THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA SCHOOL OF MEDICINE AND HEALTH SCIENCES, founded in 1905, was a two-year school of basic medical science until 1973 when the North Dakota Legislature approved initiation of a four-year curriculum leading to the doctor of medicine degree. The school offers a statewide, university-based, community-integrated medical education program which places an emphasis on primary care. Practicing physicians throughout the state constitute the majority of the faculty.

The mission of the University of North Dakota School of Medicine and Health Sciences is to educate and prepare North Dakota residents as physicians, medical scientists and other health professionals for service to the people of North Dakota and the nation, and to advance medical knowledge through research.

The first two years of medical education are provided at the UND campus in Grand Forks, third year in hospitals in Fargo and Bismarck, and fourth year in clinical rotations at Grand Forks, Minot, Bismarck and Fargo. Portions of the curriculum also are conducted in smaller communities throughout North Dakota. Medical students also have the opportunity to experience training in other parts of the country and even the world.

In recent years, the school has developed and initiated a combined M.D./Ph.D. program which permits the student to pursue a terminal degree in one of the basic science disciplines while earning the doctor of medicine degree. One graduate of this class, James G. Mehus, has completed requirements for these degrees.

The UND School of Medicine and Health Sciences also offers postgraduate residency training in family medicine, internal medicine, general surgery and psychiatry, and a one-year transitional program.

The educational program also includes graduate study in clinical laboratory science and physical therapy as well as the basic sciences of anatomy and cell biology, biochemistry and molecular biology, microbiology and immunology, pharmacology, physiology, and therapeutics. Undergraduate study is offered in cytotechnology, athletic training, clinical laboratory science and occupational therapy. An intensive, one-year certificate program is offered for those wishing to become physician assistants.

THE CONTEMPORARY OATH of HIPPOCRATES

Today, in the presence of family, friends, teachers and colleagues,
I dedicate myself to the profession of Medicine.

I pledge myself to the service of humanity.
I will use my skills to care for all in need, without bias and with openness of spirit.

The health of my patients will be my first concern.

I vow to hold sacred the bond between doctor and patient.

I will hold in confidence all that my patients entrust to me.

I will strive to alleviate suffering.

I will respect the dignity and autonomy of my patients in living and in dying.

As a Physician, I recognize my duty to society.

I will work to promote health and prevent disease.

I will advocate for the welfare of my community.

Even under duress, I will not use my knowledge or my skills against humanity.

I will acknowledge my limitations and my mistakes so that I may learn from them.

To uphold these responsibilities, I will maintain my own well-being and the well-being of those close to me.

I will promote the integrity of the practice of Medicine.

In the tradition of my profession, I honor all who teach me this Art.

Through honest and respectful collaboration with my colleagues,

I will uphold the highest standards in the service of patients.

I will seek new knowledge, reexamine ideas and practices of the past, and teach what I have learned.

Above all, the health of my patients will be my first concern.

This Oath I take freely and upon my honor.

RECESSIONAL

Voluntary on "Alma Mater"

Note: This ceremony will be broadcast over UND-TV (Channel 3 on Grand Forks cable system, TCI of North Dakota) at 7 p.m., Tuesday, May 9, and Wednesday, May 10.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Drew Pinsky, M.D., who grew up in Pasadena, California, attended Amherst College and earned the doctor of medicine (M.D.) degree from the University of Southern California (USC) School of Medicine. He completed residency training in internal medicine at USC County Hospital and was appointed to serve as chief resident at Huntington Hospital in Pasadena.

A board-certified internist and addictionologist, he is medical director for the Department of Chemical Dependency Services and chief of service in the Department of Medicine at Las Encinas Hospital in Pasadena. He also runs a private clinical medicine practice.

He is editor-in-chief of drDrew.com, a website offering information and discussion concerning health questions and issues such as depression, relationships, pregnancy, and surviving college. He also co-hosts a popular, late-night, syndicated radio show, "Loveline." He is in his 13th year of working on the radio show, which has expanded to an MTV program.

He and his wife, Susan, have six-year-old triplets: two boys and a girl.
