Names of Retiring And 25-Year Employees Sought For Founders Day Honors

Faculty and staff members who are retiring or are marking 25 years of service to the University will be honored at the Founders Day Banquet at 6 p.m.
Thursday, Feb. 27, in the Memorial Union Ballroom. Your assistance is requested in identifying employees who should be honored at the ceremony.
To be honored, retiring employees must have completed 15 years of service to the University; they must have begun working at UND before July 1, 1981, and will be retiring by June 30, 1997. Those being honored for 25 years of service must have started working here between Feb. 28, 1970, and Feb. 28, 1971.
Persons who started working before Feb. 28, 1970, but have had interrupted terms of service to UND may also be honored if their cumulative years of service total 25 and meet criteria.

If you know of anyone who meets the above criteria but has not yet been contacted to participate in Founders Day, please forward his or her name to me as soon as possible.

Founders Day banquet tickets will go on sale Monday, Feb. 3, in the President's Office, 300 Twamley Hall. The banquet begins at 6 p.m.; tickets cost $5. -- Lorna Jacobson, Administrative Officer, President's Office, 7-2122.

Memorial Service Scheduled For Francis Delabreau

A memorial service for Francis Delabreau will be held Friday, Jan. 31, at 3 p.m. in the South Ballroom of the Memorial Union. The Catholic ceremony will include Native American activities and will be attended by Mr. Delabreau's mother and brothers. A reception will follow in the Fireside Lounge on the second floor of the UND Memorial Union.

A Native American student, Francis L. Delabreau, 26, died in the Nov. 17 blizzard. He was a freshman in computer science attending UND on a NASA scholarship. He was from Shawano, Wis.

EVENTS TO NOTE

Counseling Seminar Will Consider Facework In Mediation

The Counseling Department Topics in Counseling and Counseling Psychology Research and Practice seminar Thursday, Jan. 30, from noon to 1:30 p.m. in 318 Montgomery Hall, will be "Facework in Mediation," presented by James Antes (Psychology and Peace Studies). Everyone is welcome, whether or not they are taking the seminar for credit or not. -- Linda Winter, Coordinator, Topics in Counseling and Counseling Psychology Research and Practice.

*****

Graduate Committee Lists Agenda

The Graduate Committee will meet Monday, Feb. 3, at 3:05 p.m. in 305 Twamley Hall. The agenda will include:

1. Graduate Faculty Nominations.
2. Matters arising.

-- Harvey Knull, Dean, Graduate School.

Psychology Colloquium Examines School-To-Work Transition Movement

The UND Psychology Department will present a colloquium Monday, Feb. 3, from noon to 1 p.m. in the Nursing Building, Room 102. Cindy Juntunen, Department of Counseling Psychology, will present "The School-to-Work Transition Movement and Vocational Psychology." Everyone is welcome to attend. For more information, please contact me at 7-3451. -- Joan Peterson, Department of Psychology.

Biochemistry Faculty Candidates Will Give Lectures

The Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology will present two special lectures by candidates for a faculty position in the Department. John Lew, Postdoctoral Fellow, Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, University of California, San Diego, will present "Protein Kinases and Their Mechanism of Action," Monday, Feb. 3, at 2 p.m. in 5510 Medical Science. Dr. Lew received his B.Sci. in Kinesiology from Simon Fraser University, and his M.Sci. in Biochemistry was received from the University of Calgary where he worked with Jerry Wang. He presently is a Postdoctoral Fellow with Susan Taylor at UCSD.

On Friday, Feb. 7, at 9 a.m. in 5510 Medical Science, Natalia Y. Kedishvili, Assistant Scientist, Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology, Indiana University School of Medicine, will present "Control of Retinol Oxidation by Alcohol Dehydrogenases." Dr. Kedishvili received both her B.S. and Ph.D. in Biochemistry from Moscow State University. Her dissertation advisor was Professor Sergei Severin. She then spent two years as a Research Assistant at the All-Union Cardiology Center in Moscow. From 1990 to 1994, she was a Postdoctoral Fellow with Robert Harris in the Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology at the Indiana University School of Medicine. Since that time she has been an Assistant Scientist there, and currently holds a Mentored Research Career Development Award. Everyone is welcome to attend these lectures. -- Robert Nordlie, Professor and Chair of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology.

