KNEESHAW TESTIMONIAL

Illness prevented the Secretary from attending the appreciation demonstration for Judge Kneeshaw at Cavalier, hence, he has no personal knowledge of what occurred, how successful the gathering was, or what was its immediate effect. Published newspaper reports indicate, however, that the occasion was an achievement well worthy of the high idealism which prompted its initiation, and that Judge Kneeshaw, the local community, and the State all feel the inspirational effect of a worth-while thing well done. As indicated before, we hope that the long service of other public officials may hereafter be as adequately recognized in time to refresh and revitalize their closing years.
