The following announcements were made:

a. Ms. Gjellstad made the following announcements:

- SEC has decided to have a January Senate meeting on January 15, 2015. The regular February meeting will then take place on February 4, 2015.

- The Committee on Committees is updating the survey of committee interest and it will be coming out soon.
 - The Promotion and Tenure Working Group charge has been approved by the President. The Working Group will be meeting soon.
 - The work on the Budget Model continues. Senators can expect campus updates in January.
- b. Mr. Zerr reported on the Ombuds position. The initial position was part-time for one year and that time period has ended. The process to fill the position full-time is now underway. The search committee will be meeting soon and there will be more information coming at future meetings.
 - c. Ms. Gjellstad reported that work on the Faculty Senate proposal continues. The ad-hoc committee is analyzing the results of the survey from the senators and other faculty. There will be more information coming soon.
 - d. Ms. Gjellstad thanked the senators for their input on the top five topics that should be discussed by Senate. SEC will be working through the top five topics one by one. Today's agenda will address the first two topics. Ms. Gjellstad shared the results of the top five activities and indicated that they will be posted on the Senate website.
 - e. Ms. Gjellstad encouraged all senators to make use of the feedback button on the University Senate website.

Ms. Gjellstad called attention to the minutes of the November 6, 2014 meeting. There was a motion of approval by Mr. Munski. Mr. Gedafa seconded and the minutes were approved as distributed.

The question period was opened at 4:13 p.m.

- a. Mr. Sheridan asked about the parking consultant and what the plan is for sharing information. Ms. Gjellstad indicated that parking was planned to be covered under agenda item 11. Ms. Brekke then gave a parking report. She gave background on why the consultant was engaged. She explained that the following three dimensions of parking were to be reviewed: infrastructure, administration, and enforcement. Those pieces have been studied and there have been decisions to rearrange the components. There are changes coming that could significantly impact parking. Based on the possible impact, a consultant with outside expertise was engaged and asked to gather information from stakeholders. A scope of work has been defined and the work is underway.
- b. A follow-up question was whether the parking analysis is bicycle friendly. Ms. Brekke said she would make sure that is considered. There are parts of the task that are broader and would include other aspects such as bicycles. It was noted that there is a survey about bicycle use that is circulating that is not part of this project.
- c. Mr. Marasinghe asked the status of a search for the Vice President for Research. The Provost indicated that a search committee has been formed and a search firm hired. Josh Wynne will chair the search committee and the Committee will begin work soon. As for the format for the position and office, it will be similar to the prior position.

The question period closed at 4:22 p.m.

3. Reviewing and voting on student petitions regarding ES requirements.
4. Reviewing and establishing Essential Studies policies.

Course Validations: Summary and Accomplishments

The ESC reviewed and voted on 37 applications to have courses validated as Essential Studies courses.

- 15 courses were initially denied/tabled but subsequently revised and approved
- 1 course was tabled with a request for more information and revision.
- 8 courses were denied
 - 6 courses were denied because of inadequate assessment plans
 - 2 courses were denied because they did not meet ES goals

Past ESC reports have noted a shortage of courses approved for the Essential Studies Special Emphasis goals of United States (U) and Global (G) diversity. The ESC approved 15 new G courses during 2013-14, including 101, 102 and 202 level courses in the Languages Department.

Course Revalidations: Summary and Accomplishments

- 110 course revalidations were reviewed
- 90 courses were revalidated
- 20 courses were provisionally revalidated and asked to submit further assessment data.

Due to new deadlines for the on-line catalog, the ESC was required to expedite the 2013-2014 course revalidation process and move up the deadline to receive course revalidations to February 1st. The total number of elected Council members on the Senate shall be three times the number of ex-officio members. The Council members of each professional school or college and the libraries shall elect two Senate members with the exception of the College of Arts and Sciences, which shall have the right to elect eight senators, two each from the areas of Natural and Physical Sciences, Humanities, Social Sciences, and Fine Arts; the balance of the faculty membership of the Senate shall be elected at large by the Council. One of the faculty-at-large positions will be held by the incoming Chair of the Senate to assure that the Chair is a voting member of the Senate.

