PRESIDENT'S PAGE

During the past several years, with an improved financial situation, our Association has greatly expanded its activities and its services to the lawyers and to the public. In recognition of the worth of this program we have been honored to receive the Award of Merit of the American Bar Association in our division for the bar association of the United States which had the most outstanding program of public service during the past year. It is difficult to conceive of a higher tribute to the work of our Association. Every lawyer in North Dakota should take inspiration in this recognition as each played a part in our growth and progress.

This is no time to rest on our laurels; we must continue to advance our program and discharge our obligations in the public interest. Our program for the ensuing year includes a continuation of our outstanding work in American citizenship; institution of lawyers reference service in our larger cities; legal service to the armed forces; continued study on improvement of our judicial system, including the adoption of minimum standards of judicial administration; integration of federal court rules of civil procedure and continued study of the plan for unification of inferior courts; seminars of the American Law Institute on continuing legal education; legal research in mineral law and other fields where the statutory law may be improved; and, a continuation of our excellent work in the field of public relations.

To maintain the interest of the members of the bar regular district meetings should be held. Wherever possible a speaker should be obtained, but even a district meeting without an agenda will bring forth many worthwhile ideas and suggestions to say nothing of the lasting friendships and associations that are formed.

If each of us will strive for self-improvement, observe high standards of ethical conduct, and discharge our obligations to the profession and our Association, we shall continue to receive recognition throughout the land.
