Session to Picnic Tuesday

Noted World Affairs Analyst Speaks at U Next Tuesday

"Where Are We Going in World Affairs?" will be the topic of John C. Metcalfe, distinguished journalist and analyst of world affairs, when he speaks at convocation at 11 a.m. Tuesday in the Student Union ballroom.

Metcalfe, who recently returned from an extensive observation tour across Europe, will discuss the facts behind the critical world situation and the personalities and events responsible for the current international problems.

Beginning his journalistic career in 1925, with the Associated Press, Metcalfe became the first reporter to focus national attention to subversive activities. He turned investigator-reporter and spent six months inside the Germany-American Bunds, disguised as a storm trooper and secret agent.

As Washington diplomatic correspondent for Time magazine and the New York Herald Tribune, Metcalfe has covered international conferences in the United States, Latin America and Europe.

Metcalfe holds the famous St. Olav Medal awarded to him by the King of Norway for distinguished journalistic service in World War II, the Chilean government's Legion of Merit decoration for extending

25 IN LEATHERCARVING

Twenty-five persons are enrolled in the leathercarving and tooling class offered by the industrial arts department during the summer session, according to Prof. M. F. Poyzer, leathercraft instructor.

July Fourth Recess Now History

Summer session students ambled back to classes Thursday morning following a one-day Fourth of July vacation, the only break in the summer session schedule.

Some were nursing newly acquired sunburns from picnic expeditions, others were spinning tall yarns about the "one that got away" after fishing trips into Minnesota. Many made the journey home to spend the Fourth with their parents.

Other were just recuperating from "trips" into the downtown section of Grand Forks.

Many Events On Program For Outing

Plans are now being completed for the summer session's annual all-school picnic Tuesday. The picnic will begin at 6 p.m. on the University picnic grounds across the English coulee.

The picnic supper will be served at that time by the Student Union food service with Miss Marie Ferrie in charge.

Following the meal, a program of varied activities has been arranged with physical education department members in charge. Softball, volleyball and horseshoe games for the grownups, and many games for the children are on the program.

Later in the evening, a large fire will be built and group singing is planned.

Informal activities are scheduled before the supper.

Student assistants of the physical education department in charge of the picnic are: Lloyd Volker, Bill Richter, Duane Carlson and Jerome Schempf.

Artificial Ice Soon May Be Reality

Artificial ice, long a dream of University hockey fans, is due to become a reality as a result of the Alumni association's development fund drive.

With $150,000 estimated as the cost of the project, plans call for complete insulation of the Winter Sports building as well as installation of the artificial ice plant.

It is expected that work can begin in 1952.

Editorial:

Blood You Can Bank On

A blood bank as we have here on the campus must operate like a money bank. Blood, to be available must have been deposited previously. That makes sense doesn't it? Before any checks can be written on a bank . . . someone must deposit the money. Well, that's how the blood bank works. In order to protect itself adequately the blood bank on the campus must have donors to supply a continuous supply of blood.

During the regular school year a number of fraternal organizations and other groups on the campus gave 100 per cent to The Medical Center State Health Department Blood Bank. Summer school students are urged to organize through graduate clubs, dormitory groups, or other organizations to continue donations in this same 100 per cent co-operation.

Remember that individuals responsible for deposits may draw upon their credits as the need arises. The program is essentially a form of insurance and not covered by any existing group health plan.

Donations are taken Monday through Friday from 9 to 12 a.m. and Wednesdays from 4 to 6 p.m.

To make an appointment merely call 4-7031 and ask for the Blood Bank. You'll get the particulars . . . don't forget "A Pint of Blood May Save Your Life."

Campus Poll:

What Students Are Thinking

By RICHARD GORRELL

"What do you think of the summer recreation program." This question was put to a number of summer sessionites and the reaction was entirely favorable.

Robert Rystad, sophomore, SLA—"I think the set up is fine but it seems to be better for the graduate students than the younger fellows. I would like to see more tournament play such as baseball and tennis."

