Law School Ranked Third Most Wired In Nation

The School of Law of the University of North Dakota has been ranked the third "most wired" law school in the nation according to the March issue of "The National Jurist" magazine.

The magazine surveyed all 183 law schools approved by the American Bar Association. The schools that responded were evaluated by the magazine and given a "wired GPA" based on several categories:

- Network access, the number of network connections as percentage of enrollment and wireless network access
- Information technology in the classroom, the percent of classrooms that are networked and utilize advanced online resources
- Student access, the student services associated with the Internet such as club web space, free e-mail, bulletin boards, online resources, journals, and registration
- Hardware resources, computer workstations and online research stations as percent of enrollment.
- Career placement resources, job postings and research, links to alumni, and resume posting.

Some schools were given extra credit for resources not otherwise listed.

The UND School of law was given an overall "wired GPA" of 3.47. It (next page) received a 4.0 in the areas of network access, hardware, and other elements while receiving a 3.5 in course use, a 3.0 in career use, and a 2.5 in student use.

"I've known for a long time that the UND School of Law was among the top high tech law schools in the country," said W. Jeremy Davis, Dean, UND School of Law, "but it is gratifying when someone else recognizes us for our achievements."

Davis added, "I would like to credit the University of North Dakota for the flexibility to allow departments and colleges to make such advances as these with a minimum of red tape and bureaucracy."

UND School of Law tied for third with Boston College Law School under Florida's Nova Southeastern University and Duke University. Only 50 of the over 100 schools that responded to "The National Jurist's" survey were listed. The highest ranked, Nova Southeastern University, received a GPA of 3.83 and the University of Toledo ranked 50th with a GPA of 2.33.

Applications Sought For Enrollment Services Director

The University of North Dakota invites applications and nominations for the position of Director of Enrollment Services, the major student recruiting unit for the University.

Position Description

Enrollment Services serves as the primary recruiting unit for new and transfer students for the University. The mission of Enrollment Services is to recruit students by providing knowledgeable points of personal contact and the needed information and direction as related to the student's higher education plan.

The Director of Enrollment Services serves as the supervisor of the office and outreach staff (10 full-time staff and approximately 70 student assistants including tour guides); oversees program and budgetary administration of the unit; develops a yearly marketing plan; provides leadership in information systems management; assists in the broad area of enrollment counseling (attract high ability students and maintain enrollment through effective awareness and marketing methods; communicate efficiently and effectively with prospective students and families through personalization; consult with prospective students and families regarding enrollment; present pre-enrollment information to high schools and community colleges; serve as academic career advisor to prospective students; represent the university at college fairs and high school visits; and establish and maintain contacts with new students and families); and communicates and cooperates with faculty and staff as well as other recruiting and Enrollment Management entities across the campus and in the community.

This is a full-time 12-month administrative position. The Director reports to the Associate Vice President for Enrollment Management.

Position Requirements

- 1. Bachelor's degree required; master's degree strongly preferred.
- A vision of higher education that includes all qualified students including those with diverse backgrounds and locations.
- Several years of successful and recent leadership experience in areas related to recruiting and working with young adults preferred.

- Significant managerial, supervisory, and budgetary experience preferred.
- Strong analytical and problem solving skills, creative leadership abilities, and strong written, oral, and interpersonal communication skills required.
- Evidence of effective management and motivational skills to provide leadership to a dynamic and diverse staff required.
- 7. Ability to develop and implement initiatives with vision and insight that result in the recruiting and enrollment of students based on the number, quality, and diversity required to enable the university to achieve its goals.
- 8. Knowledge of and experience with PC-based software required; experience with MS Word, Excel, Power Point, Publisher, Internet, E-mail, and mainframe applications preferred.
- A valid driver's license, the ability to lift at least 40 pounds, and the ability and willingness to travel when necessary to participate in recruiting and outreach activities required.

The salary range for the position is $35,000-40,000, depending on training and experience, in addition to a generous package of fringe benefits.

Application Procedures

Review of applications will begin on April 12, 2001 and continue until the position is filled. The position is available now and the successful applicant will be expected to begin as soon as possible.

