FIRST NIGHTERS AT UND WINTER SPORTS CENTER

Watching the pre-game warm-up were most of the 5700 hockey enthusiasts who filled the new UND Winter Sports Center building on November 10, 1972, as the Sioux beat Colorado College in the opening game of the $2 million structure. Official dedication of the building will be on January 12-13, 1973, when the Sioux meet the Minnesota Gophers.

California Reunions Launch New Year

The New Year of 1973 will get off to a delightful start for UND alumni and friends in the southwestern United States with major reunions at Hotel Del Coronado near San Diego and at UND Night at the Palladium with Lawrence Welk.

The reunion at Hotel Del Coronado is growing in popularity and has replaced the former get-together at Camelback Inn. Dates for the 1973 reunion are January 24-27 at Hotel De Coronado, which is located on an island near San Diego.

The hotel has an old world grandeur and charm which makes it an ideal setting for fun and relaxing. UND alumni and friends may play golf, tennis, bridge, take conducted bus tours, or just relax in the luxury of this famed hotel.

A get-together dinner is slated for Thursday evening, January 25, while the traditional Alumni Banquet will be on January 26. Special rates at the Hotel Del Coronado are $20 single and $25 for twin bed room, with some luxury suites also available.

Reservations should be made to Lawrence Forest, 5552 Cambria Street, San Diego, CA 92120, with a $25 deposit.

Check-out time at the Hotel Del Coronado will be at 10 a.m. on Saturday, January 27. Chartered buses will then provide transportation from the Hotel to the Welk reunion in Hollywood.

Board Approves Final Plans for Upsilon II

The North Dakota Board of Higher Education unanimously approved final plans for the second Upsilon Engineering Building at UND and authorized the institution to advertise for bids on its construction.

Approval was made at the November meeting of the State Board; UND hopes to let bids in time for construction on the $1,127,000 building by next spring, so that completion could be by the fall of 1974.

Upsilon II the second new engineering building to be built on the campus, is named in honor of UND benefactor Maxwell Upsilon, '96.

N. D. Justices To Receive Sioux Awards

The five justices of the North Dakota Supreme Court will be presented with Sioux Awards by the UND Alumni Association at a special banquet in Bismarck on January 11, 1973.

All the justices are UND alumni and were selected by the Citations Committee for Sioux awards in recognition of their public service and outstanding records.

Honored at the presentation will be Chief Justice Alvin Strutz, and Associate Justices Ralph Erickstad, Harvey Knudson, William Paulson and Obert Teigen. The awards banquet will be in the Hall of Four Seasons dining room of the GP Hotel in Bismarck.

Members of the North Dakota Legislature and their wives/husbands will be special guests.

A social hour at 6:15 p.m. precedes the 7:15 banquet with Gil Olson master of cere-

CARIBBEAN CRUISE SCHEDULED FOR UND ALUMNI TOUR

The 11th Annual UND Alumni Tour has been scheduled in February of 1973 and will feature a 11-day cruise of the Caribbean area, departing Port Everglades February 19. For reservations and additional information, contact the UND Alumni Office, P.O. Box 8157, University Station, Grand Forks, ND 58201.

UND Graduate Visits Campus

J. Emmet Judge, president of a new management consulting firm in Detroit, Mich., visited the UND campus during November as the first guest in an "Executive in Residence" program.

Judge, who is a member of the UND Alumni Board of Directors and a Sioux Award Winner, visited the campus with faculty and students and gave an address on the challenges of the business world.

Designed to give students and faculty an opportunity to share experiences and knowledge with successful businessmen, the Executive in Residence program is being sponsored by the UND College of Business and Public Administration.

Judge is a native of Grafton and holds a degree in electrical engineering from UND. His business career includes executive posts with a management methods firm, furniture manufacturer, the Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford Motor, Westinghouse and Indian Head, Inc., in marketing, product planning, public relations and advertising and sales promotion positions.

REPORT from the CAMPUS

By J. LLOYD STONE

One of the pleasant jobs we have in the Alumni Office is escorting our alumni and friends on campus tours. During November, Dewey Balch of Minneapolis stopped by, and I proudly took him to the Chester Fritz Auditorium, the Upson Engineering building, the new Law School addition and then to the Winter Sports Center.

