paul and Nancy.

William A. Griffin, '58, coordinator of student activities and business teacher at Holtville, Calif., high school the past three years, will teach business education next year at Imperial Valley College. Mrs. Griffin teaches at El Centro high school. They have two children, Billi Sue, 4, and John Earl, 2. They will continue to reside in Holtville.

Norman H. Cruse, '59, has been named city editor of the Dickinson, N. D., Press. He formerly was managing editor of the Winner, S. D. Advocate and on the staff of the New Rockford, N. D., Transcript. He is married and has one daughter.

Report From the Campus

By J. Lloyd Stone

Summer session enrollment at the University is the largest in history.

At the end of the third day of the session, 1,538 students had enrolled compared to 1,389 at the same time last year, when the previous high registration was reached.

This year's enrollment includes 988 men and 550 women—with more than half of the total, 797, enrolled in the Graduate School.

Enrollment figures do not include the hundreds of persons attending summer workshops and institutes at the University.

Girls from nearly every community of the state concluded a week-long session of the 15th annual Flicker-tail Girls State on the campus. A record number of delegates, 463, attended this year's session. They were housed in Bek and Walsh Halls, men's residences on campus. Last year's attendance was 436 and the girls seem to get prettier and sweeter every year.

Summer is one of the busiest times of all at UND.

In addition to regular summer session courses, no less than twenty workshops, institutes and short courses are on this year's schedule.

The six that already have been held were well attended, and the programs highly rewarding for those taking part.

The completed workshops were those in aerospace education, guidance, high school history teaching, alcohol studies, and economic education.

Still ahead are these sessions:

July 5, 6 and 7—World Institute on the Teaching of Typewriting.

July 17 to July 21—Administrators' Conference Workshop.

July 10 to July 21—Institute in Human Relations.

July 18 to July 29—Science-Mathematics Institute for Talented High School Students.

July 24 to August 4—Summer Science Institute for Elementary Teachers.

Under way are these events: speech and hearing clinic, international music camp, college teachers' research participation, undergraduate student research participation, summer foreign language institute, high school science-mathematics teaching institute, and linguistic institute.

The recently completed new North Dakota State PTA Headquarters building in Bismarck has been named for the late M. Beatrice Johnstone, '91, prominent educator who served as state PTA president from 1930 to 1934. Miss Johnstone's niece, Mrs. Grace Rhonemus of the UND faculty, spoke at the dedication of the building in April.

Athletic records of the University have been greatly enhanced by donation of a set of scrap books concerning UND athletics in the late 1920's, early 1930's and several post-war years by Mrs. Omer Scouton of Long Beach, Calif. The scrap books were compiled by the late Omer Scouton, a long-time resident of Inkster, N. D.

These fine athletic scrap books prove again of Mr. Scouton's deep interest in UND and its athletic teams over the years.

The scrap books have been turned over to Lee Bohnet, sports information director, who says they will be very useful in assembling athletic history and improve school records. Bohnet has been engaged in research of old files of the Grand Forks Herald to complete UND records for the past year.

Two of Mr. Scouton's sons are UND graduates. Donald is with the Internal Revenue Service at Minot and Bill is on the staff of U. S. Senator Quentin Burdick in Washington, D. C.

Emphasizing the service its facilities provide for many state organizations, the University turned over its fieldhouse June 17 to the Nodak Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., for its 21st annual meeting. More than 4,000 members of the co-op attended.

We Are Sorry . . .

1. That captions became jumbled on the pictures of the Los Angeles alumni meeting in the May Review. The description under the top picture belonged with the third one down, and vice versa.
2. That we slipped and again used the inelegant contraction, Frisco, to describe wondrous San Francisco—as we did in the April issue. Once more we apologize to Col. A. G. Texley, '27, and his California cohorts. It won't happen again!

While college enrollments have increased 120 per cent in North Dakota since 1951, the big "crush" is still ahead. Alumni planning to send their sons and daughters to UND should bear this in mind.

Added increases at UND and other state colleges are expected to reach another 50 per cent by 1968. The largest bulge in enrollments will come between 1964 and 1966, due to the big birth increase of 1945-47.

About 13,000 children were born in 1945, in 1946 more than 15,000, and the following year, they topped the 17,000 mark. Since that time, the yearly birth rate seems to have leveled off.

However, with larger percentage of high school graduates going to college each year, and more adults going back to school, by 1970, North Dakota colleges and universities should have a total enrollment well above 18,000.