Please submit a comprehensive letter expressing your interest, a current resume including the names and phone numbers of three-to-five references, and a completed UND employment application form to:

Dr. Don Piper

Associate Vice President for Enrollment Management Office of Personnel Services, Box 8010 University of North Dakota Grand Forks, ND 58202-8010

NOTE: The UND application form is available on our Web site at www.und.edu/org/ops/Job_Openings/How_to_Apply/how_to_apply.html or by calling 1-800-CALL UND (1-800-225-5863) and asking for Personnel Services at 777-4361.

Events to Note

Panelists Will Discuss Women's Perspective Of World

A panel discussion on "The World from a Woman's Perspective" is set for Thursday, March 29, from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Badlands Room, Memorial Union. Panelists include Donna Brown, Native American Programs, Jean Chen, doctoral student, Susan Johnson, Coordinator of Student Organizations, Kay Mendick, Women's Center, Amy Skarsten, student, Major Yolandea Wood, Grand Forks Air Force Base, and Doreen Yellow Bird, Grand Forks Herald. Poetry will be provided by the nationally known "DA Boogie Man."

The event is sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon in conjunction with Multicultural Student Services (MSS) and the Multicultural Awareness Committee (MAC), a division of student government. – Multicultural Student Services.

Scientist Will Discuss Transgenic Mice

Chia-Yang Liu, from the Department of Opthalmology at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, will present a lecture in the BIMD 513 (Foundations of Biomedical Science) seminar series on Friday, March 30. The seminar is titled "Transgenic and Knockout Mice - Techniques and Applications" and begins at 1 p.m. in Room 5510 of the School of Medicine and Health Sciences. All are welcome to attend. Dr. Liu's seminar will focus on the development of molecular biological techniques to better understand the visual system. Dr. Liu was instrumental in characterizing the function of the retinoblastoma (Rb) protein, a so-called "tumor suppressor" protein involved in numerous human cancers. Dr. Liu's is the guest of the Department of Anatomy and Cell Biology. Members of the University community who would like to meet with Dr. Liu are asked to contact Dr. Jane Dunlevy in Anatomy and Cell Biology. - Jon Jackson, Anatomy and Cell Biology.

Mixed Blood Theatre Brings Eastern Parade To Campus

The UND Apartment Community Center is bringing Mixed Blood Theatre's Eastern Parade to campus Friday, March 30. Subtitled "The Asian American Journey," the show is a vibrant look at the Asian American experience from a variety of perspectives. It begins at 6:30 p.m. at the Apartment Community Center.

Propelled by the thundering rhythms of the Japanese taiko drums, Eastern Parade is an Asian American anthology as vast, varied, and vivid as the continents it spans. The 45-minute performance includes Southeast Asian myths; a story about a Korean-born, American-raised Amerasian's quest for identity; the saga of a Cambodian refugee; a look at a Hmong teenager's struggle to bridge the chasm between his parents' ancient culture and his own American environment; and more.

For more information, contact Malia at 777-9862. – Jan Orvik, Editor, for Malia Young, UND Apartment Community Center.

Wind Ensemble, Faculty Brass Quintet Present Concert With Guest Conductor

The University Wind Ensemble, conducted by Director of Bands James Popejoy, and the Faculty Brass Quintet will present a concert Friday, March 30, at 7:30 p.m. Eugene Migliaro Corporon, Director of Wind Studies at the University of North Texas, will guest-conduct the Wind Ensemble at the concert. The performance will be held at the Empire Arts Center in Grand Forks. Tickets for the event are $5 for adults and $2 for students, and are available at the door. All high school and middle school students will be admitted free of charge with the presentation of their student ID card.

The Faculty Brass Quintet, which includes Robert Brooks and Einar Einarson, trumpets; Peter Schiefelbein, horn; Les Torgerson, trombone; and Ed Simanton, tuba, will open the concert. Their program will include the "Scherzo" of Widor; "A Newfoundland Sketch" by Howard Cable; "Dance" of Wilke Renwick; and Samuel Scheidt's "Battle Suite" originally written in the 17th century. The Quintet will also be featured on an arrangement of the famous dixieland jazz classic "That's A Plenty" with the Wind Ensemble.

