Attendance Encouraged At Planning Forums

All members of the UND community are encouraged to join me and the Planning Council for two conversations about the future of our University. The sessions will take place at noon Friday, April 11, in the Memorial Union Ballroom, and at 7 p.m. Monday, April 14, in the Engelstad Arena Loft. This is an opportunity for early input into the revision of the University Planning Council's three-year planning document, which will be redrafted over the summer for discussion and finalization in the fall. The existing planning document can be accessed on UND's World Wide Web home page at <http://und.nodak.edu>, or by calling the President's Office at 777-2121. -- Kendall Baker, President.

Planning Council Sponsors Video Conference Forums

The University of North Dakota Planning Council is sponsoring UND's participation in a national live video conference on Thursday, April 10 on the subject of "The New Public University: How Do We Compete in a Changing Environment?" The session, from noon to 2 p.m., will take place in 1360 Bio-LRC, Medical Science North, and is free and open to the public. Please note the change in location.

Produced by the Public Broadcasting Service, the video conference will feature a panel made up of Constantine Curtis, President of Clemson University and a member of the Kellogg Commission to explore the public university mission; Gil Whitaker, Professor of Business Administration and former Provost of the University of Michigan; Judith Eaton, Chancellor of the Minnesota State College and Universities; and Colorado Governor Roy Romer, Chair of the National Education Goals Panel. The panel will address the question, "If you could design the ideal public university for today's world, what choices would you make?" Among topics to be considered are expected to be the need to restructure and re-order the public university; successful institutional models that meet community and corporate needs; involving and motivating faculty, students and community to change; competition outside the academy; new delivery systems; ensuring diversity; and using alternative learning assessments. -- Dave Vorland, Assistant to the President and Recording Secretary to the Planning Council, 3-16-97.

Meeting Will Discuss Faculty Research Exchange

There will be a meeting to discuss a preliminary proposal for the Faculty Interdisciplinary Research Exchange (FIRE) from noon to 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 8, in the Pembina Roosevelt Room, Memorial Union. Facilitators will be Joseph Plaud (Psychology) and Serge von Duvillard (HPER).

The purpose of the exchange is to foster interdisciplinary research by the faculty of the University. The mission of the University is a diverse one; however, research activities are central to the foundation of UND and its mission to promote a scholarship of discovery. Research activities enhance undergraduate and graduate education, promote the state of North Dakota as a leader in scientific advancement in multiple fields, is a significant component in technological advancement, and serves to attract and retain the best and brightest faculty and students in our geographical region.

Although faculty work diligently to conduct research and compose and submit research and program grant proposals to private and public agencies, through FIRE the Office of Research and Program Development (ORPD) can work with the faculty to promote a more intensive and socially reinforcing environment for faculty to interact and collaborate on research and grant-writing activities. The Faculty Interdisciplinary Research Committee, a faculty-initiated project with cooperation from ORPD and UND administration, will serve a number of critical functions to promote the scholarship of discovery at UND, including:

1. Provide for faculty from all departments at UND to gather together and discuss research projects, and be recognized by their colleagues for their efforts. An interdisciplinary socially reinforcing atmosphere will optimize efforts for faculty at UND to interact with each other, get to know each other, and work together on research projects of mutual interest;
  2. Provide an interdisciplinary faculty forum to identify and collaborate on research projects that otherwise would not be undertaken in a more isolated environment (i.e., at the level of individual departments);
  3. Facilitate interdisciplinary grant-writing activities;
  4. Set up seminars dedicated to research and grant-writing basics and advanced issues so that faculty may be able to submit more competitive grants;
  5. Allow ORPD to work more directly with faculty, and sponsor research-related activities such as seed grants and research fellowships;
  6. Bring the diverse UND campus together on a common theme of great significance: research and its benefits to the people of North Dakota;
  7. Allow faculty to have a forum to discuss and develop their research ideas, ask questions, and receive feedback from their expert colleagues.
- Therefore, the goal of FIRE is to "fire up" the faculty to work together in the production of empirical research and grant-writing activities, which should not only benefit the faculty involved, but also the University as a whole. We hope to see you at our organizational meeting. -- Joe Plaud, Assistant Professor of Psychology.

FLOOD INFORMATION

President Issues Flood Statement

We anticipate that the University of North Dakota will remain open for the remainder of the semester. Classes will meet as usual during the flood emergency, unless a specific announcement to the contrary is made by the President as the result of unforeseen circumstances. Students are encouraged to volunteer for flood related duties at times they are not in class. As is the case generally, faculty are asked to be as accommodating as possible in those individual instances when personal emergencies or impassible road conditions make it impossible for students to get to campus.

University employees are encouraged to help the city prepare for the impending flood, and to participate in flood control and flood fighting activities as become necessary. Employees who wish to take time off during work hours to deal with personal flood emergencies or to assist as a volunteer should arrange leave with their supervisors. Unless UND closes due to severe flood conditions, or unless the employee is participating in a flood-related activity sponsored and coordinated by the University, annual leave must be taken following normal procedures. -- Kendall Baker, President, 4-1-97.

Flood Coordination Team Named

The University has appointed a three-person team to coordinate UND's response to the flood emergency. Al Hoffarth, vice president for operations, will serve as over all manager of UND's flood fighting effort. Reporting to him will be LeRoy Sondrol, Director of Plant Services, who will be in charge of protection of the UND campus, and Mark Thompson, Director of Career Services, who will coordinate UND staff and student volunteers, UND-sponsored community service activity, and liaison with the academic division and with student government.--Kendall L. Baker, President.

Protect Equipment From Flood Threat

State Fire and Tornado provides the insurance coverage for all state-owned facilities and equipment. Flood damage is a covered loss, but only at a minimal level ($10,000 per occurrence). The University has obtained additional flood insurance for three high-risk facilities on campus: Hughes Fine Arts Center, Wilkerson and Smith Hall. This additional insurance is on the structure only. Therefore, ALL departments are strongly encouraged to take the necessary action to protect their equipment and supplies. Appropriate action may include moving equipment from basement areas and/or raising equipment off the floor. If you have any questions, please call. -- Pat Hanson, Director of Payroll, 7-4228, or Leroy Sondrol, Director of Physical Plant, 7-2592.

Web Page Gives Flood Information

A World Wide Web page has been developed which contains the official University flood policy and gives flood updates, as well as links to other sites containing flood information. It may be accessed through UNInfo at <http://www.und.edu>. -- Jan Orvik, Co-Manager, UNInfo.

RWIC Provides Flood Information On WWW, Cable

The Regional Weather Information Center (RWIC) has developed a World Wide Web site with the latest flood information for the Greater Grand Forks area and emergency contact phone numbers. The address for the WWW site is:
<http://www.rwic.und.edu/flood/>

The website is developed and maintained by the staff of the Regional Weather Information Center. We are working closely with the Grand Forks Emergency Management Office to make available important information to the public including emergency phone numbers and information about how to volunteer for the sandbagging operation. When the dike walking effort begins, we'll also have information online about how to volunteer for those activities.

Also available is the latest river level information. The automated system collects the river level data directly from the river level gauge. Information on river level change over the past hour, 12 hours, and 24 hours is also presented. Flood safety information from the Red Cross and the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), and information from the City of Grand Forks on how to prepare and protect your home from flood damage is posted on the site.

Also scheduled to begin soon is flood information broadcast on UND Channel 3 on the TCI cable television system in the Grand Forks/East Grand Forks area. The cable service will provide river level information, emergency phone numbers and other information from the Grand Forks Emergency Management Office. This service will also originate from RWIC and is made possible through the cooperation of UND TV. -- Leon Osborne, Director, Regional Weather Information Center.

Volunteer Safely

Following are safety tips for flood volunteers.