Malcolm Davis, senior, commerce—"It's really ok. In fact its almost too much. I especially like the facilities available at the Student union such as bowling, table tennis and pool."

Clifford Herman, senior, education—"There is certainly plenty of recreation. The recreation department is doing a good job this session. My only complaint is that I haven't time to take advantage of all this going on."

Waiva Jasper, junior physical education—"Most of the younger girls at the hall (Davis) are interested especially in the dances and archery. I participate in archery and the Thursday night square dances. I would like to see more dances scheduled. It would be wonderful if there was a swimming pool on campus."

TIPS ON CONVO

Here are some hints for convocation-goers. Amos Martin, Student Union manager, suggested that it would be helpful if those who arrive early sit in the front rows, leaving the back of the ballroom for late comers. And Chairman John Howard urges the audience to arrive early enough to allow seating by 11:05 a.m. so the convocation program may start on time.

465 GET DEGREES

The University conferred degrees on 465 seniors last month, 2d biggest graduating class in history.

With most students no longer suffering from "Battle Fatigue" . . . Battle Fatigue is what the firecracker lighters in Grand Forks call a good time . . . most summer session students were glad to read that 200 new laws went into effect July 1. One of them in particular would be mighty welcome. "Prohibits the sale of fireworks in N. D. next year."

One young summer session attendant didn't fare too well in his effort to get dated with a co-ed and remarked, "I'm just like the Grand Forks Chiefs . . . I can't win away from home."

Scholarship Drive Reaches $30,000

The fund drive now under way, designed to match the $250,000 J. T. F. O'Connor scholarship fund, has reached $30,000, Lloyd Stone, alumni director said this week.

Under the terms of the O'Connor will, the University has been granted approximately $250,000, providing that this amount be matched. The money becomes available upon the death of the last O'Connor heir, Stone said.

Some 14,000 alumni and friends of the University are being solicited to complete the matching fund, he said.

The fund will be administered by University officials and the alumni board of directors when the money becomes available, he said. The question of eligibility and amount of grants has not been decided, he added.

Merrifield hall, temporary Education school headquarters, was opened in 1929.

More than Recreation!

Union Affords Part-Time Student Job Possibilities

By MARY ANN HEDER

The Student Union is more than a recreational center for 40 University students this summer. They are employed as part-time workers in the new building in almost all types of work.

More students than ever will now be able to work their way through school with such opportunities for employment on campus and not too much experience is required by the various positions. Even more workers will be needed during the regular school year when the enrollment is about three times that of the summer session.

Students employed this summer at the Student Union include Norman Gilbertson, Grand Forks, with general office work and part time store clerking; Howard Hill, Ellendale; John Moore, Evanston, Ill.; and Don Anderson, Grand Forks, as game room supervisors. Harlan Geiger, Kenmare, is manager of the bowling alley while William Kupper, Dickinson, assists with administration.

Those assisting with getting the show ready or in the position of assistant cooks are Calvin Andrist, Bernard Gustafson and Jack Stuart of Grand Forks; Bill Francis, New Rockford; Harlan Geiger, Kenmare; Mike Kelly, Hillsboro; John Norby, Devils Lake, and Phillip Sandstrom, San Diego, Calif. Several of these serve as bus boys part time.

Students working with the snack bar as bus boys, waitresses and counter clerks are Juel Thompson, Lake Park, Minn.; Cliff Herman, Kulm; Norman Locklin, Grand Forks; Marcia Melicher, Burbank, Calif.; John Pancratz, Fargo, Don Svoboda, Jamestown; Nancy Jirik, Mapleton, and Gen Wiessner, Nusbess. Gladys Aslakson, Ambrose; Delphine Hedlund, Gully, Minn.; Mary Reilly, Grand Forks, and Ruth Mathre serve as bus girls and waitresses.

