Grad Enrollment Tops 300

Grads Keep Him Busy

DAKOTA STUDENT PHOTOGRAPH BY WILLIAM S. SWANSON.

Busy with registration is Dr. A. V. Overn, professor of education, as he helps two graduate students register. Pictured from left to right are Overn, seated; Marvin Bronken of McVille and Robert J. Reimler of Glencoe, Minn. The graduate student enrollment for this summer is the largest in the history of the University.

A Message from the President:

'Welcome to UND'

To those of you who are on the campus for the first time this summer—and to returning students and "old grads"—I extend a most hearty welcome to the University. I hope that you will find profit and pleasure in the academic and recreational programs which have been arranged for you.

Summer sessions usually have a unique characteristic. Here, more than at any other time, younger students find themselves in classes with mature men and women, many of whom have had valuable experience in fields related to their studies. It is a golden opportunity to learn from each other.

With six new buildings in the construction or planning stages, the campus is emerging from the pioneer period of its youth into maturity as

All Records For Division Are Shattered

Shattering all previous records, 314 graduate students enrolled this summer in the University's graduate division. This compares with the previous high of 262 last summer and 185 in '48.

A total of 753 students are registered for summer classwork which got under way Tuesday morning. Of these, 575 are male registrants and 178 are women.

Last summer the registration totaled 890 students and the 1948 session saw 852 enrollees. The all-time high enrollment was 978, set in the summer of 1947.

All-School Picnic Slated for Tuesday

Highlighting the summer session's recreational program will be the all-campus picnic scheduled for Tuesday, June 20 at the picnic grounds across from the coulee.

There will be something for everyone to do with prizes and candy for the children. Lunch will be served at 6 p. m. and there will be a campfire and group singing for the late-stayers. Even the bugs will be taken care of—with plenty of spray.

Tickets may be obtained at the Business Office before noon, Monday, June 19.

a state University. An institution is the "lengthened shadow" of its people. As we prosper as a University, so may each of you prosper as a result of your work here.

Editorial:

Gone--But We Can't Forget

The beginning of another summer school session brings back to the minds of many the untimely death and loss of an integral part of the University. He is Dean J. V. Breitwieser.

For 23 years Dean Breitwieser served as summer school director. Capable and aptly? Yes, because this was his job and he knew only how to do a job well. But it was more than just doing a duty, for he did it willingly, eagerly because he knew the summer school was giving something to others. This kind of work Dean Breitwieser knew best.

The summer school schedule included all the courses the graduate students sought and afforded the under-graduate the chance to get ahead or catch up on that lost credit.

He wisely planned a recreation period that offered the chance for the students and faculty to become better acquainted. That Dean Breitwieser wanted this close student-faculty relationship was shown—for his office door was open early and closed late so his students could always turn to him.

A hard worker, his death occurred on his return from a schedule of speeches made to alumni groups throughout the country.

For those who knew him we need not speak. For those who did not meet him, you missed a lasting friendship that death itself cannot take away.—J. L.

PTA Event on Schedule

The University will sponsor a Parent-Teacher association workshop on the campus June 29-30, headed by State President Mrs. H. D. Lohse of Fargo and the national chairman of the committee on International relations of the national PTA congress, Mrs. Gertrude Flyte.

The conference here will be the last of six at North Dakota colleges.

Unit presidents and other officers from PTA organizations in north-eastern North Dakota will be invited.

University Faculty Member D. J. Robertson, assistant to the president, is in charge of arrangements, assisted by UND Alumni Director J. Lloyd Stone.

Summer Play Tryouts Held

Tryouts for the play "Swan Song" by Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur were conducted Thursday in Room 19 of Merrifield hall. Andrew J. Kochman, acting head of the University speech department, was in charge of the tryouts and he will also direct the dramatic production.

"Swan Song" will be produced instead of Pirandello's "Six Characters in Search of an Author," which was originally scheduled. Kochman felt, after much thought and consultation, that Pirandello's play was not well suited for a summer session and that the "Swan Song" was more appropriate.

"Swan Song" is a three act psychological melodrama.

Legion Convention Gets 'U' Cooperation

The co-operation the University gave the American Legion probably helped make its convention such an apparent success.

Various places on campus housed over 200 Legion delegates for their week-end stay in Grand Forks, according to Loren Swanson, housing director.

KFJM Director Names Staff, Calls Audition

Andrew J. Kochman, director of the university radio station, KFJM, announces a summer staff of four members.

Student staff members include Murray Page of Bottineau, production assistant; Kent Alm of Binford, chief announcer; Clyde Kobberdahl of Grand Forks, music director and Allan Richards of Grand Forks, continuity editor.

KFJM will be in operation throughout the summer sessions, according to Kochman. Monday and Tuesday auditions were arranged for all students interested in radio announcing, acting, writing, radio production, music and control room operating. He stressed the fact that experience in radio work is not necessary.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Contributions to the Summer Session Student, such as letters to the editor, news items, etc., are welcomed by the staff. Bring them—or any suggestions you may have—to Room 4, Merrifield.

Organize 1950 Summer Chorus, Set Rehearsals

Plans for the summer school chorus began to formulate at the organization meeting Tuesday, Prof. Hywel C. Rowland, chorus director, said.

Poor attendance marked the first meeting, but this didn't discourage Rowland as he set June 20 as the first rehearsal date.

The rehearsals will be held in preparation for the chorus' presentation at summer school commencement exercises. Other appearance dates for the chorus may be set later, Rowland said.