Some flood assistance/work may be dangerous and physically challenging. If you volunteer, be sure the tasks in which you participate will in no way present a danger to your health and/or safety or the health and/or safety of others. Medications for colds, lack of sleep, and other circumstances may make you feel less alert; if this is the case, please refrain from volunteering as the flood waters and flood assistance/work may be hazardous.

Important: You should get a tetanus shot if you have not received one in the last 10 years (students, faculty, and staff may receive a free tetanus shot from Student Health in O'Kelly Hall).

Possible suggestions on how to volunteer safely:

Wear appropriate clothing

*Dress in appropriate layers of clothing so you may respond to weather conditions (wear caps or other head gear)

*Wear waterproof gear on top of other layers if working in wet conditions

*Should you need to remove a layer of clothing be sure to keep waterproof gear as top layer

*Wear sturdy work shoes that go above the ankle if possible

*Outer protective foot covering(s) should have good tread and provide foot protection

*Cover your hands with work gloves

*Do not wear contact lenses (wear safety glasses whenever possible or appropriate)

*Wear snug fitting clothing that is less likely to catch on objects

*No short sleeves or short pants

Working Safely

*There are usually jobs for everyone; make sure the task(s) you are undertaking is/are within your capabilities

*Use team lifting for anything over 30 pounds and for bulky items

*When performing a repetitive task, make sure to take frequent breaks and change your position as often as possible

*Avoid walking in flood waters whenever possible; if you find yourself in standing or flowing water, walk carefully and avoid splashing

*Always work in teams. Never attempt any tasks on your own

*When working around any moving equipment, exercise extreme caution

*If asked, operate only equipment you are qualified to operate and follow all safety guidelines

*Do not eat, drink, smoke/chew, or apply cosmetics while working in the flood effort until after you have thoroughly washed your hands and face

When you go home

*Immediately shower, washing thoroughly using an antibacterial soap (Life Boy, Dial, etc.)

*Wash all clothing including undergarments using a disinfecting detergent (Arm and Hammer etc.)

*Check yourself for any unnoticed cuts or scrapes; treat appropriately, or if necessary contact your health care provider

*If you experience any gastrointestinal distress (stomach pain, diarrhea, nausea), contact your health care provider.

-- Mark Thompson (Law), Flood Volunteer Coordinator.

EVENTS TO NOTE

Dean's Hour Lecture Will Consider Euthanasia

The School of Medicine and Health Sciences Dean's Hour seminar will feature a presentation by Marsha Fowler, Professor of Theology and Nursing and Director of Health Ministries Programs, San Francisco Theological Seminar. She will discuss "Assisted Suicide and Euthanasia," at noon Friday, April 4, in the Reed T. Keller Auditorium, Room 1350, Wold Bio-Information Learning Resources Center, Health Sciences Building. -- Thomas Norris, Executive Associate Dean, Academic Affairs and Research, School of Medicine and Health Sciences.

Conference To Discuss Genetics

The Department of Pediatrics/Genetics will present a conference, "Practical Genetics in Primary Health Care" on Friday, April 4, via Interactive Video Network at Gamble Hall. Nationally known experts will present information on gene testing for breast cancer, fetal alcohol syndrome screening, diabetes and other common adult diseases, diabetes prevention trials in North Dakota, sorting out the diagnosis of ADHD, DD, and MR, and harmful exposures during pregnancy.

The conference is free to students. Please call Mary Ebertowski, Department of Pediatrics, for more information, before April 1, at 777-4243. -- Mary Ebertowski, Nurse Geneticist, Pediatrics/Genetics.

Grand Forks Native To Give Lecture

The Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology will present a special lecture at 10 a.m. Friday, April 4, in 1360 Clifford Haugen Lecture Hall, Medical Science. "Gene Expression Associated with Chromosome 6-Mediated Tumor Suppression of Human Cutaneous Malignant Melanoma" will be presented by Michael Ray, Department of Human Genetics, University of Michigan School of Medicine in Ann Arbor. An informal reception will immediately follow the presentation and all are invited.

Michael Ray is a native of Grand Forks and graduated at the top of his class from Red River High School in 1986. He attended Concordia College in Moorhead, and graduated summa cum laude in 1990. Dr. Ray then was accepted into the M.D./Ph.D. Medical Scientist Training Program at the University of Michigan School of Medicine. He recently completed his Ph.D. studies at the National Center for Human Genome Research at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md., under the direction of Dr. Jeffrey Trent. The work, begun in the Human Genetics Department at the University of Michigan, transferred to NIH when Dr. Trent was named scientific director of the Human Genome project by Dr. Francis Collins, the project's director. Dr. Ray is co-author of eight full professional papers and eight abstracts of papers presented at professional meetings. He will lecture on studies constituting his Ph.D. dissertation. He has recently returned to Ann Arbor where he is completing his third year of Medicine.

Dr. Ray is the son of Annette and Dr. Paul Ray, distinguished long-time professor of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology at the UND School of Medicine and Health Sciences. -- Robert Nordlie, Professor and Chair of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology.

Soils Expert To Give LEEPS Lecture

A LEEPS (Leading Edge of Earth and Planetary Sciences) lecture and workshop will be presented by Jimmie Richardson, North Dakota State University, on Friday, April 4.

At noon in Leonard Hall Lecture Bowl, Room 100, he will consider "Soils and Groundwater on the Lake Agassiz Plain." From 2 to 4 p.m. in 214 Leonard Hall, he will conduct a Soils and Hydrogeology Workshop.

Dr. Richardson is a dynamic lecturer with a broad base in both geology and soils. The LEEPS Lecture Series is supported by the Department of Geology and Geological Engineering, the Energy and Environmental Research Center, Office of Research and Program Development, Office of Instructional Development and the Advancing Science Excellence in North Dakota (ASEND) Program. All interested persons are welcome to attend. For additional information, contact John Reid at 777-2131. -- Dexter Perkins, Professor of Geology and Geological Engineering.

Computer Science Sets Colloquium

On Friday, April 4, the Computer Science Colloquium Series will present Erik Altmann, Computer Science faculty candidate, from George Mason University. Dr. Altmann will present "A Model of Episodic Memory for External Information" at 10 a.m. in 238 CAS II. All students and faculty are invited. Please join us. -- Bruce Maxwell, Assistant Professor of Computer Science.

Death And Dying Class Will Display Project At Mall

A Sociology class, "Death and Dying," will hold a class project demonstration at the South Forks Plaza Saturday, April 5, featuring a casket filled with cigarette butts. The assignment for the class was to build a life-size casket and make a social statement about some aspect of death and dying, and the group decided to make a statement about smoking and death. The casket and smoking related information provided by public health officials will be on display from noon to 4:30 p.m. -- Morten Ender, Assistant Professor of Sociology.

Honors Students To Host "End of Science" Forum

Honors Program students will host a University-wide forum on "The End of Science" Sunday, April 6, at 6:30 p.m. in 1618 Swanson, Memorial Union. Professors, students and anyone else interested in the topic are invited to attend and share their views. The forum will focus both on the topic and on the book "The End of Science" by John Horgan. For more information, contact me. -- Tami Carmichael, Honors Program, 777-2219.
*****

Graduate Committee Sets Meeting

The Graduate Committee will meet Monday, April 7, at 3:05 p.m. in 305 Twamley Hall. The agenda will include:

1. Report on Energy Engineering graduate program given by Rashid Hasan.
2. Continuation of the subcommittee's report on the Educational Leadership graduate program.
3. Review of the subcommittee's report on the graduate program in Psychology
4. Review of the subcommittee's report on the graduate program in Clinical Laboratory Science.
5. Matters arising.

-- Harvey Knull, Dean, Graduate School.