Workers credited with keeping the food hot on the cafeteria steam table are Inez Vieland, Sentinel Butte; Adelaide Dunn, Pinckneyville, Ill.; and Roger Natwick, Buxton. Others working at the cafeteria counter are Moore and Marcella Wagner, Wishek, salad counter girls.

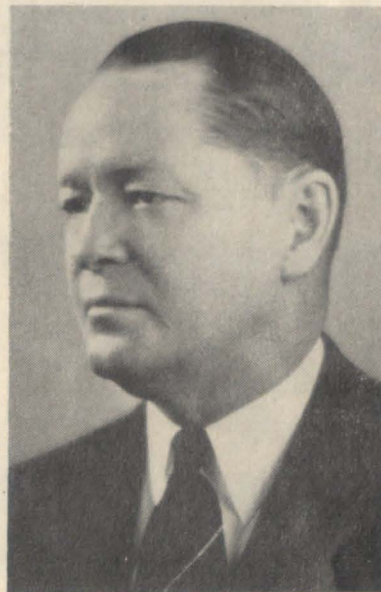

Dishwashers who have an excuse for red hands are pot and pan washers Randolph Hubbell, British Guiana; Louis Poiries, Sykeston; Gene Luth Newkirk, Okla.; and Bill Williams, Dick Myres and Fred Martin of Fargo.

Others gainfully employed at the Union building are Al Shipman, busboy, Fargo; Rueven Poston, checker, Grand Forks, and Yutaka Koneshiro, potato peeler, Honolulu, Hawaii.

Holding the position of assistant professor of education in 1935 and 1936, he became associate professor of education and director of the teachers placement bureau in 1936. In 1944, Mr. Page was elected president of the University alumni association and began working with the State Medical center. In 1946, he was appointed director of the center.

All-Campus Picnic Set for Arvilla

Here's a chance to take the whole family out to a Sunday picnic at Arvilla state park, as another part of the summer recreation program for students, faculty and their families.

All those interested in attending the event which will take place July 22 should sign up now at the information desk in the Student Union. There will be no charge, and buses will be provided. The Union food service will prepare picnic bag lunches and free coffee will be served at the picnic area.

Amos Martin, Union director, and John Quaday, recreation head, urged those interested to sign up as soon as possible.

Quaday Swimmers Gain Experience, Conduct EGF Class

The University men's swimming class will conduct swimming instruction classes for East Grand Forks children this summer, according to John L. Quaday, swimming instructor of the physical education department.

Quaday's students will teach children from 6 to 6:45 p.m. each day Monday through Friday. Each student will be assigned four children and the class will accommodate between 50 and 60 pupils.

Quaday asserted that "this will represent an opportunity for me to observe potential teachers under actual conditions, and the course will be constructive not only to the children of East Grand Forks, but to my students as well."

Twenty are enrolled in the women's beginning and advanced swimming classes. Gladys Aslakson, physical education major who graduates this summer, is the assistant teacher for this class. In spite of chilly weather, the girls have been able to do preliminary work.

2 UND Musicians In Intercollegiate Band

Ronald Warcup, baritone horn player, and Donald Paul, cornetist, have been chosen for the 1951 Intercollegiate band to be conducted by Thor Johnson, director of the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra, at the University of Indiana July 26 to 29. Disclose Plans, Estimates For Fieldhouse Swim Pool

Plans and specifications for the University fieldhouse swimming pool were disclosed this week by Leonard Marti, physical education director. Marti said some work would be done on the pool this summer but that the completion date depends on the Alumni fund drive now in progress. Total cost of the pool is estimated at between $80,000 and $90,000.

Blueprints show the pool will be located in the northwest corner of the fieldhouse and will run lengthwise north to south.

Specifications are as follows:

Length 75 ft., width, 36 ft. Six 6 ft. competition lanes. Maximum depth 12 ft., minimum depth three and one-half ft. Diving boards: one 3 meter and one 1 meter board at the deep end of pool.