Teaching With Writing Group Sets Meeting

The Teaching With Writing Discussion Group will meet Tuesday, Feb. 4, from noon to 1 p.m. The topic for discussion will be "Making Assignments that Encourage Revision (Without Doubling Your Workload)." To sign up for the group, please call the Writing Across the Curriculum (WAC) office at 7-3600 or respond by e-mail to hawthorn@badlands.nodak.edu. -- Joan Hawthorne, WAC/Writing Center Coordinator.

English Department Sponsors Lecture

On Tuesday, Feb. 4, Walter Tschacher (Languages) will give a talk in 116 Merrifield Hall at 4 p.m. on "Theodor W. Adorno's Approach to Literature." Professor Tschacher says, "A leading figure in the (German) Frankfurt School of philosophers from the 1930s to the time of his death in 1969, Adorno was the author of influential philosophical and sociological works on issues ranging from aesthetics, musicology, and mass culture to politics, modern technology, and the Western philosophical tradition." Copies of one of Adorno's essays, "On Lyric Poetry and Society," will be available in the English Department office. Please stop by, or call 7-3321 to have a copy sent through the mail. Discussion will follow Professor Tschacher's presentation, which is part of the English Department's First Tuesday Lecture Series. Everyone is welcome. -- Elizabeth Hampsten, Professor of English, 7-3987.

17 Former Participants To Help Celebrate 10th Anniversary Of Hultberg Lectureship

"The Hultberg Vision: A Decade of Successful UND Women" is the theme of the 10th anniversary of the Hultberg Lectureship celebration, scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial Union. It will be a homecoming of sorts as 17 former Hultberg Lectureship participants take part in five concurrent panels on women and business-related issues. Those on the panel include:

Karen Bohn, CEO, Piper Jaffray Companies, Minneapolis; Sally Bosh, Controller, Phoenix International, Fargo; Gail Bostrom, Facilities Print/Mail/Records Services Leader, NSP, Minneapolis; Terri Clark, Controller, UND Aerospace; Susan M. Thomson Greenheck, Business Owner, Minot; Joan Haugland McCusker, Treasury Manager, Alliant Tech Systems, Minneapolis; Heidi Heitkamp, North Dakota Attorney General; Peggy Kuhn, Financial Economist for Senate Banking Committee, Washington, D.C.; Laurie Lafontaine, Vice President, Alliana Health Systems, Minneapolis; Linda Schwab Massman, Andersen Consulting, Los Angeles; Joan Morris, Finance Manager, AgAir, Valley City; Melissa Nething, Human Resources Representative, Weyerhaeuser Co., Enumclaw, Wash.; Betsy Olson, Consultant, Minneapolis; Ruthanne N. Polidori, District Court Judge, Denver; Peggy Rolle Schmidt, Executive Recruitment, Minneapolis; Carleen Shilling, Partner, Eide Helmeke, Phoenix; and Marilyn Stinson, Professor, St. Cloud State University.

Moderators for the panels include Toby Baker, UND First Lady; Gail Stewart Hand, Grand Forks Herald; Grand Forks Mayor Pat Owens; Robin Silverman and Kathy Jones.

In addition to participating in the concurrent panels, the Lectureship participants will visit UND classes throughout the day. Piper Jaffray will also have a presence on campus at the North Dakota Museum of Art, where the Piper Jaffray Collection, featuring a regional collection assembled in states where Piper Jaffray does business, will be on display through Feb. 23.

The Hans and Susanna Hultberg Lectureship was established by their daughter, Clara Anderson, through the University of North Dakota Foundation. Clara graduated from the UND College of Business and Public Administration in 1928. -- Ray Diez, Industrial Technology, for the Hultberg Lectureship Committee.

History To Hold Brown Bag Lunch Session

The History Department and Phi Alpha Theta will hold a brown bag lunch session Wednesday, Feb. 5. Traci Kelly will present "Burned Sugar Pie: Women's Culture and the Literature of Food," at noon in 217 Merrifield Hall. Bring your lunch. There will be a question and discussion period following Dr. Kelly's presentation, which is open to all. This lecture is part of the North Dakota Humanities Council Larry Remele Memorial Lecture Series. For more information please contact me. -- David Rowley, Associate Professor of History, 7-3380.

*****

Anatomy Faculty Candidates Will Give Seminars

Two candidates for a faculty position in Anatomy and Cell Biology will present seminars.

"Proteoglycans, Mesangial Expansion, and Diabetic Nephropathy" will be considered by Kevin J. McCarthy, Assistant Professor of Cell Biology, University of Alabama at Birmingham School of Medicine, on Wednesday, Feb. 5, at noon in Room 1370, United Hospital Lecture Hall, Bio-Information Learning Resources Center, Health Sciences Building.