The University awarded 77 spring sport letters to varsity and freshmen athletes in four sports. The 77 spring awards brings the 1960-61 season total in 10 UND sports to 222, including 103 varsity and 118 freshmen athletes. Spring awards include 14 in baseball, 14 in track and field, and four each in golf and tennis. Freshmen awards include 22 in baseball, eight in track and field, five in golf and six in tennis.

Alumni News Notes

Mrs. Elsie Wolf Moore, '08, has been the guest of Mrs. M. C. Bachelor in Winter Haven, Fla. Mrs. Moore returned recently from a trip on which she visited young women in Japan, the Philippines, Thailand, Greece and other nations. They had resided in the House for Graduate Students at the University of Wisconsin which Mrs. Moore had managed for the past 15 years. The House is under the sponsorship of the Madison Branch of the American Association of University Women. From Winter Haven, Mrs. Moore planned to go to the home of a daughter in Charlottesville, Va.

William C. McCulloch, '21, has been installed as 1961 chairman of the industrial minerals division of the Society of Mining Engineers. He is president of the Chicago operation of Roberts and Schaefer Co., engaged in the engineering and construction of coal mining facilities and related enterprises.

Bob Peters, '60, has been named freshman hockey coach at UND. Last year he was hockey coach at East Grand Forks, Minn., high school. A native of Fort Frances, Ont., he is a former Sioux goalie.

State Alumni Sessions Go Over Big

By DR. E. L. Grinnell
Retiring President, UND
Alumni Association

Meetings of Alumni groups within the state have been unusually successful this year. April 20, the Williston Club rolled out the western style hospitality carpet. A large number of alumni drove in from the surrounding territory to help make the meeting a resounding success. A Grand Forks group consisting of the Stones, Grinnells, Ben Gustafson, and Dean Thormodsgard were in attendance. After the formal meeting, an informal reunion at the Elk's Club was thoroughly enjoyed.

The Grand Forks group drove back to Minot for a meeting the next evening. Enroute the Stones and Grinnells stopped to convey greetings to Bigelow Neal, North Dakota's novelist, who has four UND alumni in his family. The Neal's live in a beautiful home overlooking Lake Darling and are charming hosts. It was a real pleasure to visit with the man who has written several animal stories that are destined to become minor classics.

The Minot meeting was held at the new Officer's Club at the Air Base. The delegation from Grand Forks was joined by the Leonard Marti's, Dean Lium, John Howard, and Dr. O. W. Johnson of Rugby. An overflow crowd taxed the capacity of the Officer's Club dining room. In spite of the delay due to the unexpected crowd, everyone was in high spirits and maestro John Howard got the gang to raising the roof with the well loved and well remembered UND songs.

A notable feature of the western meetings was the large number of recent graduates who turned out, many of them driving long distances to share in the fun and renew old acquaintances.

Our very sincere congratulations go to the committees in both Williston and Minot for a job well done.

The April 28 meeting at Fargo, however, wins the old UND "Od Zo Zi" for uniqueness. Here a truly dedicated committee went to extreme pains to recapture not only the spirit and atmosphere of old UND but the physical features as well.

The Country Club was turned into a lovely miniature campus and one could spend a few delightful moments in chemistry (the bar), and wander around in the moon light on the coulee bank (a grassy knoll behind the club). The Common's, the library, Old Main, and other nooks claimed their devotees. And all around were mementos of the past—old yearbooks, copies of the Student, and a gallery of photos. It was well done and we extend hearty congratulations and appreciation.

New officers of the Fargo group for 1960-61 are Lowell Lundberg, who succeeds Prentiss H. Cole as president; Steve Myhra, vice president, and Mrs. Morris Callihan, secretary-treasurer.

The delegation attending the Fargo meeting from Grand Forks was composed of the Stones, Grinnells, Witmers, Marti's, Dean Thormodsgard, and Dean Lium.

Nowhere, I'm sure has there been a larger or more enthusiastic gathering of alumni. They were out for fun and they had it. After the business meeting, an excellent orchestra played for dancing which was thoroughly enjoyed by the younger set. Dean Thormodsgard did not miss a dance.

43 Attend 4th Iowa Club Session

Fred Loy, '32, of Des Moines was elected president of the Iowa UND Alumni Club at the group's fourth annual meeting at Cedar Rapids, Ia. Forty-three persons attended the event.

Blake Garske, '50, of Waterloo was named vice president and Mrs. George Bang (Marlene Thompson, '52), secretary.

Following dinner at the Ranch Supper Club south of Cedar Rapids, Mr. and Mrs.