2. The procedure for electing Senate members at large shall be as follows:

- a) ~~During~~ By no later than the first week of April each year, the Registrar shall distribute to members of the Council a nominating list of those eligible to serve on the Senate and shall state the number to be elected at large according to the provisions of the Constitution and this legislation.
- b) Each member of the Council may indicate his/her choices for nomination by choosing from the list of nominees not to exceed in number the number of vacancies to be filled; any nomination list choosing more than the number to be elected at large shall be void.
- c) Those equal in number to twice the number to be elected who shall have received the most nominating votes shall be declared nominees.
- d) A list of these nominees shall be printed as constitute the ballot, which will be ~~and~~ distributed to all members of the Council; each member shall vote for a number of nominees not to exceed the number to be elected; any ballot choosing more than the number to be elected at large shall be void.
- e) The Registrar shall prescribe the time and method for returning marked ballots and nominating lists and shall count and tabulate the same, providing that all nominating and balloting shall be secret, and these election procedures shall be completed before the third week of April.

3. The procedure for electing faculty members by each school or college faculty and the term of office thereof shall be as follows:

- a) ~~During~~ By no later than the third week of April of each year each school or college and the libraries shall provide for the nomination and election by the Council members of his/her school, college, or the libraries to the Senate two Council members who shall have been listed by the Registrar as eligible to serve on the Senate in accordance with Section 2a, in such a manner as the dean/director shall prescribe, providing that the voting for the nominated candidates shall be by secret ballot, with the exception of the College of Arts and Sciences, which shall have the right to elect eight senators, two each from the areas of Natural and Physical Sciences, Humanities, Social Sciences, and Fine Arts.
- b) Only those of the respective faculties who are qualified to be members of the Council shall be entitled to vote.
- c) Such Senate members shall hold office for one year and shall not serve consecutively for more than three terms. In the event of a vacancy in such Senate seat, the faculty concerned may at any time hold a special election, in the same manner as provided in Section 3a, to fill the vacancy.

- d) In the event the faculty of a school, college, or the libraries should desire to waive its right to elect members to the Senate, it shall so notify the Council prior to the regular April elections held by the Council, and the Council shall then nominate and elect one or more of its members to serve for the one-year term of the seat involved along with the regular members at large elected by the Council.

University of North Dakota

Priority Admission Application Date Recommendation

BACKGROUND

Over the past few years UND has been engaged in strategic enrollment management (SEM) practices, a process used by many colleges and universities across the nation that has enabled UND to align its mission with its academic, co-curricular, fiscal, and enrollment resources through strategic recruiting and retention efforts—all focused on academic excellence and student success. Specifically, SEM relies on best practices and predictive analytics, which has supported the University to continue to bring the most qualified students to UND and maximize operational effectiveness.

Based on research provided to the SEM Committee at UND, the following change to the admission process is being recommended in order to continue UND's demonstrated focus on the academic quality of the incoming class and as a way to assist the University in managing academic course loads.

PRIORITY ADMISSION APPLICATION DATE

Recommendation

Beginning with the fall 2015 entry term, implement a priority admission application date of March 1 for new freshmen and April 15 for new transfer students.

To meet the priority application date, the Office of Admissions must have a complete application, including: submitted online application, payment of $35 application fee, and receipt of official transcripts, test scores, or other required documents for admission consideration. Prospective students will still have the opportunity and be encouraged to apply after the priority application date, space permitting, and the Office of Admissions will actively market/promote that availability—both before and after these dates. Currently, 90% of all freshmen already apply by March 1, and 69% of all transfer students apply by April 15.

Benefits

- The freshman priority application date matches UND's March 1 freshman scholarship deadline. By meeting this date it will ensure that even more students will be eligible for UND scholarships, if academically qualified. In addition, this also matches the Honors Program application deadline. Therefore, it helps all incoming students to know the same date for all three of these processes.
- The transfer priority application date also matches UND's April 15 transfer scholarship deadline.