"Evolutionary and Functional Aspects of Leaping in Primates" will be presented by Carl J. Terranova, Postdoctoral Researcher/Instructor in the Department of Anatomy, College of Medicine, Howard University, on Monday, Feb. 10, at noon in Room 1360, Clifford Haugen Lecture Hall, Bio-Information Learning Resources Center, Health Sciences Building. -- Edward Carlson, Professor and Chair of Anatomy and Cell Biology, and Chair, OT/PT Search Committee.

Computer Science Will Hold Enrichment Series

The Department of Computer Science invites interested students and faculty to attend the first Enrichment Series in Computer Science: Neural Networks and Genetic Algorithms. In this series of three interactive lectures, we will explore the basic concepts underlying neural networks and genetic algorithms, two successful methods of subsymbolic computation and learning. The goal is to present the fundamental concepts and give participants the ability to continue to explore these ideas on their own.

There are no requirements for participation. If you are interested in these topics and want to know more, please join us. The presenter for the three sessions will be Bruce Maxwell (Computer Science).

The first lecture, "Creating and Using Artificial Neural Networks," will be Thursday, Feb. 6, from 4 to 5:30 p.m., in 238 CAS II. In this session we'll explore the basic architecture and mechanisms of artificial neural networks. These computational models, inspired by human neural networks in our brains, have the capability to learn complex functions and tasks. How do they work, and how do they learn?

The second lecture, "All You Ever Wanted to Know About Genetic Algorithms and Population-Based Learning," will be Thursday, Feb. 13, from 4 to 5:30 p.m., in 238 CAS II. In this second session, we look at the development of genetic algorithms and other population-based techniques. These algorithms, inspired by the biological process of evolution, allow us to explore complex spaces and solve difficult problems more quickly than traditional symbolic methods.

The third lecture, "Applications of Neural Networks in Speech, Vision, and Robotics," will be held Thursday, Feb. 27, from 4 to 5:30 p.m., in 238 CAS II. In this final session, we'll examine the application of artificial neural networks in real situations. Artificial neural networks have found a wide variety of applications in speech, vision, and robotics. We'll look at examples of ANNs recognizing phonemes in speech, recognizing faces in images, and even driving cars on the highway.

Please direct any queries to me. -- Bruce Maxwell, Assistant Professor of Computer Science, maxwell@cs.und.edu, 7-4982.

Teaching Abroad Is Discussion Topic

The topic for the next "OID Brown Bag" on Thursday, Feb. 6, at noon is "Teaching Abroad." David Marshall, Director, International Programs, will facilitate a panel of UND faculty who have recently taught abroad. The session will be especially interesting to faculty who have not but might wish to teach abroad and to persons interested in issues related to culture and teaching. These sessions are open to all faculty and staff of the University. To reserve a complimentary box lunch, phone Instructional Development at 7-3325 no later than noon Thursday, Jan. 30. -- Dan Rice, Director, Instructional Development.
*****

Medical Students To Host Elementary School Science Day

Members of the local American Medical Student Association (AMSA) will host the Second Annual AMSA Elementary School Science Day Saturday, Feb. 8, at the School of Medicine and Health Sciences.

The event, which stresses "hands-on" learning, is open at no charge to students in grades five and six. Preregistration is required. To accommodate as many children as possible, two duplicate sessions will be offered. The morning session will run from 8 a.m. to noon and the afternoon session from 1 to 5 p.m. Participants should preregister for either one; each session is limited to 150 participants. Registration will be conducted for the first 45 minutes of each session.

In each session, six components are planned to stimulate children's interest in and knowledge of science. They will focus on topics such as human health and anatomy, computers in medicine, the Gift of a Life (GOAL) project, tobacco awareness, various science projects, and the STATS (Students Teaching AIDS to Students) project.

Snacks will be served midway through each session. Adult supervision will be provided by the more than 80 medical students who are expected to take part in the event.

For more information or to obtain preregistration forms, please contact the Office of Public Affairs at 7-4305. -- Pamela Knudson, Public Affairs, School of Medicine and Health Sciences.
*****

Institutional Review Board Set To Meet Feb. 14

The Institutional Review Board will meet at 4 p.m. Friday, Feb. 14, in 305 Twamley Hall to consider all research proposals submitted to the Office of Research and Program Development before Tuesday, Feb. 4. Proposals received later will be considered only if a quorum has reviewed them and time permits.