Marti said there would be a total spectator seating capacity of 500.

Other work on the fieldhouse is progressing satisfactorily, Marti said, with the main building enclosed and concrete for the bleachers about to be poured.

No physical education classes will be held in the armory next fall as the fieldhouse will be usable by October 1 with facilities completed January 1, Marti said.

Glenn Jarrett, University athletic director, said definite information is not available concerning the Class A Basketball tournament chairman, ushers, ticket takers and housing, pending further arrangements.

Jarrett hopes to have a record crowd for the 1952 tournament with the most successful financial record in Class A tournament history. He said that crowds had been turned away from the tournament in other North Dakota cities but that the huge seating capacity of the fieldhouse should accommodate all comers to the tournament.

Sage Advice: Wait for Paths Then Lay Walks

By MARY ANN HEDER

President John C. West said it in 1938. Now they're doing it!

It was August, 1938, when President West said, "Sidewalks on a campus should never be laid until three years after the buildings are constructed. Watch and see where paths are made and there build your walks."

So it's not a maze of psychological testing purposes that the buildings and grounds is constructing on campus but rather sidewalks spread all directions from one building to the next where students have made paths.

Perhaps one could say as the By-stander said in 1938, "The trouble is not with the walkers, it's with the engineers who didn't put the walks in the right places."

Lutheran Students Go On Outing Tonight

Lutheran students on campus will meet at the United Lutheran church at 6:30 tonight for a picnic and roller skating outing to Crookston. Open houses are planned for the Lutheran Student house, 315 Cambridge, every Friday evening during the summer session. Student-led Bible studies are held each Tuesday and Friday night at the LSA house. Leaders for the next two weeks will be Phyllis Erickson, Grand Forks, and Grace and Ruth Mathre, Oslo, Minn.

20 Co-eds Enrolled In Golf Instruction

Twenty co-eds have enrolled for the golf class which meets daily at 1 p. m. Most of the time is used in practicing strokes but on Wednesday nine holes are played. President Lokken will be on campus July 12 and will be honored by the Phi Delta Kappa, national honorary education fraternity at a dinner meeting in the Student Union.

Dr. Lokken will discuss the improvement of the status of teacher supply and certification standards in rural and urban elementary and secondary schools, the areas of cooperation between state colleges and the University of North Dakota and will conclude with his views on the improvement of public education in North Dakota.

Featured yesterday was President C. P. Lura of Mayville state teachers college who appeared at seminars and class meetings to discuss his opinions on the same subject.

Presidents C. E. Scott of Dickinson state teachers and C. C. Swain, Minot state teachers are also scheduled to appear later this month under the same campus visitation of college presidents program, as set up by Dean Garold D. Holstine, head of the University school of education.

The second largest summer session enrollment in University history was completed last week with 914 students signing up for classes, according to Registrar Ruby McKenzie.

Included in the total are 462 graduate students, a record for that division for any term, and 461 veterans, many of whom enrolled to beat the July 25 deadline on G. I. bill of rights educational benefits.

Speech Clinic Work Moves Ahead Rapidly

Work in the speech clinic is moving forward as planned, reports Roy Sanford, in charge. One more student enrolled this week. The first week stressed getting acquainted. This week additional interviews with the parents were conducted to determine how they might be of more help to the student. Convocation Artist Plays Liszt, Chopin In Piano Recital

Katherine Johnson, concert pianist, proved herself to be an outstanding performer and a highly personable artist in her presentation of compositions by Mozart, Liszt, Debussy, Brahms, Gershwin and Chopin at convocation Tuesday in the Student Union.

Mrs. Johnson, who is a pupil of the eminent pianist and teacher Egon Petri, opened her program with variations of Shuman's compositions. Her selections by Debussy showed much color. Playing Chopin's "F-Sharp Nocturne" and "Waltz" in the third part of her program, Mrs. Johnson really thrilled her audience with her closing selection, the "Sixth Hungarian Rhapsody."

