DEFENSE BONDS AND STAMPS

Your President was requested by the Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., to act upon a committee in the state for the sale of Defense Bonds and Stamps, and this request has been accepted. During the first World War, the lawyers of our state responded nobly to appeals of the government for the support of the Red Cross and Liberty Loan drives, and during that period North Dakota made a "stand out" record in our Union in filling the various quotas assigned to it. And now with our country in actual war, emergency requirements and a budget of expenditures reaching a new high in the history of the world, your President calls upon every lawyer in the state to do his part in the purchase of Defense Stamps and Bonds, and there is no question but what this will be done in full measure just as it was done in our first World War.

HARRISON A. BRONSON,
President.