Clinical medical projects must be reviewed by the Clinical Medical Subcommittee before being brought to the full Board. Proposals for these projects were due in the Office of Research and Program Development Jan. 28.

Notes from the meeting will be available in ORPD about one week after the meeting. -- F.R. Ferraro (Psychology), Chair, Institutional Review Board.

North Dakota's First Solar Car To Be Unveiled

Designing, building, and testing a solar-powered car in a state that expects snow eight months of the year was an irresistible challenge for a group of optimistic Engineering students. Unfortunately, sunshine was not the only commodity in short supply. Time and money were equally elusive. Nevertheless, in the span of about a year, members of UND's Society for Energy Alternatives raised the necessary funding, researched solar design requirements, designed and built North Dakota's first solar-powered car, the Subzero.

Subzero will be unveiled in a public ceremony this Valentine's Day, Friday, Feb. 14, in the Memorial Union Ballroom, at 10:30 a.m. The keynote speaker, Byron Stafford, a project leader from the National Renewable Energy Laboratory, will address the future of renewable energy and the viability of solar-powered consumer automobiles.

Subzero will be entered this summer in Sunrayce '97. Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Energy, EDS, and General Motors, Sunrayce '97 is a national collegiate competition challenging students to design, build and race a road-worthy solar car. The race begins in Indianapolis, Ind., on June 19, and ends when the first car crosses a line 1,230 miles away in Colorado Springs, Colo. -- Barb Steadman, Media Relations, Society for Energy Alternatives.
*****

OF ACADEMIC INTEREST

GTA Training Session Set

A Graduate Teaching Assistant training session will be given by Hank Slotnick (Neuroscience) on Wednesday, Feb. 5, from 3 to 4 p.m. in 16-18 Swanson Hall. This session will cover techniques that make students more productive learners, such as ways to help students answer their own questions in class, ways to get students involved in discussions, and, more generally, ways to attract and maintain students' attention. This session will be most useful to GTAs who want their students to become actively involved in their learning. -- Harvey Knoll, Dean, Graduate School.

Students Should Apply For Scholarships Soon

Faculty are encouraged to remind their students that Saturday, March 15, is the deadline for submitting applications to receive top consideration for 1997-98 UND honor scholarships. Applications for scholarships must be made each academic year. Honor scholarship application forms are available in the Student Financial Aid Office, 216 Twamley Hall. -- Alice Hoffert, Director, Student Financial Aid.

Faculty Asked To Inform Students About Mock Interviews

Faculty and staff are asked to encourage students to participate in Mock Interview Day on Thursday, Feb. 6, in the Memorial Union Ballroom. Local professionals will conduct and critique practice job interviews at no cost to the students. This provides all students, in any major, an excellent opportunity to assess their interviewing strengths and weaknesses. Students may sign up for 30-minute time slots at the Career Services Office, 120 Hyslop Sports Center (north entrance). -- Mark Thompson, Director, Career Services.
*****

GRANTS AND FELLOWSHIPS

Writing Across The Curriculum Grants Available

Writing Across the Curriculum (WAC) grants are now available to UND departments, programs and colleges for projects that can be completed by the end of April. The deadline for proposal submissions is Friday, Feb. 7, and any proposals related to teaching with writing are welcome. Proposals should fit one of the following categories:

1. Half-day workshops: For departments or other academic units where there is an interest in collaborative discussions about writing and the curriculum, half-day brainstorming workshops can be funded. For each workshop, WAC funds are available to provide up to $125 for workshop expenses. A $500 discretionary grant, which can be spent to meet any need consistent with University policy, will also be awarded with each workshop.

2. Program development grants: Faculty in some departments or academic units may have a specific plan to increase or improve the use of writing in the curriculum. Program development grants are designed to fund projects related to teaching with writing. Proposals of up to $2,000 will be considered for funding.

If your department is considering applying for a WI designation for a course or courses (so credits will count toward the revised General Education Requirement in Communication), you are eligible for a WAC grant to facilitate the planning process.

To submit a proposal: Interested faculty members may pick up an application form at the WAC office in 12A Merrifield Hall, telephone 7-3600 to have a form mailed to you, or e-mail hawthorn@badlands.nodak.edu or rankin@badlands.nodak.edu. -- Joan Hawthorne, WAC Coordinator, 7-6381.
*****

BILLBOARD

University Notes Death Of Students

It is with regret that the University announces the death of two students. Randall J. Cavanaugh, of Fort Totten, was majoring in Vocational Education. He was admitted into the Graduate School during the summer semester of 1992. Nicholas Tracy Curtis, a graduate student who was majoring in Counseling Psychology, was admitted into the Graduate School in fall, 1995. He died in Spokane, Wash. -- Lillian Elsinga, Associate Vice President for Student Affairs.