Biologist Will Discuss N.D. Wilderness

Kathy Armstrong Duttenhefner will present "Wilderness in North Dakota," Monday, April 7, from 6 to 7:30 p.m. in 172 Hyslop Sports Center. Duttenhefner is a biologist with the North Dakota Park and Recreation Department's Nature Preserve and Natural Heritage Inventory Program. She will discuss the status of wilderness lands in North Dakota and the outlook for preserving these areas for future generations. Everyone is welcome to join in the discussion. If you have questions, call me. -- Lynn Anderson, Associate Professor, HPER, 777-2978.

Psychology Announces Colloquium

The Psychology Department will hold a colloquium at which Mark Grabe (Psychology) will present "Consequences of Personal Philosophies of Learning: Educator Beliefs Determining Student Opportunities," Monday, April 7, in Room 102, Nursing Building, from noon to 1 p.m. Everyone is welcome. -- Joan Peterson, Psychology Department.

White Coat Ceremony Set For Medical Students

A white coat ceremony will be conducted at 4 p.m. Monday, April 7, for second-year medical students. The ceremony, set to take place in the Keller Auditorium of the Wold Center, is a growing phenomenon in medical schools throughout the country. It has been adopted as a means of placing a renewed focus on compassion in the education of physicians.

The first white coat ceremony at the School of Medicine was held in August for members of the M.D. Class of 2000. Second-year students, who will leave this month for clinical training in 28 rural communities, will be cloaked in the white coat, a mantle of their profession and a symbol of our belief in their ability to carry on the noble tradition of doctoring. The ceremony is designed to clarify and confirm that a physician's responsibility is not only to take care of patients, but also to care for patients. All faculty, staff, friends and family are invited to attend. -- H. David Wilson, Dean, School of Medicine and Health Sciences.

Time Out And Wacipi Is April 7-13

"Honoring Those Who Have Walked Before Us" is the theme of the Indian Association 28th Annual Time Out and Wacipi, April 7-13. In addition to the Native Media Caucus, April 9-11, (see separate article), the Time Out and Wacipi features a number of presentations and culminates with the annual Pow Wow at the UND Hyslop Sports Center Saturday and Sunday, April 12 and 13.

In addition to the Native Media Caucus events, the Time Out and Wacipi will feature sessions on "Earth Circles: Traditional Wisdom," presented by Lorain Fox Davis; "Discrimination, Partiality and Prejudice and Indigenous Controversy," presented by Vivian Delgado; films "Look Into the Night" and "Follow Your Dreams"; Indian Health Service Conference sponsored by INPSYDE, RAIN and TRIO Programs, Thursday, April 10, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Memorial Union Sioux Room; Indian Economic Development and Tribal Government Conference sponsored by the EAGLE Project, Thursday, April 10, and Friday, April 11, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; "Indian Law and Sovereignty," presented by Shirley Cain, attorney; Omnicye Run, Saturday, April 12, 8 a.m., Hyslop Sports Center; and All Indian Basketball Tournament, Saturday, April 12, 8 a.m. -- Alex Zenzick and Derrek Johnson, Co-Chairs, Time Out and Wacipi.

Learning Disabilities Is Workshop Topic

A faculty half-day workshop will be held Tuesday, April 8, from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the Ramada Inn. The discussion topic will be "Bright Student/Poor Paper: Sharing Ideas for Helping Writers with Learning Disabilities." The workshop is co-sponsored by Disability Support Services (DSS) and the University Writing Program (UWP). Lunch will be served and participants will receive a $75 WAC stipend. Call Writing Across the Curriculum at 777-3600 to sign up by noon Friday, April 4. -- Elizabeth Fletcher Lamb, Learning Disabilities Specialist, Disability Support Services.

News, Law Programming Subject of Free Satellite Seminars

The Northern Interscholastic Press Association (NIPA) at the School of Communication is sponsoring a series of satellite seminars focusing on "Television: The Creative Process." It is free and open to the public. The final two seminars of the series will be held Tuesdays, April 8 and 15. "Creating a Prime-Time News Magazine: 60 Minutes," is scheduled for April 8 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the Memorial Union Lecture Bowl. "60 Minutes" has been at the forefront of television journalism since it first aired in 1968. The show thrives on its eclectic mixture of stories ranging from world events and trends in popular culture to small-town heroes and the famous investigations. Executive producer Don Hewitt, along with several "60 Minutes" on-air personalities, will discuss what makes this Peabody Award-winning show tick.

The fourth and final seminar, "Television and the Courts," will be April 15 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the Memorial Union South Ballroom. The presence of television cameras in the courtroom was a revolutionary concept in 1977, when the Ronney Zamora case in Florida became the first complete trial to be televised. Since then, the climate has changed, as evidenced by Court TV, a cable channel devoted to the coverage of trials. A panel of media and legal professionals will discuss how a court case is transformed into television programming the difference between observing a trial in the courtroom and on television. The panelists will also address the legal and ethical issues raised by television's coverage of the judicial process.

The University Satellite Seminar Series is made possible by General Motors, and is sponsored in Grand Forks by NIPA, the high school journalism program at UND which is celebrating its 75th anniversary. For more information, contact me. -- Peter Johnson, NIPA Director, 777-4317 or peter-johnson@mail.und.nodak.edu.

Native Media Caucus Schedule Listed

The Native Media Caucus: Keeping Traditions Alive Through Communication, will be held Wednesday through Friday, April 9-11. Journalism workshops will be held for tribal college students and Native media professionals. Students from each of the state's tribal colleges are invited to attend. The Native Media Center will provide attendance scholarships for selected students from each tribal college. This scholarship will include the workshops, campus housing for April 10 and 11, meals (including the banquet) and mileage for one vehicle from each tribal college site in North Dakota.

Journalism and media skills are necessary to address the barriers and challenges facing Native people. We hope this workshop will facilitate the growth and development of Native media and introduce students to the skills necessary to begin their own college newspapers.

Participants will also have the opportunity to visit with the new executive director of the Native American Journalists Association.

For Native media professionals, workshops in story development, writing photography and design will give those people already working in the media the opportunity to hone their journalism skills. Journalism professionals from the Grand Forks Herald and the School of Communication will instruct the workshops.

Northern Plains Media Consortium meetings will also be held. The Consortium was formed in 1983 to encourage, inspire, enhance and empower Native communications in the northern plains region. Membership and informational meetings will be held during the Caucus.

The keynote speaker is Harley Straus Visiting Photographer Mary Annette Pember. Pember, Red Cliff Ojibwe, is currently the Picture Editor at the Lexington Herald-Leader, a daily newspaper in Lexington, Ky. She has won numerous awards for her photography, and was one of 12 journalists of color to cover the UN World Conference on Women in Beijing, China. She has been staff photographer for the Oregonian, the Arizona Republic and the Cincinnati Enquirer. Her work has also been published in Ms magazine and the book, "A Circle of Nations, Voices and Visions of American Indians."

Harley Straus taught photojournalism at UND from 1980 until his death in 1989. Shortly before his death, he and his wife, Zena Beth McGlashan, also a School of Communication journalism professor, established the Harley Straus Visiting Photographer Fund to bring outstanding photographers to UND to inspire photography students. The Fund continues to support this endeavor in his memory.

The Environmental Racism and the Media panel discussion will cover issues including environmental policy-making, targeting of minority communities for toxic waste facilities, presence of poisons and pollutants in our communities and leadership of the environmental movement. The conference schedules follows:

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9: 1 to 3 p.m., Conference registration, Native Media Center, 321 O'Kelly Hall; 3 to 5 p.m., Native Media Center Open House, 321 O'Kelly Hall; 6:30 to 8 p.m., Gathering of Communicators and Prayer Ceremony, River Valley Room, Memorial Union.