Internationally known conductor Eugene Migliaro Corporon will guest-conduct the Wind Ensemble on two selections at the concert. In addition to his duties at the University of North Texas, Professor Corporon is renowned for his work with wind ensembles and conductors. Ensembles under his direction have performed for major festivals and events all over the world, and his performances have drawn praise from colleagues, composers, and critics alike. He has recorded over 300 works, including many premieres and commissions, and released 32 recordings, two of which have appeared on the Grammy nomination ballot. He is the past president of the College Band Directors National Association, and is the recipient of the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia National Citation for advancing the cause of music in America. Professor Corporon will conduct the Wind Ensemble in Jack Stamp's "Pastime," a salute to baseball, and Frank Ticheli's new work "An American Elegy." The "Elegy" was composed in memory of those who lost their lives at Columbine High School on April 20, 1999, and to honor the survivors. The Wind Ensemble will also perform "Illyrian Dances," written by Guy Woolfenden, Head of Music to the Royal Shakespeare Company in England, and the "Prestissimo" galop of Karl King. – Band Department, 777-2815.

Reception Honors All Women

A reception in honor of "all the women of the world" will be held from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Friday, March 30, in the Memorial Union Ballroom. Presentations will be given by Major Yolandea Wood, U.S. Air Force, Doreen Yellow Bird, Grand Forks Herald, and Pat Owens, former mayor of Grand Forks. There will be a special performance by the Black poet "Da Boogie Man."

It is sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon in conjunction with Multicultural Student Services (MSS) and Multicultural Awareness Committee (MAC), a division of student government. – Multicultural Student Services.

Reception Will Honor Bill Wrenn

An open house reception honoring Bill Wrenn, Professor of Biology, will be held Thursday, April 5, from 3 to 4:30 p.m., at the J. Lloyd Stone Alumni Center. If you wish to send Dr. Wrenn personal greetings, please send them to the UND Biology Department, P.O. Box 9019, Grand Forks, North Dakota 58202.

Dr. Wrenn retired from the UND Biology Department Dec. 31, after more than 30 years of teaching and service to the University.

He received an A.A. degree from Fullerton Junior College in California, a B.S. degree in Zoology and an M.A. degree in Biology both from California State University, Long Beach, before receiving his Ph.D. degree in Entomology from the University of Kansas, Lawrence, in 1972. While working to obtain his B.S. and M.A degrees, Dr. Wrenn served in the United States Army, and was honorably discharged with the rank of Staff Sergeant, E-6, in 1964.

Following his military service, Dr. Wrenn held positions as a research assistant at California State University, Long Beach; as a laboratory instructor in general biology at University of Kansas, Lawrence; and as a teaching assistant in general entomology at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. He has devoted his research career to chiggers. He began studying the insect-like creatures during his undergraduate years and has continued throughout his long and distinguished career. He has been recognized by his colleagues by having two species of chiggers and one species of mite named after him (Microtrombicula wrenni; Guntheria wrenni; and Mydopholeus wrenni). His work has been widely published in national and international journals.

Dr. Wrenn joined the UND Biology Department in 1969 as an assistant professor, was promoted to associate professor in 1976, and named full professor in 1987. He is known as an outstanding instructor and advisor, and has served on various committees and organizations on-campus and among his peers and colleagues throughout the United States and around the world. Although the details of his retirement are not finalized, he does plan to continue to work on chiggers. – Department of Biology.

20th Annual SAMA Aerospace Seminar And Aviation Career Fair Is April 5-6

The Student Aviation Management Association (SAMA) has scheduled its 20th annual Aerospace Seminar and Aviation Career Fair for Thursday and Friday, April 5 and 6, at the Odegard School.

SAMA, founded in 1975, is a nonprofit organization for students whose interests lie in the administration, business, and management activities of the aviation industry. Affiliated with UND's Odegard School, its primary objectives are to promote aviation professionalism at the collegiate level and further the aviation knowledge of the entire University student body. The Aerospace Seminar was organized to increase students' awareness of current issues in aviation. Employers throughout the industry are invited to speak about career opportunities, current events, and the future of aviation. Through a variety of viewpoints presented by guests, students will increase their knowledge of the aerospace industry and expand their horizons for future employment. Scheduled guest speakers include: Vern Raburn, President and CEO of Eclipse Aviation; John C. Hatfield, Corporate Pilot for Daimler-Chrysler Aviation; Bill LaMacchia, Jr., President & CEO of Sun Country Airlines; Steve Briner, Chief Pilot for ComAir; Dorette Kerr, Aviation Scheduler for Deere & Company Aviation; Tim Callister, Airport Director for Minneapolis-"St. Paul International Airport; Dan Matthews, 747 Captain/Instructor for Northwest Airlines; Wayne Cummings, Air Traffic Controller for Cleveland Center ARTCC; and a panel discussion of UND Graduates. On Friday morning, Sally Webster, President; and Adrian Hersak Miller, Human Resources Consultant (B.S.A.S. UND Aerospace 95') of Airline Career Resources, LLC., will conduct an interview power session on interview basics and airline industry hot tips.