Vietnam Veterans Should Note Law Change

Effective Jan. 1, the starting date for active military service to be considered as Vietnam Era service was changed from Aug. 5, 1964, to Feb. 28, 1961. The bill was introduced by then Sen. Dole last April 29 as S. 1711; the relevant portion is Section 505. The bill became law on Oct. 9, with an effective date of Jan. 1 as P.L. 104-275.

It is recommended that you update your Personal Data form in the Payroll Office if you were on active duty during this additional time frame. If you have any questions, please contact the Affirmative Action Office, 7-4171, or the Payroll Office, 7-4226. -- Sally Page, Affirmative Action Officer, and Pat Hanson, Director of Payroll.

UND Carries Insurance Through State

The University of North Dakota carries property and liability insurance through the State of North Dakota Fire and Tornado Fund and the Risk Management Fund in Bismarck. If, at any time, an employee is aware of an action that may cause a claim to be filed against UND, they should contact me at 7-4228. I will file an incident report and request claim forms for the claimant. If your department has any property or liability insurance questions, please direct them to me. -- Pat Hanson, Director of Payroll.

Laundry Will Continue Operation

After receiving bids for outsourcing laundry services, it has been decided to continue operating the University Laundry. Bids did not cover services requested and the costs were significantly higher than the University charges. Departments would not have been able to absorb the increased costs, nor would they have received all the necessary services from outside providers. As a result of the bids and service requirements, the University Laundry will continue operating. -- Al Hoffarth, Vice President for Operations.

Moving Discounts Available

The University has agreements with Allied Van Lines, Graebel Van Lines, and United Van Lines (Wherley) for moving. These agreements offer up to 50 percent discounts for UND faculty, staff, students, alumni and retirees. Please note that use of these agreements must be solely arranged between the user and the moving company. No financial obligation to the University can be made by the user or the moving company. For more information, please contact the Purchasing Office at 7-2681. -- Linda Romuld, Director of Purchasing.

*****

Leadership Workshop Series Offered

The Leadership Workshop Series will be held Mondays at 3 p.m. from Feb. 3 to March 31 in the Leadership Inspiration Center, third floor, Memorial Union.

Sponsored by the Memorial Union, this series is a collection of non-credit seminars designed to help students acquire leadership and organization skills and develop a better understanding of themselves.

The Spring Leadership Workshop Series will consist of seven one-hour sessions ranging from "Values-Based Leadership" to "Conquering the Fear of Public Speaking." Presenters will include Randy Newman, President, First National Bank; Jan Zahrly (Management) and Mary Haslerud Opp (Communications), as well as many other faculty and staff members from across the University and community.

There is no charge for these sessions and students as well as faculty are invited to attend all or part of the series. Pre-registration is not required. If you have any questions about the Leadership Workshop Series or would like more information, contact Cynthia Thompson or Shawna Van Roekel at 7-4076. -- Shawna Van Roekel, Project Coordinator for Leadership and Off Campus Programming, Memorial Union.
*****

ARTS AND ENTERTAINMENT

International Centre Lists Events

The Thursday, Jan. 30, program at 7 p.m. in the International Centre, 2908 University Ave., is "Celebrating Malaysian Culture." It will feature Malaysian food, artifacts, music, literature, attire, and historical perspective. Please join us. - Sharon Rezac Andersen, Director, International Centre, 7-4231.

Entries Sought For Student Art Exhibition

Entries for the 1997 Annual Juried Student Art Exhibition are due in the Hughes Fine Arts Building photo room on the second floor Friday, Jan. 31, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The juror is alumna Bernie Ficek-Swenson from Minneapolis. The exhibition opens with a program including awards, music and food Sunday, Feb. 9, from 2 to 4 p.m. and runs through Feb. 23 at the North Dakota Museum of Art. Contact Angie at 7-9964 for more information. -- Angie Garberina, President, Art Students Collective.

Concert To Honor Schubert's Birthday

The Greater Grand Forks Symphony Orchestra and the Grand Forks Master Chorale will present a concert in celebration of the 200th anniversary of Franz Schubert's birth at 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 2, at United Lutheran Church, 324 Chestnut St. All tickets are $10 and can be purchased at the door.