THURSDAY, APRIL 10: 8 to 9 a.m., Opening Prayer and Continental Breakfast, Lecture Bowl, Memorial Union, with welcome by Mike Saunders, Director of Native Media Center; 9 to 11 a.m., Journalism Workshops, Native Media Center, on "Story Development" and "Interviewing Techniques"; 11 a.m. to noon, Panel on Radio Production; 1 to 4 p.m., Journalism Workshops on "Writing the News" and "Leads and Headlines"; 4:15 to 5 p.m., Northern Plains Media Consortium Business Meeting, River Valley Room, Memorial Union; 7 to 9 p.m., Panel, "Native Women and the Media," with Cheryl Red Eagle, Columnist, and Mary Annette Pember, Photojournalist, Lecture Bowl, Memorial Union.

FRIDAY, APRIL 11: 8 to 9 a.m., Opening Prayer and Continental Breakfast, Lecture Bowl, Memorial Union, with welcome by Harold Iron Shield, Northern Plains Media Consortium; 9 to 11 a.m., Journalism Workshops, Native Media Center, on "Visual Storytelling: Tips on Photography and Design"; 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Panel on "Environmental Racism and the Media," Lecture Bowl, Memorial Union; 1 to 5 p.m., Journalism Workshops, Native Media Center, on "Writing Feature Stories," and "Newspaper Production"; 3 to 4 p.m., Northern Plains Media Consortium Membership Meeting, River Valley Room, Memorial Union; 4 to 5 p.m., Native Media Press Conference, River Valley Room, Memorial Union; 5:30 to 7 p.m., Banquet (provided for paid participants), River Valley Room, Memorial Union, speaker will be Loren Omoto, Executive Director of Native American Journalists Association; 7 to 9 p.m., Presentation by Mary Annette Pember, Red Cliff Ojibwe award-winning photojournalist, Lecture Bowl, Memorial Union.

The conference is sponsored by the Native Media Center, School of Communication; the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation; and the Northern Plains Media Consortium, Moorhead, Minn.

John Vitton To Talk About China Trip

John Vitton (Business and Public Administration) will talk about his teaching experiences and general impressions about the students, faculty and administrators in China on Thursday, April 10, 3 to 4 p.m. in Room 1, Gamble Hall. He spent more than two months teaching Strategic Management (long-range planning) concepts to graduate students at the Beijing Institute of Machinery. He also traveled to Xian, Guilin, Shanghai and Hong Kong. The talk is free and is open to the public. -- Fred Lawrence, Dean, College of Business and Public Administration.

Phi Beta Kappa Lecture Set

This year's Phi Beta Kappa Visiting Scholar is Dennis O'Brien, President Emeritus of the University of Rochester, and previously Professor of Philosophy at Rochester and Bucknell Universities. He will present a lecture Thursday, April 10, at 8 p.m. in 101 Abbott Hall on "The Logic of Cursing." The lecture will address the nature of primary religious discourse from the perspective of its converse, cursing. He is also the speaker in the "Theology for Lunch" series, Thursday, April 10. The noon discussion, at Christus Rex, is on "The Anger World and Theology." Both events are free and open to the public. Dr. O'Brien's visit is sponsored by the UND chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the Department of Philosophy and Religion, Christus Rex, the Newman Center, the College of Arts and Sciences, and the Office of the President. -- Patricia Kelley (Geology and Geological Engineering), Vice President, Phi Beta Kappa.

Christus Rex Presents Asset Building Information

At 7 p.m. Thursday, April 10, Christus Rex will present "What Kids Need to Survive: A Community Conversation on Asset Building," in 210 Clifford Hall. Everyone is welcome to the program, which is free to the public. The presenter will be James Vollbracht from Search Institute.

On Friday, April 11, he will present "A Call to Action Workshop on Asset Building" at Christus Rex, 3012 University Ave. Registration will begin at 8 a.m. and is required. The forms and fee schedule are available at Christus Rex. The presentation will take place from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Vollbracht is sponsored by The Center for Faithful Leadership of Christus Rex with support from United Hospital and Lutheran Brotherhood Branch #8127. Call 775-5581 for more information. -- Tim Megorden, Pastor, Christus Rex.

International Investigators To Present At Research Day

Jan Alexander, Deputy Head at Norway's National Institute of Public Health, Oslo, will deliver the keynote address at the 17th annual Frank Low Research Day Friday, April 11, in the Wold Center, Medical Science.

Alexander is deputy head of the Department of Environmental Medicine and section head of the Division of food Toxicology at the National Institute of Public Health in Norway. He also has experience as a rural physician in the upper regions of Norway.

Alexander, who is visiting the School of Medicine and Health Sciences under the prestigious Burroughs Wellcome Visiting Professor program, will also present the Dean's Hour address at noon Thursday, April 10, in the Keller Auditorium of the Wold Center. His address is titled "Environmental Medicine: A Norwegian Perspective."

David Robinson, Director of the Vascular Research Program, National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., will deliver the Special Invited Guest Lecture during the event. Dr. Robinson also will deliver an address, "The Social Consequences of the New Biology," Saturday, April 12, at The Woodside Center for Interdisciplinary Studies in Mentor, Minn. In this talk, he plans to discuss genetic research and its social and cultural implications. For more information call (218) 637-6600.

The purpose of Frank Low Research Day is to provide a forum for faculty and students to discuss research interests and activities. Held for the first time in the spring of 1981, the day was dedicated in the name of Frank Low upon his retirement as a gesture of recognition for his contributions to research at the school. Dr. Low, who served 17 years in the school, joined the faculty as a Hill Research Professor in 1964. He is continuing his research activities as a Professor Emeritus of Anatomy at Louisiana State University.

The following events will be held in the Wold Center (poster session and demonstration will be in the Fercho and Vennes atria):

APRIL 11, Low Research Day: 8:25 a.m., Opening remarks, Dean H. David Wilson; 8:30 a.m., Willis Sampson (Physiology), "Brain and Pituitary Adrenomedullin: A Physiologically Relevant Role in Fluid and Electrolyte Homeostasis and Cardiovascular Function"; 9:15 a.m., Thomas Hill (Microbiology and Immunology), "The End of DNA Replication as we Know It"; 10:30 a.m., Burroughs Wellcome Visiting Professor: Jan Alexander, Deputy Head, Department of Environmental Medicine and Section head, Division of Food Toxicology at the National Institute of Public Health, Oslo, Norway, "Heterocyclic Amines from Cooked Meat - Biological Fate and Role in Colon Carcinogenesis"; 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., Poster Presentations; 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., The Harley E. French Library of the Health Sciences will demonstrate updated facts and tips on the utilization of the networked versions of "Reference Manager" and "Current Contents." Library personnel will be available to share searching techniques and provide technical advice in the cluster room area adjacent to the Fercho Atrium; 1:30 p.m., William Newman (Internal Medicine, Fargo), "Glucose Monitoring and Diabetes Mellitus"; 2:15 p.m., Special Invited Guest Lecturer: David Robinson, Director, Vascular Research Program, National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute, National Institute of Health, Bethesda, Md., "Cardiovascular Research: Now and in the 21st Century"; 3:15 p.m., Richard Wilsnack (Neuroscience), "How Women Drink: Findings from 15 Years of National Research"; 4 p.m., Announcement of Poster Awards and Closing Remarks.

-- H. David Wilson, Dean, School of Medicine and Health Sciences.

Earth Evolution Is LEEPS Lecture Topic

Two LEEPS (Leading Edge of Earth and Planetary Sciences) Lectures will be presented by Richard Grieve, Geological Survey of Canada in Ottawa on Friday, April 11.