Jim Seifert entertained the group at their home.

In attendance were:

9 Contests on 1961 Sioux Football Schedule

One of the toughest football schedules undertaken by the University has been announced by Athletic Director L. R. Marti. Nine contests are on the 1961 schedule.

Highlights of the schedule include two non-conference games with the University of Nebraska of the Big Eight Conference and Youngstown University of Youngstown, Ohio, on a home and home game basis.

"The Nebraska game is a tremendous challenge and a game all our players are looking forward to," said UND Head Coach Marv (Whitey) Helling.

"We are very pleased with our home and home arrangement with Youngstown. They are a major independent in the Ohio area and Youngstown has often been referred to as the football hub of America," Helling continued.

The other non-conference game is with Montana State College here. "Our game with Montana State is the continuation of what is now a traditional rivalry," the coach said.

In all the Sioux will play four games at home, three against North Central Conference opponents, and five on the road, including three NCC games.

The complete schedule:
Sept. 16—Montana State College (night)
Sept. 23—At University of Nebraska (day)
Sept. 30—*Morningside College (night)
Oct. 7—*At University of South Dakota

Oct. 14—*South Dakota State (Homecoming) day
Oct. 28—*At State College of Iowa (formerly ISTC)
Nov. 4—At Youngstown University
Nov. 11—*Augustana College
*—North Central Conference games.

Two Represent UND at Inaugurals

Two University of North Dakota alumni represented the UND and Dr. G. W. Starcher, its president, at recent inaugurations of new college presidents.

Philip W. West, '36, was present for the inauguration of Dr. Herbert E. Longenecker as president of Tulane University at New Orleans.

Dr. Chester R. Dietz, '41, of Wilmington, Del., was present for the inaugural of Dr. Luna I. Mishoe as president of Delaware State College.

Exterior Completed

Exterior work on the $1,000,000 Chester Fritz Library at the University was completed as workmen finished brickwork on the impressive tower that will grace the structure. Work on installing marble facing on pillars, painting and putting in lighting is progressing at a rapid pace. The building is scheduled for use in September.

New Library Receives Recognition by AEC

The University Chester Fritz Library has been designated as a depository for Atomic Energy Commission reports.

The library will be the only such depository in North Dakota. As a result of the designation, about 39,000 AEC reports will be deposited at the library, some 10,000 of them in full size and the remainder in micro-ard form.

Designation of the library as an AEC depository is a real distinction and will provide much material of interest to North Dakota scientists. It recognizes the facilities, size of library and scientific interest at the school.

HEADS LETTERMEN

Bill Leifur of Bismarck, a three-sport athlete, has been elected president of the University of North Dakota on-campus Lettermen's Club for the 1961-62 school year.

ELECTED CO-CAPTAINS

Elected co-captains of the 1962 UND baseball team are Ken Weber of Ada, Minn., and Larry Exel of Minneapolis.

One of Nation's Great-- U Wins High Praise As 516 Get Degrees

"You are about to be graduated from one of the nation's great universities," U. S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies, '27, of Fargo told the 516 students who received degrees at UND's 1961 June commencement.

"Do not forget it—the University of North Dakota is just that," Judge Davies said.

The sun never sets on UND alumni, the jurist commented.

"In every part of the world you will find famous graduates of the University of North Dakota—titans of industry, explorers, scientists, men of letters, outstanding professional and business men and women," he said.

SET UP AWARD

A new $100 annual scholarship has been established to go annually to an outstanding junior majoring in physical education for women. Named for Mrs. Grace O. Rhonemus, the award has been set up by Alpha Nu chapter of Delta Psi Kappa.

U Graduate Unit Wins Recognition

UND will be a charter member of a new organization of the top 100 graduate schools in America, the Council of Graduate Schools in the U. S.

The University has formally accepted the invitation to join the new organization which is composed of the 100 graduate schools in the U. S. which have granted a substantial number of doctoral degrees in a broad variety of fields. The doctorate is the highest academic degree attainable.

The new organization will be a spokesman for graduate education in America, and develop conferences, research and other programs for its improvement and advancement.

Other area schools invited to membership in the organization include the University of Minnesota, Iowa and Iowa State, Nebraska and Nebraska State, Denver, Colorado, Oregon and Oregon State, and Washington and Washington State.

The University of North Dakota granted its first graduate degree in 1894, a master of arts. The first doctoral degree, a Ph.D., was granted in 1912.

Since then, some 2,488 graduate degrees, including 135 doctoral degrees, have been granted by UND.