Twenty-five aerospace companies from throughout the country will visit as part of the career fair to be held on Friday, April 6, in conjunction with the Aerospace Conference.

For further information regarding the Aerospace Seminar, Career Fair and SAMA Social Banquet, contact Joe Stubbe at 701-750-3773 (Home) or stubbe@aero.und.edu.

Parents Weekend, hosted by Alpha Eta Rho (AHP), will be held April 7 and 8 in conjunction with the Aerospace Seminar and Career Fair. Activities begin with a pancake breakfast (sponsored by UND's Women in Aviation), followed by airport tours of Flight Operations, the Grand Forks tower, the flight service station, airport rescue and fire fighting, and Federal Express. Tours of campus facilities include Odegard, Clifford and Ryan Halls, including simulator flights at Ryan Hall. Atmospherium shows will be featured at Odegard Hall. – Odegard School of Aerospace Sciences.

Researcher Will Discuss Cellular Signals Of Alzheimer's Disease

Gary Gibson, Professor of Neurology and Neuroscience at Weill Medical College of Cornell University and the Burke Medical Research Institute in White Plains, N.Y., is the Friday, April 6, speaker in the BIMD 513 (Foundations of Biomedical Science) seminar series. Dr. Gibson is a world-renowned researcher on cellular mechanisms of neurologic disease, and will present a seminar titled "Oxidative Mechanisms and Cellular Signals in Alzheimer's Disease" that will begin at 1 p.m. in the Reed Keller Auditorium of the School of Medicine and Health Sciences. The lecture is open to the public and all are welcome to attend. For more information about Dr. Gibson, please contact Eric Murphy in the Department of Pharmacology, Physiology and Therapeutics. – Jon Jackson, Anatomy and Cell Biology, Course Director - BIMD 513

Flight Operations Plans Open House April 6

Photographs By Cuban Artist Inspire Children's Art Workshop At Museum

On Saturday, April 7, from 1 to 3 p.m., the North Dakota Museum of Art invites young people ages 6-12 to the Saturday Art Workshop titled "Draw a Face, Change a Face." Inspired by the large portraits of Alonzo Pino, a Cuban artist whose artwork is in the Cuba Today exhibition at the North Dakota Museum of Art, children and their parents/guardians will explore the possibilities of drawing each other and learn how to create different moods in their drawings. Participants will explore drawing using pencils, markers, and paint. The workshop will be led by Morgan Owens, Education Coordinator for the Museum.

Pino creates his portraits using simple techniques and materials. He begins by posing his models in a variety of postures that present different attitudes. He photographs his models, then transfers the photo image of his model onto canvas using photo emulsion. He then draws with pencil and oil paint on top of the photo image to further alter the portrait and the mood of his models. All of his models are women although they decidedly look like men.

Saturday Art Workshops are exciting hands-on studios for children ages 6-12 and their parents/guardians to create together in the Museum. Participants will look at and talk about the artwork displayed in the Museum, then create their own works inspired by what they see and discuss. Participants must have reached the minimum age listed. All materials will be provided. Tuition for Museum members is $7 for each child and $10 for each child for non-members. Parents and guardians are encouraged to participate in workshops as intently as their children. Call for registration information.

Visit the Museum web site at www.ndmoa.com to preview the current exhibitions. Saturday Art Workshops continue to May 5. Call the Museum at 777-4195 for more information. Join the Museum for other activities such as the Art Odyssey seminars, The Art of Looking for Educators, Museum Concert Series, Summer Arts Day Camp, Teen Art Workshops, and Writers and Readers Series.

The North Dakota Museum of Art is on Centennial Drive on the campus of UND. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. There is no charge for admission. – North Dakota Museum of Art.