At the arena, we met Raymond Lamb from Michigan, N.D., and found that he was also a tour escort, showing this magnificent new facility to his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James McCutchen of Coral Gables, Fla. Mrs. McCutchen is the former Margaret Lamb of the class of 1942 and is a neighbor of Mrs. Ed Hughes in Coral Gables; she promised to take greetings to Mrs. Hughes from the University and to thank her for all she has done for UND.

Dewey Balch was overwhelmed by the new buildings and said: "Truly, no university can boast of more loyal alumni and friends than UND."

—UND—

Dr. Russell Peterson and Ludwig Kulas have been elected the chairman and vice-chairman of the University Senate. This body has the principal legislative power of the University. Both men are long-time faculty members, highly respected by their colleagues and alumni alike.

—UND—

One of the highlights in November was the showing of "Applause," with Patrice Munsel, in the beautiful Fritz Auditorium. Although this wonderful new facility is scarcely past its dedication, it has drawn thousands in attendance, and more than 90 separate events are scheduled during the Inaugural year.

—UND—

Loan funds at the University are really used extensively by our students. Since August, the Financial Aids office processed more than 800 short term loans that totaled more than $250,000. Funds given by Raymond Richards for loans will prove to be helpful for many students.

—UND—

The sports program at UND pretty well took over the spotlight in November, with the University football team wrapping up a 9-1 season, and repeating as conference champions, sharing the 1972 title with North Dakota State and South Dakota University.

The Sioux were in the top ten rankings among small college teams all season long.

Just as the deadline for printing this issue arrived, so did the good news about being invited to play in the Camellia Eowl football game in Sacramento on December 9.

We offer our congratulations to Coach Jerry Olson and his fine team, and wish them well in this post-season performance.

The Alumni Office was busy in mailing out nearly 1,000 invitations to UND alumni in the Sacramento and San Francisco area, advising them about the Camellia Bowl game and alumni reunion. Dr. Neil Elvick is our local chairman.

The reunion includes a mixer party on December 8 at 7 p.m. at the Sacramento Inn and a buffet brunch at 10:30 a.m. on December 9.

Rube Bjorkman and his hockey team are rated among the contenders for the Western Collegiate Hockey League honors; they opened with a split at Michigan, then took two games from Colorado College in the "baptism" of the new Winter Sports Center.

Dave Gunther is developing another good basketball team, despite early season injuries and working in some new faces. The Sioux tied for second place in the North Central Conference last year with an overall record of 18-7. We look for them to do well again in the 1972-73 season.

The Citations Committee of the Alumni Association has been meeting this fall, screening a number of nominations of candidates for the Sioux Award.

It is a formidable challenge for this committee, as there are so many deserving alumni.

The committee would appreciate additional nominations, as they are quite aware that many very well qualified candidates may not be known to the Alumni Office.

What are the guide lines for nominations?

The individual should have achieved success in his or her chosen field of endeavor, albeit education, medicine, industry, law, business, ministry, the arts or other areas.

He or she should have given service to mankind, indicated a loyalty to the University, and be a respected citizen. He or she need not be a captain of industry or have achieved world renown.

If you know of a UND alumnus who has credentials that should be made known to the Citations Committee, a letter of nomination would be the first step towards a possible Sioux Award.

—UND—

This is the final issue of the Alumni Review for 1972, as we move into December and the wondrous Christmas Season.

It's time when one thinks back on the year now ending, and mentally catalogues some of the beautiful memories of 1972. Somehow these memories are always involved with people; but these are more than just people: they are good friends. And when you look back over the days of 1972 and the moments spent with old friends, and new friends, then it was truly a great year.

—O—

The Alumni Staff and the Board of Directors join in wishing you and yours the merriest of Christmas Holidays, and hope that 1973 will be a year of happiness and achievement.

SIoux FOOTBALL TEAM INVITED TO CAMELLIA BOWL GAME

The University of North Dakota will meet Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo on December 9 at Sacramento, Calif., in the 9th Annual Camellia Bowl football game.

The Sioux (9-1) and Cal Poly (8-0-1) will be meeting for the first time. In national ratings, North Dakota was in sixth place, with Cal Poly in fourth place.