He explained that the chorus is open to anyone interested. Undergraduates may receive one-half credit for participation, Rowland stated.

Violin Concert Opens Summer Convocation

Summer session convocations opened Tuesday morning with a violin concert by Clair Wellman, whose techniques have been compared by critics with that of Jascha Heifetz.

Accompanied by Edith Aamodt on the piano, she played the second and last movements from Wieniawski's Concerto in D Minor, Saint-Saens' Introduction et Rondo Capriccioso, Le Clair's Sarabande et Tambourin, Dance of Shoe Maker by Sarasate, Valse Sentimentale by Schubert, and the Round of the Goblins by Bazzini. For an encore she played Saint-Saens' The Swan.

Miss Wellman gave her first concert when she was 6½ years old, played with the Minnehaha academy orchestra when she was seven, and won a $300 award in the Schubert club contest in the Twin Cities when she was 11. She also appeared over the National Broadcasting company in New York for two years with Phil Spitalny's All Girl orchestra.

COME ON BACK

Two big events are on the UND fall schedule—Homecoming, October 14 and Dad's Day, October 28.

Attention Grads:

Audio-Visual Education Adds Something New

By JOANNE LARSON

Mendel Sherman, visiting professor of education at the University, brings with him the newest addition to this summer's curriculum.

Sherman, supervisor of audio-visual aids for Cincinnati public schools, began his seminar for graduate students in audio-visual education Wednesday. He will also teach a course in the methods of educational research and will direct these related to this field.

Purpose of the course, Sherman said, is to help the 30 graduate students enrolled to equip themselves in the use and administration of visual aids in their own schools.

The course will also help the students to criticize films and evaluate them to see which will be best for their own school's use, Sherman explained.

Sherman has produced films, made in the Cincinnati schools, showing the use of visual aids in classroom situations. He has received national prominence in the field of selection, organization and use of visual and auditory aids to instruction and has also contributed articles to "Educational Screen."

Outside this country Sherman has assisted the Danish royal army and navy at Copenhagen in their work in the visual education field.

He was a captain in the United States army and received a citation for work in connection with the central film library, repair shop and depot in the armed forces, at Paris and Frankfurt.

In Frankfurt he worked as chief of the training film operation branch in the European theatre in charge of the Signal corps.

Before going to Cincinnati, Sherman had taught in one room schools and served as assistant principal and principal of other schools.

Japanese Leader To Speak Tuesday

Tuesday's guest convocation speaker will be Shinji Iwamura, one of the few graduates of the Imperial University of Japan. Iwamura, the grandson of a distinguished Christian leader, is a member of the Christian ministry.

'After-School Program Has '57 Varieties'

In addition to sports, the summer recreation program has many interesting events on top for summer session students. These events include:

Annual outing to Turtle River State park, near Arvilla, July 16.

Movies, every Tuesday night.

Band concerts, June 28, July 12 and 26.

Convocations, every Tuesday morning.

Chorus Singing, every Tuesday evening.

Dances, every Thursday evening.

Campus play, July 20 and 21.

Orchestra, every Wednesday evening.

Tour, state mill and elevator, July 24.

"Something for everyone" is Director John Quaday's aim.

Director Says Housing Setup 'Under Control'

The housing situation is fairly well under control this summer according to Loren Swanson, housing director. The turnover in Park and Tennis villages was high with over 40 families vacating. The huts in Princeton village will be moved back about 300 feet to make room for the new men's dormitory, which will be started soon, Swanson said.

Single summer students are being housed in halls and dorms and over 50 families have been taken care of through subletting, Swanson said.

Things Change Around Here

DAKOTA STUDENT PHOTOGRAPH BY WILLIAM S. SWANSON.

This "hole in the ground" used to be Summer Session headquarters! For 40 years this was the site of Woodworth hall, central location for all summer campus activities. It burned in 1949, was demolished the rest of the way early this year. The site now is being filled in and will be landscaped later.

Recreation? Yours for the Asking!

By LOEL SCHRADER

Looking for a little sports recreation during the summer session?

It's yours for the asking. You can take part in any or all of six sports offered on the summer program. So, there's no reason why you can't keep a trim waistline during the eight-week session.

Softball, golf, swimming, archery, horseshoes and tennis are offered on the summer program. Golf and swimming are regular physical education courses but you need not be a P. E. major or minor to enroll in them.

The softball tourney annually is the highlight of the summer sports program. Regular play will get under way Monday and a first division playoff will be held before final week.

A ladder tournament based on the handicap system will be organized in golf. Registration in the P. E. golf class is not a prerequisite to playing in the tourney. Any member of the student body or faculty may enter the meet.

The archery club will meet every Tuesday and Thursday at 3 p. m. A tournament shoot will climax the session.

Those enrolled in the swimming course will have the opportunity to obtain Red Cross certification as Senior Life Saver plus Water Safety Instructor.

If you care to take part in horseshoes or tennis, sign up on the recreational bulletin board in the lower hall of Old Main or contact John Quaday of the physical education department.

And then, if you're strictly the spectator type, the Grand Forks Chiefs, professional Northern league baseball team, will be here many nights during the eight weeks. In fact, the Chiefs start a 10-day home stand tonight. Go out to Municipal park and look them over.

GIRLS LEAVE

A total of 238 North Dakota high school juniors attended Girls State on the campus last week. The girls packed up and went home Sunday, making room for the oncoming summer sessionites.