Mrs. Johnson is the wife of Merritt Johnson, former head of the piano and organ department at Wesley college and now head of the music department at Northern State Teachers college, Aberdeen, S. D. She recently gave recitals in 16 states and was featured at the biennial convention of the National Federation of Music clubs at Salt Lake City in May. Mrs. Johnson teaches piano at Northern STC.

The annual Parent-Teacher conference workshop which was conducted last week at the University was termed a "success," by Dr. Garold D. Holstine, dean of the school of education.

Over 380 people attended the two-day event, about 300 officially registered, those including summer session students and 75 delegates from towns throughout the state. Bismarck, Grand Forks, Fargo, Jamesown, Minot and Mayville were represented.

The conference dwelt on such high-points as certification of teachers to raise the standards in rural and urban secondary and elementary schools, safety in education, parent education in civil defense, education of handicapped children, and mental health practices and procedures.

In general the conference devoted itself to expanding the effectiveness of Parent-Teacher co-operation, and was conducted through the co-operation of the University and the state Parent Teachers association.

The event will be topped off with a picnic in the adjacent park area. Coffee will be provided free for this highlight of the summer recreation program.

Paddle Your Canoe! New Summer Sport Added To Coulee 'Beach' Activity

The canoe dock on the bank of the English coulee has been completed and canoeing, another activity provided free by the summer session recreational program, will be open to all students.

Don Layton, student assistant in charge of the summer playground on the banks of the coulee, stated that many students are making use of the activities provided, and attendance is increasing each week.

Layton also said that if enough persons wished the grounds to be open on Saturdays and Sundays, accommodations could be made. Persons desiring to make use of the activities during those days should make their requests known, and a weekend schedule may be devised.

Establish Breitwieser Fund For Loans to Students

The Breitwieser Memorial Loan fund, founded in May, 1950, now has $500 available for loans, according to fund chairman Dr. A. V. Overn, head of the graduate division.

The fund was established in response to a number of people donating money to the University in memory of J. V. Breitwieser, former dean of the school of education who died in a plane crash in Minneapolis in March 1949.

The plane in which Dean Breitwieser and 14 others lost their lives, crashed into a Minneapolis home near Wold-Chamberlin airfield during a blizzard.

The Graduate club, meeting this spring, donated $1,000 to the fund but that amount is to be matched by the current $500,000 fund drive now being conducted. When the drive is completed the Breitwieser fund should be enriched by $2,000 or more, Dr. Overn said.

So far no loans have been made or applications received, he said. The money is on deposit with the University.

Loans are made on proper security and no interest is charged students until the loan recipients graduation, according to Dr. Overn. There are no limitations as to amount that can be loaned, he added.

When donations began coming, in memory of Dean Breitwieser, University President John C. West established a committee to set up an organization to handle the fund. Appointed were Prof. C. Kjerstad, chairman, Dr. Overn, A. J. Bjork and H. E. French, dean emeritus of the medical school.

The administration of the fund is now in the hands of a committee consisting of Dr. Overn, chairman; W. E. Olson, University business manager; one member from Sigma Xi, honorary scientific fraternity Prof. M. H. Chetrick; one member from Phi Delta Kappa, education fraternity, Walter Loomer, Grand Forks public school employee; and one graduate club member, Howard Hill, a graduate student here.

U Avenue Paving To Cost $401,000

Cost of repaving University avenue from North Tenth street to the English coulee bridge was estimated at $401,000, as the project was placed before the Grand Forks city council Monday. Preliminary steps toward getting the work under way were taken by the council, and contracts will be awarded later. Preliminary work on the street, which is to be resurfaced with asphalt concrete paving, is to be completed by October this year, with the actual repaving to be finished by July, 1952.

Theses Provide Valuable Source Of Research Data

By DON DE KREY

Most college students think of a thesis as an extended term-paper, written to please a requirement conscious committee, then filed away and forgotten.