At noon in Leonard Hall Lecture Bowl, Room 100, he will consider "Extraterrestrial Impact: The Record and Consequences for Earth Evolution." At 3 p.m. in 109 Leonard Hall, he will discuss "Understanding the Origin and Evolution of the Sudbury Structure: Then and Now."

The LEEPS lecture series is supported by the Department of Geology and Geological Engineering, the Energy and Environmental Research Center, Office of Research and Program Development, Office of Instructional Development and the Advancing Science Excellence in North Dakota (ASEND) Program. All interested persons are welcome to attend. For additional information contact me. -- Dexter Perkins, Professor of Geology and Geological Engineering.

Health Sciences Library Celebrates Library Week

The Library of the Health Sciences will observe National Library Week April 13-19. The highlight of the week will be the cookbook and used book sale on Wednesday, April 16. Other events will include library tours and demonstrations of electronic journals. Tours will be given on demand, while demonstrations are scheduled on Tuesday, April 15 and Thursday, April 17 in the Library classroom at 10 a.m., noon, and 3 p.m. They are designed to introduce library users to the world of electronic journals. Highlighted during the demonstrations will be Electronic Collections Online, which is now available across campus through the university libraries.

There is still time to donate your used books for the book sale; donations will be accepted through Tuesday, April 15. So far the variety matches last year's sale. In addition to medical books, there are children's books, romances, poetry, biographies, mysteries, dictionaries, textbooks from aviation to zoology, and cookbooks old and new.

The featured cookbook will be the one compiled from the favorite recipes contributed by faculty, staff and students of the School of Medicine and Health Sciences and the College of Nursing. A wide variety of foods are represented in more than 230 recipes. Categories include: Taste Ticklers and Tummy Warmers (appetizers, snacks, soups); Lean, Mean and Green (salads, vegetables, vegetarian dishes); Staff of Life (bread, rolls, cereals, muffins); Put a Little meat on Your Bones (main dishes, casseroles); A Spoon Full of Sugar Makes the Medicine Go Down (bars, cookies, desserts); Just What the Doctor Ordered (favorites of deans and department chairs).

The sale will begin at 9 a.m. and run until 3 p.m. and will be held in the corridor outside the Library. Proceeds will be used to purchase new books for the Library. -- Judy Rieke and Lila Pedersen, Harley E. French Library of the Health Sciences.

Anthropologist Will Discuss Vikings In Minnesota

The Vikings, "Roots or Wrongs: Folk Past in the Midwest" will be presented by Michael Michlovic, Department of Anthropology, Moorhead State University, Tuesday, April 15, at 4 p.m. in the River Valley Room, Memorial Union. Dr. Michlovic has had a long interest in the Kensington Runestone and the Viking myth in Minnesota. He has presented several papers on his research and has used the Viking myth in three publications on folk history. He will discuss the Viking story in order to show how people construct their history much like Levi Strauss said people use human society and its dimensions to create an order in nature. He will suggest how native people in America and other parts of the world develop their history for their own moral and ideological needs in much the same way, and find the professional version of history unsatisfying and distasteful. He will also offer some suggestions about the place of the archaeologist/historian in light of these social realities. -- Fred Schneider, Professor and Chair of Anthropology, 777-4718.

OF ACADEMIC INTEREST

Integrated Studies Provides Information For Advisors

In its 11th year, the Integrated Studies Program continues to help students develop the skills defined in the University general education goals: critical thinking, communication, creative thinking, recognizing relationships, and recognizing and evaluating choices. Work in those areas is organized around a broad semester theme rather than around a specific discipline, and is carried out in a variety of ways including (but not limited to) the following: discussions of texts and library research work, written work, guest presentations, field trips, cooperative projects. The majority of class meetings are in a small group discussion format involving approximately 20 students and one faculty member. The Program is offering credits in each of the four general education categories in fall 1997:

English Composition I: 3 credits, Communications GER
Social Problems: 3 credits, Social Science GER
Humanities I: 4 credits, Arts and Humanities GER Integrated Studies Science: 3 credits, Math, Science & Technology GER*

* The science course has been approved by the General Education Requirements Committee for fulfillment of a three credit science requirement.

The faculty in the Program for fall 1997 will be Pat Sanborn (Philosophy and Humanities), Carl Barrentine (Biology and Humanities), Jan Moen (Sociology), and Burt Thorp (English).

The fall program will be limited to the first 80 students who reserve a place. If you have advisees or know of students who might be interested in more information on the fall program, please have them call the Integrated Studies office at 777-3622, or stop by the office at 301 Babcock Hall. -- Yvonne Holter, Humanities and Integrated Studies.

Summer, Fall Registration Begins April 7

Registration for the 1997 summer term will be from Monday, April 7, through Friday, May 9, and for the fall term from Monday, April 7, through Friday, Sept. 4. Students will register and drop/add using the ALFI System (Access Line For Information). Students who have proper signatures for registration actions not permitted by ALFI may add these courses at the Office of Admissions and Records, second floor, Twamley Hall, during normal office hours starting April 7. Students may register on or after appointment times as printed on their registration forms. -- Veriena Garver, Admissions and Records Officer.

Academic Catalog Pages Must Be Proofed By April 15

Final preparations are under way for production of the 1997-99 University of North Dakota catalog. Department chairs (or designees) will be contacted by the Office of Admissions and Records to schedule an appointment time for proofing their departmental pages; proofing must be completed by April 15. If you have any questions, please call Mary Bergstrom at 777-2148. -- Mary Bergstrom, Office of Admissions and Records.

Art Exhibition Set For Linnehan

The M.F.A. exhibition for Sharon Linnehan, a candidate for the Master of Fine Arts degree, is set for Monday, April 14, through Monday, May 5, in the Hughes Fine Arts Center. Linnehan will exhibit monotypes and screenprints. The opening reception will be Monday, April 14, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Hughes Fine Arts Center. -- Jackie McElroy-Edwards, Professor and Chair of Visual Arts.

Doctoral Exam Set For Badman And Johannesson

The final examination for Jacqueline A. Badman, a candidate for the Ph.D. degree with a major in Teaching and Learning, is set for 3:45 p.m. Monday, April 14, in 104-E Education Building. The dissertation title is "A Qualitative Study of a College Visual Arts Course: A Multicultural Perspective." Janet Ahler (Educational Foundations and Research) is the committee chair.

The final examination for Claudia Odne Johannesson, a candidate for the Ed.D. degree with a major in Educational Administration, is set for 9 a.m. Monday, April 14, in 208 Education Building. The dissertation title is "The Role of the Principal in the Transition From a Graded to a Nongraded Elementary School." Gloria Jean Thomas (Educational Leadership) is the committee chair.

Members of the Graduate Faculty are invited to attend. -- Harvey Knull, Dean, Graduate School.

GRANTS AND FELLOWSHIPS

Faculty Research/Creative Activity Travel Applications Due

The third deadline for submission of applications to the Faculty Research and Creative Activity Committee (FRCAC) is Tuesday, April 15. Travel applications will be considered at that time only for travel that will occur between April 15, 1997, and Oct. 15, 1997. No research or publication applications will be considered at that time.

The Committee reminds applicants to carefully prepare their proposals and be specific and realistic in their budget requests. Although the FRCAC encourages submission of travel requests, the Committee takes into consideration the most recent FRCAC award granted to each applicant. Priority will be given to beginning faculty and first-time applicants. Applications are available at the Office of Research and Program Development, 105 Twamley Hall, 777-4279. THESE FORMS HAVE BEEN REVISED (9/96). IF YOU HAVE THE APPLICATIONS ON DISK, PLEASE STOP IN FOR COPIES OF THE REVISED FORMS. An original and seven copies of the application must be submitted to ORPD prior to the deadline. Applications that are not prepared in accordance with the directions on the forms will not be considered by the Committee.