Audition Tapes, CDs Invited For Battle Of The Bands

The University Program Council invites all area musicians to take part in the 2001 UND Battle of the Bands Saturday, April 7, at 2 p.m. in the Old Bookstore, Memorial Union.

All bands should submit a demo tape or CD with at least three songs by Tuesday, April 3, at 3 p.m., to the UPC office in the Memorial Union. At least one band member must be enrolled at UND. Four bands will be picked to play at the Battle of the Bands from the demo tapes/CDs submitted. The winner of the Battle of the Bands will be the opening act for Violent Femmes on Saturday, April 27, in the quad area behind the Chester Fritz Library.

The Battle of the Bands is free of charge to all students and community members. For more information, contact Chris Gunn, UPC's music coordinator, at 777-0064. – Maria Albertson, UPC Public Relations.

Cellist Paul Kata Will Play With Chiara Quartet

Paul Katz will be the guest artist with the Chiara String Quartet at a concert at the North Dakota Museum of Art on Sunday, April 8, at 1:30 p.m. Mr. Katz will join the Chiara to play Schubert's Quintet in C Major. Also on the program are the Quartet No. 2 of Jefferson Friedman and Haydn's String Quartet Op. 54, No. 2.

Mr. Katz is known to concertgoers around the world as cellist of the Cleveland Quartet, which made more that 2,500 appearances on four continents. Mr. Katz has appeared as soloist in New York, Cleveland, Toronto, Los Angeles, and other cities throughout North America. He was a student of Gregor Piatigorsky, Janos Starker, Leonard Rose, Gabor Rejto, and Bernard Greenhouse. In 1962 he was selected nationally to play in the historic Pablo Casals Master Class in Berkeley, Calif. From 1976 until recently Mr. Katz was Professor of Cello at The Eastman School of Music. Recently Professor of Cello at The Shepherd School of Music at Rice University, he has taught at many of the major summer music programs, including 20 years at the Aspen Festival, the Yale Summer School of Chamber Music, the Schleswig-Holstein Music Festival in Germany, Pro-Quartet, the Vivoin Academy in France, and at the Banff Center for the Arts in Canada. In these programs he has mentored many of the fine young string quartets on the world's stages today including the Castagnerei, Lydian, Maia, Meliora, Rachham, and Ying Quartets. In addition to his performing and teaching activities, Mr. Katz is an active advocate for chamber music the world over and served for six years as President of Chamber Music America. Mr. Katz plays an Andrea Guarneri cello dated 1669.

"Schubert's Quintet in C Major, Op. 163, D. 956 is considered (along with Beethoven's Op. 131) the most spiritually profound piece of music ever written," Mr. Katz says. "It transcends this world and takes us to that lofty plateau of human expression where great art resides. To experience this music -- to create this music -- is at once uplifting, consoling, and cathartic. It is central to my existence as a musician."

Jefferson Friedman's Quartet No. 2 was written for the Chiara String Quartet which performed its world premiere in Paul Hall in New York Nov. 15, 1999. Writes cellist Greg Beaver, "Jeff's style includes a strong personal use of tonality, and an amazing ear for driving rhythm (first movement) as well as its rival, beautiful harmonic and melodic writing."

His visit is sponsored by Chamber Music America, the national service organization that has also made possible the current two-year residency of the Chiara String Quartet with the Greater Grand Forks Symphony and the Music Department at UND. His concert with the Chiaras is also the occasion for a site visit by Nancy Christensen, Education Director for Chamber Music America, who would welcome the opportunity to hear from members of the university community who wish to comment on the impact of the Chiara residency. CMA is currently in the process of restructuring its residency programs and the current site visit will provide information on which funding decisions are based. Faculty wishing to comment may do so by writing the Symphony Office at Box 7084, sending email to ggfso@und.nodak.edu, or calling 777-3359. Tickets to the Sunday concert may be reserved by calling the same number. – Greater Grand Forks Symphony.

Tires Plus Co-Founder Speaks April 9

Students, faculty, and staff are invited to attend a free presentation and book signing with author, entrepreneur, and motivational speaker Tom Gegax on Monday, April 9, at the Memorial Union Ballroom. The presentation, "Winning in the Game of Life," will start at 6 p.m., with a book signing to follow at 7 p.m.