However, most graduate students and Dr. A. V. Overn, director of the graduate division will tell you far differently.

Writing a thesis is a difficult and time-consuming process which as Dr. Overn puts it, "gives the candidate valuable training in conducting a critical investigation under supervision."

The candidate for a degree plans and writes his thesis. Then he takes an oral examination which is open to the public. Most of these examinations, Dr. Overn said, are held in Merrifield 214 from 3 to 4 p.m.

After the oral examination and thesis approval, the thesis is registered at the registrars office and four copies are prepared. The candidate's committee signs approval sheets which are bound with the thesis.

One copy of the thesis is kept by the graduate. The second copy is now filed at the department from which the student obtained his degree or at the graduate office. In former years this second copy was submitted to the U. S. Office of Education which kept a number of thesis written on file.

The third and fourth copies remain in the University library. Many of these thesis serve as valuable reference material containing information on field work and surveys which is available in no other book or periodical, Dr. Overn said. Through an inter-library loan plan, thesis written at most colleges are available to students all over the U. S.

For example, our library contains one master's thesis, written on adult education, which has been checked out over 30 times not including the number of times it has been examined in the library by graduate students. Many of these loans were to students in other colleges and universities.

Some Changes Made:

9 'Greek' Houses Open

Nine fraternity houses and one sorority house are open this summer to provide housing for University students although their "families" are somewhat reduced.

The Gamma Phi house, pink castle at the end of the avenue, has 17 girls staying there. Mrs. and Mrs. Olger Myhre of Pembina are back for their fourth year to act as house-mother and housefather while Myhre is completing requirements for his Ph.D.

U Power Plant Expansion Set Up In Three Phases

The contract for the first stage in a three phase expansion of the University's power plant has been sent to the state board of higher education for approval, according to E. W. Olson, University business manager.

Stage one, a light cable from the power plant to the northwest corner of the campus to serve the two new dormitories being constructed there, will be let to Kehne Electric company, Grand Forks, if approved, Olson said.

Kehne submitted a bid of $16,975. It was the lowest of three bids submitted.

Bids for phase two, a steam line designated to serve Chandler hall, Princeton hall and the two new dormitories will be opened July 17, Olson said.

The third stage includes the installation of one new boiler, raising the roof and extending the east wall of the power plant, Olson said.

The University has $400,000 available in funds appropriated by the state legislature to complete the job. Pfeifer and Schultz, Minneapolis engineering concern, is working on plans and specifications for the last two phases now, Olson said.

$1,775 FOR UNION

A total of $1,775 was donated to the Student Union equipment fund by the 1951 Flickertail Follies, UND variety show.

The Sigma Nu house is housing 10 members this summer while the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house has 22 residents, including a married couple living in the basement apartment. The Lambda Chi Theta house is open to 17 while the Delta Tau Delta house is housing 15.

A little extra-social activity has been added to the summer by the 13 Sigma Chi's living in their house. Last week they entertained the girls at the Gamma Phi house with an open house and picnic. There are 8 members of Phi Delta Theta living in their house across the coulee.

Alpha Tau Omega house residents are thinking about organizing a softball team among their 18 summer residents. There are eight residents at the Kappa Sigma fraternity house including an alumni member and his wife. For recreation, the Kappa Sigs have organized a golf team.

At the Tau Kappa Epsilon house, there are five members living this summer while the house is also serving as living quarters for a family while the father is attending graduate school. Meals are not being served in any of the houses as they are during the regular school year.