-- Brian Paulsen (Visual Arts), Chair, Faculty Research and Creative Activity Committee.

ALEXANDER VON HUMBOLDT FOUNDATION: SCHOLAR AWARD PROGRAMS

Up to 500 Humboldt Research Fellowships are granted annually for research in Germany. Scholars may be from any academic field. Approximately 200 Humboldt Research Prizes are granted annually to internationally recognized scholars for research in Germany. Deadline: Approximately 5 months before review in March, June/July, November.

Approximately 10 Federal Chancellor Scholarships are awarded annually to Americans for study in humanities, social sciences, law, and economics in Germany. Deadline: 10/31. Contact: Dr. Bernard Stein, Alexander von Humboldt Foundation, 1055 Thomas Jefferson St., N.W., Suite 2030, Washington, DC 20007; (202)296-2990, Fax (202)833-8514; humboldt@umail.umd.edu.

The TransCoop Program supports Canadian and American scholars conducting collaborative research with German scholars in the humanities and social sciences. RECEIPT DATES FOR NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH (NIH)

AREA GRANTS

June 25, 1997, is the next receipt day for NIH Area Grants. Beginning in September there will be three receipt dates a year for Area Grants: September 25, January 25, and May 25. The official program guidelines for the AREA program will be published in the NIH Guide to Grants and Contracts in early April.

RESEARCH ON THE ORIGINS AND PATHWAYS TO DRUG ABUSE/NOA -NIH

This program announcement encourages research exploring the origins of and pathways to drug abuse. Of particular interest are multidisciplinary, integrative and developmental approaches. A keen understanding of the factors and processes that predispose and protect an individual from drug abuse from initial use through different stages of drug involvement is essential to the successful prevention and treatment of drug abuse. Investigators from diverse scientific disciplines are encouraged to apply either individually (e.g., as individual projects) or collectively (e.g., as a program project). Support mechanisms include: Project Grants (R01), Small Grants (R03), Exploratory Grants (R21), First Independent Research Support and Transition Awards (R29), Program Projects (P01) and Research Centers (P20, P30, P50, and P60).

PILOT PROJECTS OR FEASIBILITY STUDIES FOR GENOMIC
MAPPING, SEQUENCING
NATIONAL HUMAN GENOME RESEARCH INSTITUTE

This program announcement supersedes the program announcement: PAR-94-046, Pilot Projects or Feasibility Studies for Genomic Analysis, NIH Guide, Vol. 23, No. 10, March 11, 1994. The National Human Genome Research Institute (NHGRI), formerly the National Center for Human Genome Research, invites applications for exploratory/developmental grants (R21) to develop new, and/or significantly improve existing, technologies that will accelerate the genome mapping, sequencing and analysis goals of the Human Genome Project (HGP) in the most expeditious and economical manner. The purpose of this program announcement is to encourage high risk/potential high payoff applications that are not yet developed fully enough to successfully compete for a standard R01 grant. Department Of Defense To Seek Proposals

The Department of Defense EPSCoR (DEPSCoR) is planning to publish an RFP from all of the EPSCoR states. No official information is available but the consulting group for the Coalition of EPSCoR States, Van Scoyoc and Associates, offers the following appraisal of the upcoming RFP:

* Each state will be allowed to submit 10 research proposals as part of their submission. Awards, typically three years, are unlikely to exceed $100,000 per year. DoD can choose to fund all, some or none of the research proposals.

* Each state will be required to submit an infrastructure proposal in addition to the research proposals. This section will be evaluated separately from the research proposals.

* DoD is expected to put the announcement on the Web in early April and give a deadline perhaps as early as May 15 but more likely to allow two months from the notification date.

In anticipation of this very short deadline becoming a reality, ND EPSCoR requests the following from interested researchers:

1. A one page synopsis of the proposed research (fax is ok: [(701)231-7947]) by noon, Friday, April 11. Selection of an appropriate review panel depends heavily on the quality of information we can supply in advance of the evaluation process. A list of the qualifications or the required expertise of reviewers to review your proposal competently will be helpful to the panel selection committee.

2. If May 15 turns out to be the deadline for the EPSCoR states' submission to DoD, full proposals will be due in the ND EPSCoR offices by noon Monday, April 21. A detailed RFP will be distributed by our office when DoD publishes the official guidelines.

Evaluation of the proposals and recommendation for inclusion in the North Dakota submission will be conducted by an external review panel. At this time ND EPSCoR is negotiating with the Geochemical and Environmental Research Group (GERG), the same group that conducted the evaluations for our 1995 submission. In the last round of DEPSCoR, North Dakota had seven of 15 proposals funded for FY95 and FY96. The average for the EPSCoR states was six.

Based on discussions with DoD staff last year and the distributions of awards in the EPSCoR states, mission relevance has a very high priority. It will very likely be required that PIs included in the state submission document the relevance of their research to the DoD mission.

The best reference is the program outline published for the FY95.

It is available from the ND EPSCoR offices and the web (http://www.onr.navy.mil/sci\_tech/special/onrdpscr.htm). Also available from our offices are suggestions made by GERG based on their evaluations in 1995. Information on format for FY97 proposals is unavailable but the format is likely to be similar to that in the 1995 announcement.

Budget: North Dakota will have to match at least 33 percent (1:2) of the total cost of the grant and perhaps as much as 50 percent (1:1). Please construct two-column budgets, one for DoD funds and one for ND match. Allowable match: cash, graduate student tuition, indirect costs and faculty time (e.g., two months/academic year).

The official RFP is likely to come over the web at the above address. If not there, it will probably be found by using your web search engine. Search target: depscor.

At this stage of the process, one of the most important tasks for researchers who wish to participate in DEPSCoR is the identification and documentation of DoD relevance of their research. In the last round of competition, PIs were required to name an appropriate Technical Point of Contact in one of the agencies.

-- Philip Boudjouk, Department of Chemistry, North Dakota State University, (701) 231-8601 or 8400, fax: (701) 231-7947.

EPSCoR Makes Research Awards To Undergrads

The ND EPSCoR annual awards to undergraduates provide stipends to students conducting research in a participating faculty member's science, engineering, or mathematics laboratory. Awards are made directly to the students who select the mentor and research field interesting to them.

Awards are made to North Dakota residents and students enrolled at North Dakota University System institutions.

Research Experience for Undergraduates (REU) provides undergraduates opportunity to experience academic research first-hand. REU students are awarded a stipend for eight to 10 weeks during the summer to do research under the guidance of a NDSU or UND faculty member. Mentors receive a $500 supply budget. There have been 136 awards and 318 applicants during the last five years. The average GPA of award winners is 3.69.

The 1997 REU mentors at UND are: F. Richard Ferraro (Psychology), Serge von Duvillard (HPER), Kenneth Ruit (Anatomy & Cell Biology), Sanku Mallik (Chemistry), Steven Sternberg (Chemical Engineering), Ann Flower (Microbiology and Immunology), Irina Smoliakova (Chemistry), Mark Henriksen (Physics), Douglas McDonald (Psychology), David Lambeth (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology).

Science Bound is for entering freshmen. Students become research participants under the supervision of a UND or NDSU faculty mentor. Science Bound pays for up to 10 hours of research assistance per week during the academic year. Students also receive a summer-research stipend. Mentors receive a $500 supply budget for the summer program. Successful students are eligible for a second year of funding. There have been 64 awards and 108 applicants during the last five years. The average GPA of award winners is 3.84.