The presentation will include topics from his book, "Winning in the Game of Life: Self Coaching Secrets of Success," which has been featured on CNBC, PBS, and the New York Times. The Time Schedule of Classes for summer and fall 2001 is now available online. Students may inquire on either phone or Web ALFI to obtain their time and date of registration for summer and fall classes.

The Time Schedule of Classes for summer and fall 2001, to be used by departments for advising purposes, is now available for pickup in the reception area of the Office of the Registrar. If you have questions, please call 777-2150. – Janet Hangsleben, Office of the Registrar.

New Student Government Executives Take Over April 1

The new Student Body President Matt E. Brown and Vice President Michael Cleveland will take over on Sunday, April 1. Please make the appropriate adjustments with this change.

Vice President Kristy Berger and I have greatly enjoyed being able to serve the students and work with many of you. We thank you for your dedication to this university and its students, and we wish you all the best. – Berly Nelson, Student Body President.

Send Dates For Student Planners

Franklin Covey college planners/success guides are being purchased to distribute through various avenues to new and current students beginning the fall 2001 semester. If your office, department, or organization hosts any major or special events throughout the year (fall 2001, spring 2002, and summer 2002) that are open to the general student population, please let us know.

Please provide the following information: date, title of event, time, and location. Also include a contact name and phone number in case we have questions about the information you submit. The deadline for submitting information is Friday, April 20. Send your information to the Student Organizations Center at Box 8385. Thanks! If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me at 777-4706. – Lisa Burger, Director, Student Academic Services.

Northern Lights Public Radio To Hold Spring Fund Drive

Northern Lights Public Radio (NLPR) will hold its annual spring fund drive April 1-8. NLPR broadcasts from the University of North Dakota, serving the Greater Grand Forks area by providing local, regional and national programming. The stations broadcast on KFJM FM 90.7 and KUND AM 1370. While the recent merger between the UND Television Center and Northern Lights Public Radio has given NLPR a firm foundation, support from listeners continues to be an integral part of the success of the stations. Listeners can make a pledge by calling 777-2400 or 1-800-248-5356 during the week of the fund drive. UND employees may make payments through a payroll deduction program.

The funds from the drive will go toward operating expenses, programming and other costs associated with running the station and providing great music to listeners. – Michelle Walters, Director of Marketing, Television Center and Northern Lights Public Radio.

Rehire Letters Distributed

Rehire Letters for Summer 2001 and Academic Year 2001/2002 have been distributed to all the departments (one per mailbox). If you will be hiring a student through TCC 312 (Institutional) monies, but did not receive a letter, we can send you one. Please call Job Service at 777-4395. – Job Service.

Studio One Lists Guests

This week on "Studio One," social worker Linda Eickman will discuss the difference between a will and a living will and explain the role of power of attorney. Eickman, who works in the hospice area of Altru Hospital, will discuss why it is important to obtain a will in the state in which you reside and explain why issuing a power of attorney can also be important.

"Studio One" will also feature a segment on body checking in hockey. Checking from behind and illegal checking are responsible for an increase in head and neck injuries in hockey at all levels.

"Studio One" is an award-winning news and information program produced at the University of North Dakota Television Center. The program airs live on UND Channel 3 on Thursdays. Rebroadcasts can be seen at noon, 7 and 11 p.m. daily and on Saturdays at 10 a.m. Prairie Public Television airs "Studio One" on Saturday at 6 a.m. The program can also be seen in Fargo, Bismarck/Mandan, Minot, Minneapolis and Winnipeg, Manitoba. – Tanya Frank, UND Studio One Marketing Team.

UND's Greeks Take To The Streets In Annual Service Project

The Greek community will hold its annual Greek Week April 2-6. The week of events is designed to increase public and campus awareness of the Greek community at UND.

The Greek community shares a common goal of making a difference in the lives of others. Greeks Into the Streets, Wednesday, April 4, is set aside to reach out to the public and thank them for all they do. In appreciation of the Grand Forks community, service projects will take place from 3 to 5 p.m. It's an opportunity to show Greater Grand Forks how concerned Greeks are about the community and share with them Greek spirit.

Service projects will be done at the following sites: Altru Hospital, Salvation Army, St. Anne's Nursing Home, Humane Society, YMCA, Grand Forks Mission, Parks and Recreation Department, Valley Eldercare Center, and the UND Apartment Community Center. All 20 UND Greek chapters will participate.