- Gives flexibility to the Office of Admissions to shape and control the size and academic quality of the entering class. UND and national data both demonstrate evidence that higher achieving students apply earlier while less-prepared students apply later. Students who are most likely to be successful for retention and graduation may still be admitted with completed applications after the priority date.
- Adds sense of urgency for students to submit a complete application early and proceed to next enrollment steps (applying for scholarships and financial aid, registering for classes, signing up for orientation, and applying for housing).
- A consistent priority application date will provide better predictive analytics to assist academic departments, including: how many students to expect for each academic major and the number of academic course sections to plan to offer.
- Better alignment with national standards and best practices. The following chart demonstrates that creating a March 1 priority application date will put UND in alignment with the majority of UND's top competitor and peer institutions.

Confirmation Tuition Deposit with Priority Date Recommendation

BACKGROUND

Over the past few years UND has been engaged in strategic enrollment management (SEM) practices, a process used by many colleges and universities across the nation that has enabled UND to align its mission with its academic, co-curricular, fiscal, and enrollment resources through strategic recruiting and retention efforts—all focused on academic excellence and student success. Specifically, SEM relies on best practices and predictive analytics, which has supported the University to continue to bring the most qualified students to UND and maximize operational effectiveness.

Based on research provided to the SEM Committee at UND, the following change to the admission process and timeline is being recommended in order to continue UND's demonstrated focus on the academic quality of the incoming class and as a way to assist the University in managing academic course loads.

CONFIRMATION TUITION DEPOSIT WITH PRIORITY DATE

Recommendation

Add a $200 confirmation tuition deposit beginning with the fall 2016 entry term.

The confirmation deposit will be nonrefundable, but refunds may be granted on appeal for extenuating circumstances on a case-for-case basis. The confirmation deposit is not an additional fee/expense to students; rather, it is a $200 first installment payment that goes directly towards the tuition bill as a way for admitted students to reserve their space in the incoming class. The selection of $200 as the amount is based on competitor/peer research; it will be substantial enough as a first installment payment to be useful for predicting the enrollment of the incoming class, yet will not be cost prohibitive for the majority of students and their families. However, students who are unable to pay the confirmation deposit due to financial need or other extenuating circumstances will still be allowed to confirm their enrollment through a deferral process.

In addition, the confirmation deposit of all admitted students will be due by a May 1 (national reply date set by the National Association for College Admission Counseling) priority date to reserve their space. Students can still confirm after this date, space permitting, and the Office of Admissions will actively market/promote that availability—both before and after the priority date.

Benefits

- Will give UND better data and predictive analytics on the incoming class, including: how many students to expect for each academic major and the number of academic course sections to plan to offer.
- Gives flexibility to shape the size and academic quality of the incoming class.
- Adds sense of urgency to proceed to next enrollment steps (registering for classes, signing up for orientation, and applying for housing).
- Better alignment with national standards and best practices. The following charts demonstrate that creating a confirmation tuition deposit with a May 1 priority date will put UND in alignment with the majority of UND's top competitor, peer, and aspirational (leading research) institutions.

Cooperative Education

Cooperative Education is an academic program that provides students with opportunities to both integrate and combine their course learning with practical, professional work experience in their chosen field of study. Cooperative Education experiences allow students to secure salaried, career-related work experiences under the supervision of both a sponsoring employer and the appropriate academic department, while at the same time receiving academic credit. The program is based on the belief that learning extends beyond the classroom and that the combination of course learning and practical work experience provides an innovative and comprehensive education.

Students spend from 3-9 months on Cooperative Education assignment. Academic credit is granted by the participating academic department through the student's enrollment in the department's course titled, Cooperative Education 397. For part time coop where the student works a minimum of 20 hours per week, the student will enroll in Cooperative Education 397 for 1 academic credit but will be considered half time for financial aid and enrollment reporting purposes. For full time coop, where the student works full time, usually a minimum of 40 hours per week, the student will enroll in 2 academic credits but will be considered full time for financial aid and enrollment reporting purposes. Students enrolled in Cooperative Education 397, irrespective of the number of actual credit hours, are granted full time equivalent student status by the University.

The Cooperative Education Program, a part of Career Services, is located in McCannel Hall, Room 280. For information, call 777-4105.