NSF To Replace Bulletin List

The National Science Foundation (NSF) is migrating to a completely Web-based information dissemination system. They hope to retire the STIS system, including the mailing lists, this summer. They have created a Web-based system, called "Custom News Service" that provides similar functions. If you have access to a Web browser, you'll want to move to this service soon. The new service provides the following features:

* Weekly summary of all new documents on the NSF Web site. If you select this option, you'll receive a weekly e-mail with a list of URLs for new documents. If your e-mail software allows, you can simply click on the URLs for immediate access to the documents. This feature is homologous to the STSSUM-L mailing list.

* Immediate notification when new documents are added. You can fill out a "profile" of the type of documents you are interested in, and the system will send you e-mail when a document is added that matches your profile. The e-mail notification will normally include just the URL of the document, but will contain the full text for smaller publications, such as vacancy announcements and press releases. You can modify your profile at any time from your custom news page. You'll get an e-mail confirming each change.

* A system called "OnLine Documents" provides Web access to the same documents that exist on STIS, but with a more flexible and easier-to-use access mechanism.

To subscribe to this free service, you need an Internet e-mail account. Your e-mail address is your login for the Custom News Service. If you need help subscribing to the service, contact NSF's Information Center at info@nsf.gov, or call 703-306-1234.

To set up your profile, visit the NSF home page at <http://www.nsf.gov>. Click on the Custom News Service button on the toolbar at the bottom of the home page. Or go directly to the service at <http://www.nsf.gov/home/cns/start.htm>. You will be prompted to provide your e-mail address.

If this new service meets your needs, unsubscribe to BULLETIN by sending e-mail to stislists@nsf.gov. In the text of the message, enter:

unsubscribe BULLETIN

We hope you'll find the Custom News Service useful. If you have any questions or comments, send them to webmaster@nsf.gov.

-- Carl Fox, Director of Research and Program Development.

BILLBOARD

Internal Medicine Contacts Moved To Fargo

Effective April 1, anyone wishing to contact the chairperson of Internal Medicine must call (701)293-4132. For information regarding Accounts Payable, Payroll, Personnel, etc., contact Patty Mastel at (701)293-4156. All correspondence must be mailed to: Department of Internal Medicine, UND Medical Education Center, 1919 Elm Street North, Fargo, ND 58102. There will no longer be a contact person for Internal Medicine in Grand Forks. -- Roxanne Korynta, Internal Medicine.

Some Alumni Offices Moved

Some of the offices within the Alumni Center have moved to a new location. Alumni mailing operations, computer retrievals, record updates, financial records, special events, and public information have all moved to the former United Campus Ministry building, 3100 University Ave., located across the street from the J. Lloyd Stone Alumni Center. All development offices will remain in their current location in the Stone Alumni Center. All phone numbers will also remain the same. -- Cindy Filler, MIS Director, Alumni Center.

Post Summer Jobs Soon; New Rehire Forms Available

It is time to think about summer work study and institutional jobs. Student Financial Aid/Job Service will post jobs for summer on Wednesday, May 7, so please submit your summer listings by April 25. Students must complete a summer application and be awarded Federal Work Study (FWS) in order to qualify for employment. Applications are available in the Financial Aid Office, 216 Twamley Hall. The employment eligibility dates for summer are from May 11 to August 23. Please call Dorothy at 777-4411 to post FWS jobs and Dennis at 777-3013 to post institutional jobs.

New forms have been distributed to expedite rehire of current institutional employees. Please use these forms in place of the "blue card" if you rehire institutional student employees who worked for the department during Academic Year 1996/1997, and who start summer employment before May 31. If you have questions, or did not receive a form from which to make copies, please call Student Financial Aid/Job Service at 777-3013. -- Student Financial Aid Office.

April 7-11 Is Student Employment Week

The week of April 7-11 has been designated as Student Employment Week. The observance of this week provides us an opportunity as employers and educators to recognize the contributions student employees make to our campus, and to emphasize the benefits of the student employment programs to our students. Please remember to say "Thank You" to your student employees. A special treat or lunch is nice. -- Alice Hoffert, Director, Student Financial Aid.

Wet Sidewalks Won't Be Planked

Every spring, due to snow melt and frost boils, some low areas on sidewalks will have water problems. Due to concerns with creating tripping hazards and for individuals traveling across campus in wheelchairs, planking will not be laid over ponding areas as done in the past.

Water ponding in low areas will persist for three to four weeks, so we request that everyone use proper footwear or take alternate routes whenever possible. We apologize for the inconvenience, and we will do everything we can to drain problem areas as quickly as possible. -- LeRoy Sondrol, Director of Plant Services.

Computer Center Offers Win '95 Class

A training session, "Windows 95 Transition," will be offered by the Computer Center to faculty, staff, and students for a $20 fee. The fee will cover the cost of a learning guide for each participant. The three-part session will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday, April 21, 23, and 25 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in 361 Upson II. You must register in advance by calling Bonnie or Shelly at 777-3171, and providing an account number to be charged. Requests for accommodation related to disability need to be made when registering.

The course presents the new concepts of Windows 95 for Windows 3.x users. Participants will be introduced to Windows 95 features and complete corresponding step-by-step exercises in a learning guide that will be theirs to keep. Topics covered include navigating the desktop, using online help, using Windows Explorer, and using the find utility. -- Marlys Hanson, User Services Consultant, Computer Center.

Computer Center Offers WordPerfect Training

The Computer Center is offering a training session, "WordPerfect for Windows," Thursdays, April 10 and 17, from 6 to 8 p.m. in 361 Upson II. Please register in advance by calling Bonnie or Shelly at 777-3171. -- Bonnie Snyder and Shelly Stewart, Computer Center.

U2 Offers Development Hotline

The University within the University (U2) offers a professional development hotline.

You can dial 777-2000 to hear a complete listing of the professional development opportunities currently scheduled on campus for UND faculty, staff, and students. This hotline operates much like the Career Mobility Line. Dial the number and then press the following numbers for the option you would like to listen to:

- #1 Computer Center seminars
- #2 Safety and Environmental Training Institute seminars
- #3 Supervisory and Administrative Seminars
- #4 Conflict Resolution Center seminars
- #5 Miscellaneous events and opportunities
- #0 to be connected with Jo Coutts at the University within the University

Have a pencil ready to note the seminar title, and the person to contact for registration.

If your department would like to have an event listed on this hotline, please contact me at 777-4266. Also note that it is a good time to begin the planning for your fall seminars as the catalog will be printed in July and distributed in August. Call me for more information about additional services available to hosting departments. -- Jo Coutts, Program Coordinator,

Continuing Education.

Continuing Education Lists Workshops

Following are some workshops coordinated by the Division of Continuing Education.

EPSCoR

The North Dakota Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research (EPSCoR) is sponsoring a conference from May 29 to June 1 on UND's campus. The research focus of the program is the study of protein-protein interactions through a diversity of approaches and biological contexts. This diversity is reflected in the interests of the internationally recognized scientists invited to give talks.

The fee is $120 and includes all scientific sessions, program materials, an opening reception, meals and refreshments. For more information or a detailed brochure, please contact John Shabb, Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology at 777-4946 or Dawn Botsford, Division of Continuing Education, 777-4260.

Substance Abuse

The North Dakota Addiction Counselors Association, the North Dakota Division of Alcohol and Drug Abuse, and the Division of Continuing Education are sponsoring a two-day workshop on "Substance Abusing Adolescents with ADHD and Preventing Adolescent Relapse," and "A Clinical Supervision Workshop Using the Eight Skills Groups," in Minot at the Ramada Inn. Dyer, a certified mental health counselor and adjunct instructor at the College of DuPage and Grant Hospital's Clinical Training Program for Addiction Counselors in Chicago, Ill., is the day one speaker addressing the importance of assessing ADHD adolescents who abuse substances and the management skills needed to work with adolescents who are ADHD and abuse substances. His afternoon session will look at adolescent relapse as the process of returning to drug and alcohol use and the addictive environment. Participants will learn new skills to prevent and treat relapse in adolescents. The day two Clinical Supervision Workshop, Using the Eight Skill Groups, will give participants experience with a testing instrument that can be used to develop training plans for addiction counselor trainees. John Allen, director of Addiction Studies at Minot State University, and Ron Hett, chief operating officer of Dakota Boys Ranch, are presenters for the clinical supervision workshop. Participants attending the entire conference can earn 12 contact hours for licensed addiction counselors and licensed professional counselors. For more information or a detailed brochure, contact Dawn Botsford or Monique Clifford at 777-4260.