For more information about Greeks Into the Streets contact Michele Heid at 777-1580. For other information concerning Greek Week, contact Greek Week chairs Nicole Nord at 777-7426 or Matt Peterson at 777-1111. – Jan Orvik, Editor, for Nicole Nord, Greek Week Co-Chair.

U. S. ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY (EPA)

The EPA recently concluded a competition to establish five new university-based Hazardous Substance Research Centers (HSRCs), to be funded for up to 5 years. In the original competition for the new Centers, no application to cover research related to mining waste or outreach for the geographic extent of EPA Region 8 (the states of Colorado, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, and Wyoming) was successful. In this announcement, the EPA Office of Research and Development (ORD) invites applications to establish an HSRC to address priority hazardous substance research on mining waste and training, technology transfer, and technical assistance for the Region 8 states. Deadline: 6/12/01. Contact: Thomas Veirs, 202/564-6831, veirs.thomas@epa.gov; Steve Lingle, 202/564-6820, lingle.stephen@epa.gov; http://es.epa.gov/ncerqa/rfa/hsrcrec01.html.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION (NSF)

The Assessment of Student Achievement in Undergraduate Education (ASA) Program supports development and dissemination of assessment practices, materials (tools), and measures to guide efforts that improve the effectiveness of courses, curricula, programs of study, and academic institutions in promoting student learning in science, mathematics, engineering, and technology (SMET). Assessment tools and measures can inform educational materials development, teaching practices (pedagogy), use of educational technology, laboratory practices, field experiences, curricular decisions, co-curricular activities, advice offered by academic advisors, departmental decisions about major course requirements, and the organization of educational activities, both internally and externally (such as links with other academic sectors--high schools, other two- and four-year colleges and universities, and distance education opportunities--and with employers). The Program also promotes full integration of assessment with these educational efforts. Approximately $3 million is intended to provide support for about 20 awards of up to $500,000 each. Deadlines: 4/30/01 (Optional Letter of Intent), 6/7/01 (Full Pro-posal). Contact: Myles G. Boylan, 703/292-8666, mboylan@nsf.gov; Joan P. Gosink, 703/292-8666, jgosink@nsf.gov.

NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH (NIH)

The objective of the Metals in Medicine (PA-01-071) Program is to encourage research that bridges the areas of inorganic chemistry and medicine. The mechanisms by which organisms control transition metal ions and the roles of these metals in cellular regulation and cellcell signaling are of primary interest. Interactions of synthetic inorganic complexes with living systems and their components are a second area of interest. These areas are linked by the need to involve researchers having a deep under-standing of inorganic chemistry with state-of-the-art problems in biomedical research. Additional discussion on interests in this area can be obtained from "Metals in Medicine: Targets, Diagnostics, and Therapeutics" meeting notes at http://www.nigms.nih.gov/news/meetings/metals.html. The standard research grant (R01) mechanism will be used. Deadlines: Standard NIH deadlines until June 2004. Contact: Peter C. Preusch, Division of Pharmacology, Physiology, and Biological Chemistry, National Institute of General Medical Science, 301/594-5938, preuschp@nigms.nih.gov; Maren R. DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

Demonstration Grants for Indian Children are provided for projects to develop, test, and demonstrate the effectiveness of services and programs to improve the educational opportunities and achievement of preschool, elementary, and secondary Indian children. The sponsor is particularly interested in appli-cations that meet one or more of the following invitational priorities: school readiness projects that provide age appropriate educational programs and language skills to 3- and 4year old Indian students to prepare them for successful entry into school at the kindergarten school level; and early childhood and kindergarten programs, including family-based preschool programs, that emphasize school readiness and parental skills. Eligible applicants are State and local educational agencies, Indian tribes, organizations, and institutions of higher education. Approximately $4,350,000 is available to fund 14 awards ranging from $150,000-$400,000 each for a project period of up to 36 months. Deadline: 5/ 25/01. Contact: Cathie Martin, Office of Indian Education, 202/260-1683, Cathie_Martin@ed.gov; http://frwebgate.access.gpo.gov/cgibin/getdoc.cgi?dbname=2001_register&docid=01-7291-filed.