July 25 Deadline Nears for Veterans

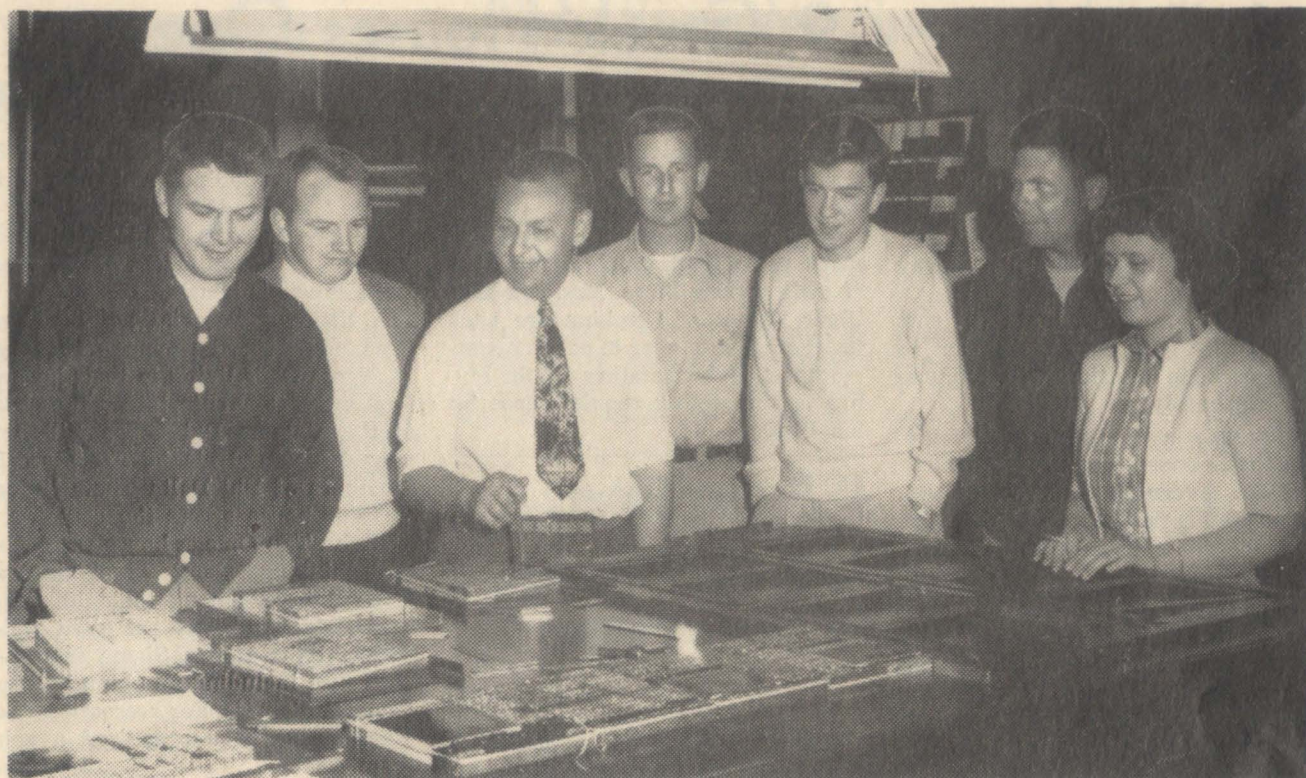

Graduate students who are taking G. I. benefits must be working toward a degree to continue receiving aid under the G. I. bill after the July deadline, A. W. Cole, head of the campus V. A. office, said.

Haphazard course schedules will not entitle a student to work under the bill, Cole added. It is important he stated, that students contact the V. A. office while they are in school and show their intention of working toward a definite goal.

Cole feels it is the individual's responsibility to make sure that his status is satisfactory with the V. A. office.

He stressed the fact that the student's intention of working toward a degree must be made while he is in pursuit of training.

A survey this week revealed 14 states and one territory were represented among the 257 cars parked on the campus.

The home state held a large majority, 77 per cent, while its neighbor, Minnesota, had 14 per cent.

Two cars found their way from California, Illinois, South Dakota, and Montana. Singly represented were Washington, Texas, Oklahoma, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, South Carolina and Indiana.

All the way from Alaska came the car "territorial" representative.