Legal Education

The UND School of Law, the Northern Plains Tribal Judicial Training Institute and Division of Continuing Education will hold a continuing legal education seminar, "The Protection of Individual Rights and Business Interests in Indian Tribal Courts" Friday, April 25, at the Grand Forks Ramada Inn. Federal and state courts are abstaining from exercising jurisdiction over civil cases arising in Indian country in a variety of contexts. This means that the Indian Civil Rights Act, anti-discrimination laws and business contracts in tribal courts have become the exclusive avenues of relief for those individuals and businesses seeking to vindicate important personal and property rights. How tribal courts are resolving disputes will be examined. The registration fee of $125 include seven CLE hours, handout materials, instruction, refreshments and lunch. For more information or a detailed brochure, contact Dawn Botsford or Monique Clifford at 777-2663.

Mental Health

A three-day workshop for any mental health practitioner including psychologists, social workers, psychiatric nurses, counselors, will be held May 14-16 at the Radisson Inn, Bismarck. The workshop on "Brief Solution-Oriented Therapy: Quality, Collaboration and Results in Therapy" will be presented by Bill O'Hanlon, a developer of brief solution-oriented therapy. Brief Solution-Oriented Therapy is an approach which focuses on eliciting strengths and solutions from people who seek therapy. The fee of $110 includes instruction, handouts, CEUs and refreshments. For more information or a detailed brochure, please call Dawn Botsford or Monique Clifford at 777-2663.

-- Dawn Botsford, Program Coordinator, Continuing Education.

Students To Conduct Free Health Screening

Community Health students from the College of Nursing, in cooperation with the Safety Office, will conduct a blood pressure, blood sugar, hemoglobin, vision and hearing clinic Wednesday, April 16, for faculty and staff, from 12:30 to 3 p.m. in the lunchroom of the Plant Services building. The hearing screening portion will be in the Plant Services Cottonwood Room. The re-screening is scheduled for Wednesday, April 23, from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m., also in the lunchroom of Plant Services.

The only requirement for participating in this screening is that you not smoke, drink coffee, or exercise for at least 30 minutes before having your blood pressure measured. -- Carol Berg, Assistant Professor, Family and Community Nursing, and Jack Glass, Director of Safety.

Students Will Provide Free Well Child Exams

The College of Nursing Family Nurse Practitioner students are providing free well child exams. Children ages one month to five years of age are needed to be patient models on Mondays in April. A complete health history is also taken. For more information or to schedule an appointment, please contact me. -- Valerie Krogstad, Family and Community Nursing, 777-4556.

Encourage Students To Attend Career Fair

The 1997 Forks Area Career Fair will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Wednesday, April 9, in the National Guard Armory, 1501 S. 48th St. This is the first year that UND has cooperated with the area entities which sponsor this Fair and we need your cooperation to make it a success. Shuttle buses have been engaged to shuttle our students to and from the Armory. Those schedules will be announced soon.

The Career Fair schedule follows: 10 a.m., "I'm Graduating, What Do I Do Now?," how to use the Internet to find a job and explore careers; 11 a.m., "Putting the Pieces Together: Job Search Basics," hot jobs for the future; panel of industry representatives; 12:15 p.m., "Planning for Career Change"; 1:30 p.m., "I'm Graduating, What Do I Do Now" (repeat); 2:30 p.m., "Putting the Pieces Together: Job Search Basics" (repeat); continuous presentation, "How to Get the Most out of the Career Fair."
Shuttle buses will run on the following schedule:

Depart from UND to Career Fair/Armory: 10 a.m., 11 a.m., noon, 1 p.m., 2 p.m.

Depart from the Career Fair to UND: 10:45 a.m., 11:45 a.m., 12:45 p.m., 1:45 p.m., 2:45 p.m.

-- Terry Erickson, Cooperative Education, 7-4136.

Adult Children of Alcoholics Sought For Research Study

Adult children of alcoholics are sought for participation in research at the Department of Psychology. Participants, who should be between the ages of 21 and 40, will be paid. If you would like to learn more, please contact me at 777-3260. -- Tom Petros, Professor of Psychology.

Participants Needed For Memory Experiments

Participants are needed for experiments dealing with memory and language. Volunteers must be 55 or more years of age. The experiments will require about an hour, and all participants will receive a small honorarium (between $5 and $10) for participating. If you are interested or have questions, please call me at 777-2414. -- Richard Ferraro, Assistant Professor of Psychology.
*****

ARTS AND ENTERTAINMENT

Women's Center Lists Events

The Wednesday, April 9, Feast and Focus program at noon in the Women's Center, 305 Hamline St., is "Women and the Earth." Women have historically been and are currently involved worldwide in environmental issues. They are often first to be affected and first to respond to environmental degradation, and they include indigenous women, women of color, and women in poverty. We will look at women's roles in Earth care, historically, worldwide and in tribal areas in this region. We will explore ecofeminism in part as a philosophical framework.

The Thursday, April 10, For Women Only program is "Get Real: Straight Talk About Women's Health," part two. Today, behavioral and lifestyle factors cause more than 50 percent of the leading causes of death in American women. The college years are a crucial time in a young woman's life. The decisions and actions you make during this time will affect your health for the rest of your life. Young women can make intelligent choices, given accurate information, which will lead to healthier, happier and longer lives. Please join us for this continuation of our February 20 discussion.

International Centre Lists Events

The Thursday, April 10, program at 7 p.m. in the International Centre, 2908 University Ave., is "Celebrating Middle Eastern Cultures," featuring Middle Eastern foods, artifacts, literature, music, attire, dance, historical, technological, and religious perspectives.

Tickets are now on sale for the 36th Annual Feast of Nations to be held Saturday, April 19, at 6 p.m. at the Grand Forks Civic Auditorium. Join us for an international extravaganza including world vignettes, an international candlelight dinner, intercultural entertainment, music, attire, and artifacts. All are welcome. Tickets for non students are $15, $7 for students. Call the International Centre for reservations at 777-4231. -- Sharon Rezac Andersen, Director, International Centre, 777-4231.

Burtness Theatre Presents "She Stoops To Conquer"

The Department of Theatre Arts is proud to present the Restoration comedy, "She Stoops to Conquer." Set in 18th century England, the production shows the humorous relationship between an upper class lady who must present herself as a commoner to win the heart of a gentleman who becomes incredibly shy around women of the same social standing.

Although the play makes light of social situations found in the 1700s, contemporary audiences will find the comedy just as funny today because many of the same situations exist in the 1990s.

The production is directed by Dean Bruce Jacobsen and runs Tuesday through Saturday, April 15-19, at the Burtness Theatre. Tickets are $5 and will be available at the Burtness Box Office beginning April 1; call 777-2587. -- Joel Svendsen, Burtness Theatre Publicity Manager.

FYI

Garden Plots Currently Unavailable

Most of the UND garden plots are in the flood zone. Because of the flood conditions this year, plots will not be available for some time. Right now everyone at Plant Services is preparing to fight the flood, so please be patient. We will send out more information after the flood is over and the garden plots are ready for planting. -- LeRoy Sondrol, Director of Plant Services.