The all-Schubert program will begin with baritone Kristoff Bernacki singing well-known songs with the orchestra. The Master Chorale will join the orchestra, under the direction of James Rodde (Music) in the Mass in G; and the program will close with the Symphony #5, directed by Timm Rolek. Soloists for the Mass are members of the Master Chorale: soprano Stephanie Becker, tenor David Henrickson and bass Michael Rockne. The audience is invited to join the performers for birthday cake following the concert. -- Jan Orvik, Editor, for Ruth Marshall, Grand Forks Master Chorale and Symphony.

Women's Center Lists Events

The Wednesday, Feb. 5, Feast and Focus program at noon in the Women's Center, 305 Hamline, is "Vocabulary, Questions and Dominance." Nearly everyone has an opinion about how women and men differ as communicators. Which gender uses more assertive language? Which gender uses better grammar? Which words are used by men and/or women? What topics are typically discussed by men, and which ones are reserved for women? We will examine how our perceptions affect expectations of difference between women's and men's language production and actual differences between the genders.

The Thursday, Feb. 6, For Women Only program at noon in the Women's Center will be led by Sue Goebel from Valley Health. She will facilitate a discussion of women's sexuality issues. Please join us. -- Donna Oltmanns, Coordinator, Women's Center.

Music Will Host Visiting Lecturer

On Monday, Feb. 10, the Department of Music and the UND Women's Center will host a visiting lecturer, Dr. Stewart Carter, of Wake Forest University. At 4 p.m., in 152 Hughes Fine Arts Center, Dr. Carter will coach a Brass Ensemble Master Class for two University brass quintets and the Collegium Musicum. Observers are welcome.

At 7:30 p.m., in the Josephine Campbell Recital Hall, Dr. Carter will deliver a lecture, "Music Knows No Cloister: Isabella Leonarda." The lecture will include a live performance of Leonarda's Sonata 12, by Swantje Bossemeyer-Biernacki, violin. It is open to the public; admission is free.

Isabella Leonarda, an Italian nun, was the most productive female composer of the baroque era, with over 200 works to her credit.

Dr. Carter is Professor of Music at Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, N.C. A world-recognized sackbut performer and scholar of 17th-century music, Dr. Carter has edited "Historical Performance," "The Historic Brass Society Journal" and two important books in progress. His articles embrace performance practice, women's music, and the history of the trombone, and he has published the first editions of significant works by Isabella Leonarda. He has presented his scholarly work both nationally and internationally and is a highly-respected professional performer of early trombone.

Carter performs regularly with the Carolina Waits, an early brass ensemble, and the Wake Forest Consort. He has taught early wind instruments at workshops throughout the United States, most notably at the Amherst Early Music Festival/Institute, where he has been on the faculty since 1986. He has appeared in a recording on the Amherst Festival label. Carter recently returned from Poland, where he presented lectures on early wind instruments in Wroclaw, Warsaw, and Legnica, and performed with the Polish early music ensemble Collegio di Musica Sacra in concerts in Wroclaw and Walbrzych.

Theatre Arts Will Present "Remembrance"

The Department of Theatre Arts is proud to present the drama, "Remembrance," by Graham Reid. The play tells the story of a Catholic woman and a Protestant man from Northern Ireland who meet and fall in love while tending their sons' graves -- in spite of the hatred that has dominated their community for so long.

"Remembrance," the fourth production of the 1997-97 season, is directed by Sandra Lindberg (Theatre Arts). The production also features special appearances by Theatre Arts professors Gregory Gillette and Mary Cutler. The show runs Tuesday through Saturday, Feb. 18-22 and 25-28 at the Burtness Theatre. The curtain rises at 7:30 p.m.; tickets are general admission and are available for $5 at the Burtness Theater Box Office or by calling 7-2587. -- Joel Svendsen, Burtness Theatre Publicity Manager.

United Way "Help Book" Available

The United Way of Grand Forks, East Grand Forks, and area is pleased to announce that the latest addition of the United Way "Help Book" is now available. The directory contains listings for:

- * 188 local and regional health and human service agencies and organizations;
- * Over 200 national toll-free numbers;
- * Listings of local support groups, detailing meetings and contact persons;
- * A new listing of local sign language interpreters.

Producing this community reference tool is one of the many services that United Way provides to the community in addition to its fund raising efforts. The 1997 Directory was completely revamped, and the index was made easier to use. Funding to print the "Help Book" was donated, and UND will receive 25 free copies. Campus organizations and offices that would use the directory may pick up a copy at the Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost's office, third floor, Twamley Hall. -- Jan Orvik, Editor, for Pat Berger, President, United Way.