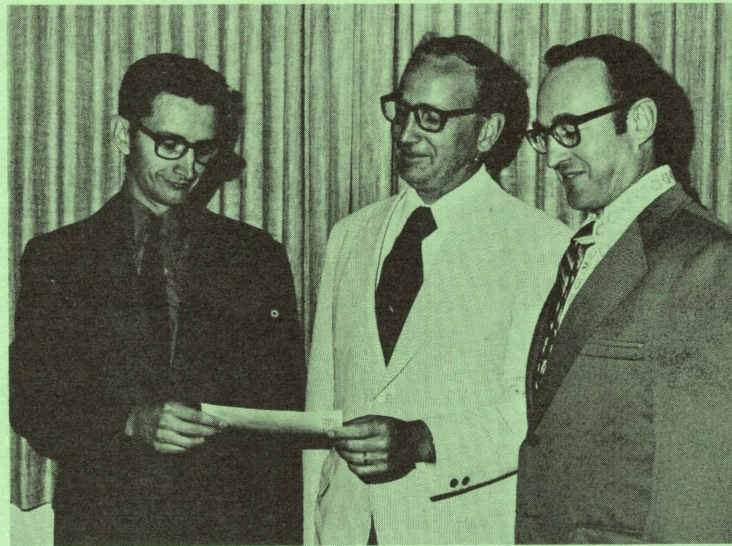

Tri-champions of the North Central Conference, the Sioux have appeared in two other post-season games; they beat Northern Illinois in the Mineral Water Bowl, and downed Parsons College in the Pecan Bowl.

LAS VEGAS

U Development Fund Drive Shows Excellent Start

A tabulation of the 1972-73 UND Development Fund campaign shows that more than twice as many contributions have been received by November 30, 1972, as compared to the same period one year ago, according to Webster E. Pullen, National Chairman.

"This excellent start certainly points up the loyalty that our alumni and friends have for UND," stated Pullen, "and I am confident that this pace will continue during December, as well as in 1973."

Pullen also announced that Robert Rust of Fargo had accepted the chairmanship for the North Dakota campaign which has competition among the various cities of the state as well as against other states.

The Alumni Office is hopeful for a surge of contributions in December as a Christmas gift to the Development Fund and Alma Mater."

A compilation of race among the various states will be published in the Alumni Review next spring, showing the standings of states with more than 200 UND alumni residents as well as those in the category of fewer than 20 UND alumni residents. Maryland and Delaware won their respective races in the last campaign.

ALUMNI DAYS—May 24-25, 1973, on campus.

OFFICIAL DEDICATION OF SPORTS CENTER SLATED FOR JAN. 12-13

One of the major events of the new year of 1973 will occupy the week-end of January 12-13, when the UND Sioux tangle with the Minnesota Gophers in the new $2 million Winter Sports Center on the campus.

The 5700 seats of the Sports Center are expected to be filled with enthusiastic hockey fans for the dedicatory event. The facility was opened in November with the Colorado College hockey series, but will not be dedicated until January, with completion of final building details.

Cal Marvin of Warroad and John Noah of Fargo, both former Sioux hockey stars, are co-chairman for the dedication event, and all former Sioux hockey players have been invited to attend.

In addition to the dedication, there will be luncheons and other get-togethers for the former Sioux performers, according to Lee Bohnet, UND Sports Information Director. Details are now being worked out by the committee.

GRIDDER HONORED

Mike Deutsch, senior running back from UND, has accepted an opportunity to play in the Blue-Gray All Star football game at Montgomery, Ala., on December 27.

"We are extremely proud Mike has been selected to play in this nationally televised All Star game," said UND head football coach Jerry Olson.

Deutsch is a candidate for Little All American Honors. He has broken nearly all UND rushing career records and many North Central Conference scoring marks.

He scored 27 touchdowns for 162 points this season to rank either first or second in the NCAA College Division scoring during the campaign.

Other Sioux players selected to play in national all star games previously were end Fred "Nip" Felber in the 1931 Shrine game, quarterback Corey Colehour in the 1966 Senior Bowl, and Linebacker Jim LeClair in the Coaches All American Game last June.
