

1929

Yo-Ho Skinnay - C'Mon Over

A M. Kvello

Follow this and additional works at: <https://commons.und.edu/ndlr>

Recommended Citation

Kvello, A M. (1929) "Yo-Ho Skinnay - C'Mon Over," North Dakota Law Review. Vol. 6 : No. 9 , Article 1.
Available at: <https://commons.und.edu/ndlr/vol6/iss9/1>

This Note is brought to you for free and open access by the School of Law at UND Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in North Dakota Law Review by an authorized editor of UND Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact und.common@library.und.edu.

BAR BRIEFS

PUBLISHED MONTHLY

— BY —

STATE BAR ASSOCIATION OF NORTH DAKOTA

Richard E. Wenzel, Editor

Entered as Second Class Matter Jan. 15, 1925, at the Postoffice at Bismarck, North Dakota, Under the Act of August 24, 1912

VOL. 6

AUGUST, 1930

NO. 9

YO-HO SKINNAY! C'MON OVER

One American habit that astonishes the Europeans almost more than any other is our convention habit. Nothing like it is known anywhere on the other side. And perhaps this explains much of American progress. This get together spirit has increased many fold now that gravel and cement fingers reach out into every corner of our land beckoning us to "C'Mon over." Millions of Americans are yearly responding to this invitation. The pleasant acquaintances met, the experiences had, and other contacts made by these traveling conventioners has greatly enriched and broadened the life of the nation. The individual friendships that come from these wanderlust journeys are treasured memories in the lives of us all. For we find after all that the sentiment of the song is true which says: "For your friends are my friends, and my friends are your friends."

One of the most friendly of cities is beckoning us to "C'Mon over" for our 1930 meeting. Devils Lake is a real convention city and knows how to make the visitors within its gates feel at home and welcome. So we said we'd come. They have planned much for our interest and entertainment. And that includes the good wife, for without her presence it will not be half as enjoyable. Will you not plan to weekend. Friday and Saturday, August 15th and 16th, at this charming city, and you have all of Sunday to visit and leisurely travel back home if you want to leave that soon.

Cordially,

A. M. KVELLO, President.